Rockefeller Ends Action on Bills

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller, working against the clock, completed action of 1,202 bills sent him by the 1959 Legislature—and had nearly an hour to spare.

The Republican governor, who took office Jan. 1, finished work on his first batch of bills shortly after 11 o'clock Friday night and then left by plane for New York City.

Signs 880 Measures

Rockefeller followed the tradition of his predecessors and dealt with every measure approved by the Senate and Assembly. He signed 880 and rejected 322 for a veto percentage of nearly 27 per cent.

Democrat Averell Harriman, who left office Dec. 31, vetoed 20 per cent of the bills sent him in his four-year term. Republican Thomas E. Dewey, who preceded Harriman, disapproved 27 per cent in 12 years.

The measures Rockefeller acted upon in the closing hours of the bill-signing period still were to be processed before his decisions would be announced.

Rejects Two On Bidding

The governor rejected two moves to ease requirements of competitive bidding on local government contracts.

One measure would have doubled—to $5,000—the value of municipal public works projects exempt from competitive bidding. The other would have provided for some exceptions to the present requirement that local governments seek bids on purchases over $1,000.

Rockefeller approved two measures dealing with permanent personal registration.

Under one, voters in counties using PPR must re-register whenever they change addresses, even within the same election district. Under the other, the time in which elections boards may make mail checks to determine whether voters are residing at addresses under which they are registered was increased from 14 to 30 days.

Rockefeller signed a bill continuing for another year, to July 1, 1960, rent controls on business and commercial property in New York City.

Middletown Bid Loses

He vetoed a bill that would have prohibited use in criminal trials of evidence obtained by illegal wire tapping.

Rockefeller rejected a bill designed to allow the city of Middletown to make tax concessions to the Erie Railroad in return for railroad property to be used in connection with parking and highway projects.

Citing constitutional controls on taxing powers, he said: "There is serious doubt that the Legislature has the power to authorize a taxing district to grant tax exemptions as is done in this bill."

Kingston Woman's $100,000 Will Is Contested by Kin

A nephew and nieice of the late Margaret Gray Yates of Kingston, who died Nov. 24, 1956, leaving an estate valued at more than $100,000, are contesting the will in the Appellate Division in Albany.

Probate Denied Here

Probate of the will was denied after trial in Ulster County Surrogate's Court in 1957, the court ruling that Miss Yates did not state that the paper she signed in her room at Kingston Hospital was her will and that the document was not properly witnessed.

Borden asked the Appellate Division to reverse this finding and allow the will to be probated. Decision was reserved.

Says Language Confusing

Vinicent G. Connelly of Kingston, representing Yates and Miss Anderson, claimed the language of the will was calculated to confuse an elderly woman. He said Miss Yates, a dying woman, struggled to breathe with every breath she took out of the oxygen tent. The Kingston spinster died 23 days after signing the will.

Connelly alleged that the document was not a death bed will because Miss Yates had made an earlier will which was in a New York City safe deposit vault. The attorney said Borden brought that will to Miss Yates and had her tear off her signature after the second will was made.

Kingston Attorney John E. Egan, representing Borden, said the other nephew saw his aunt only once between 1910 and 1956 and did not visit her during her illness or come to the funeral. Egan said Miss Yates often referred to Borden as her brother, spoke fondly of him often to her friends and had plannel to go to live with him before she became ill. He also said Borden was the one she had notifid when she entered the hospital. Borden

Bids Rockefeller Check Plans for Use of Sampson

SENECA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—Democratic Assemblyman Francis J. Souhan of Seneca Falls wants Gov. Rockefeller to investigate the circumstances surrounding conflicting plans for the use of the former Air Force Base property at nearby Sampson.

In a telegram to the governor Friday, Souhan leveled blasts at Robert Moses, chairman of the State Council of Parks, and Rep. John Taber of Auburn.

Scores Moses, Taber

The assemblyman said that if Moses "had his way, the whole State of New York would be one great big park." He said Taber wanted to turn the military training base property over to "greedy real-estate friends."

Souhan said "the people of Seneca County want the state to take over the whole of Sampson." He asked the governor to make a study of the proposal with the idea of selling land to private corporations "who will set up manufacturing and give employment to our people."

Moses has backed a Finger Lakes Park commission proposal to use 1,292 acres of the property for a park. Taber maintains the park should be limited to 228 acres and the remainder of the land should be freed for industrial, commercial and residential uses.

Ideal for Manufacturing

Souhan said the property would be "perfect for manufacturing," pointing out that the base has roads, electricity, water supply, a sewage treatment plant, permanent buildings and a railroad siding.

The assemblyman operates a knitting mill here.

Under federal law, the state has the first refusal on land released by the government. Sampson was converted into a Naval training base at the start of World War II and later was taken over by the Air Force as a training base.

Moses had accused Taber, a Republican, of trying to block the state's efforts for a park. Taber denied this Thursday and accused the park advocates of indulging in "the cheapest kind of tin-horn politics."

Mob Takes Negro Man From Jail

Bloodstains Mark Path From Cell

POPLARVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Masked and hooded men broke into the Pearl River Courthouse early today and seized M. C. Parker, 23-year-old Negro awaiting trial on charges of raping a young white mother.

Hours later there was no clue to his fate.

Sped Away in Car

Bloodstains marked the path where Parker was dragged from his second floor cell, down a flight of stairs, along a tiled corridor and on to the curb where he was sped away in a car.

The other prisoners — five Negroes — said nine or 10 men came into the jail. One man had a pistol. They could hear others in the adjoining courtroom.

"Keep your damn mouth shut," one of the men told a prisoner. "There are 200 or 300 men outside."

The sheriff's office said later there was no indication of a large group of men outside.

Prisoner Gives Account

C. J. Monday, 25-year-old Negro prisoner from Picayune, who saw the kidnaping of Parker, a truckdriver, gave this account:

"I heard some noise and looked through the bars and saw the masked men come through the door into the jail. I yelled at Parker they were after him.

"He got up and put on his pants while they were unlocking the door to his cell. They had asked another Negro which was Parker.

"I saw one man with a pistol and some of them had sticks in their hands. The one with the pistol went in Parker's cell first and Parker started hollering for help.

Hit by Garbage Cover

"Parker began struggling with the man with the gun and then the others pushed in and started hitting him with the stick. One of them picked up a garbage can and hit him with it. Then they dragged him out."

A posse of 100 or more men quickly began searching the area.

Port Ewen Chief Is Observing 43 Years as Fireman

A local bank employe and past president of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association this month is observing his 43rd year as a volunteer fireman.

He is Edward F. Mains, chief of the Port Ewen Fire Department, who is a teller at the Central Branch of the Kingston Trust Company.

Chief Mains, formerly of Connelly, holds a 25-year membership card in Hasbrouck Engine Company there, and has a certificate of public service issued by Governor Averell Harriman in 1958 for Civil Defense participation.

Establishment of water districts, fire hydrant systems and organization of fire companies in several areas were projects in which Chief Mains took a leading part.

In 1954 he joined the Kingston Trust Company, following 20 years of employment at the First National Bank of Kingston, where he became a bookkeeper in 1923.

Prior to entering the banking field, Mains was employed for 31 years by the S. D. Coykendall interests, working in the auditing department of the Ulster and Delaware Railroad and in the treasurer's office of the Cornell Steamboat Company.

Organized Council

He was one of the organizers of the Town of Esopus Officers and Commissioners Council and served as its president. The council consisted of Esopus, Connelly, St. Remy, Rifton and Port Ewen fire districts. Chief Mains was instrumental in organizing public demonstrations of fire fighting, such as bottled gas, oil, magnesium and other fires.

During drills, ladders were raised to the roof of the Port Ewen Reformed Church to demonstrate methods of fighting large building fires.

Became Chief in 1935

Mains joined the Port Ewen Fire Company on April 1, 1931, and on Dec. 7, 1934, he was appointed assistant chief. The board of Fire Commissioners named him chief on June 1, 1935. During his term in office many changes took place. The equipment consisted of a Sanford 1928 pumper and later a second-hand Mack hook and ladder truck was purchased in 1938. These trucks have since been replaced by a Ward LaFrance ladder and pump and in 1957 a Ward LaFrance pump and hose truck were added.

In 1953 a modern firehouse was completed to house the new apparatus.

Worked for Water District

Mains was one of the workers and backers of the Port Ewen Water district. On August 2, 1938, he had the honor of opening the first hydrant at Lampman and Bayard Streets for a test, which proved successful

60 Drivers Await Word To Strike

Adirondack Bus Lines Face Tieup

GLENS FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—Sixty bus drivers employed by the Adirondack Transit Lines today awaited a union leader's signal to strike for higher wages.

The drivers and three garagemen, members of Lodge 682 of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, have voted to walk out. The date for the work stoppage to begin will be set by W. F. Lester of Nyack, a deputy president of the grand lodge.

85 PC for Walkout

Adirondack Transit operates between New York City and northern New York points and locally in Glens Falls.

Howard Rapp of Glens Falls, chairman of the negotiating committee, said Friday approximately 85 per cent of the drivers and garagemen voted Thursday night for a walkout. Meetings were held here and in Kingston.

Rapp said the company's final offer, after four weeks of negotiations, was $9 per 100 miles for route drivers and $1.65 an hour for drivers in Glens Falls.

Seek $10.30 Pay

The bus line's long-distance drivers now are paid $8.35 per 100 miles. Rapp said they seek $10.30, the rate he said was paid drivers of a competitive line. The drivers in Glens Falls receive $1.60 an hour and are asking $1.85.

Chambers Reelected By Cemetery Board

A. H. Chambers was reelected president of Wiltwyck Rural Cemetery Association for the sixth time at the recent annual meeting of the Board of Trustees held at the superintendent's office. Other officers reelected were James H. Betts, vice president and Oscar J. Lawatsch, secretary-treasurer.

Ward Tongue and Cloyd L. Elias were elected trustees for two-year terms to fill vacancies on the board. Trustees A. B. Shufeldt, Henry Forst and James H. Betts were reelected for a term of three years, to succeed themselves. A. R. Atkins was appointed chairman of finance committee. Also attending the meeting were Trustees Charles de la Vergne, counsel for cemetery and John Ferguson, superintendent.

The committee on superintendence were authorized to extend the iron fence on the West O'Reilly Street side of the cemetery, in front of the land purchased two years ago. This section will be ready for burials in the near future.

Bitter Row Puts Off Labor Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bitter row over a compromise for the McClellan "bill of rights" amendment has delayed final Senate action on the Kennedy labor regulation bill.

Another attempt will be made today to pass the bill.

Plans of the leadership on both sides to finish with the measure Friday night evaporated in a big verbal explosion when a substitute for the bill of rights proposal was called up.

The furore even included a personal attack on Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), with some senators charging he was trying to force them to vote on a substitute they had not read.

Johnson then suddenly adjourned the Senate until today, despite pleas of some of his colleagues that it be adjourned until Monday.

May Accept Substitute

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) indicated to newsmen he might well go along with the substitute. He said he was "fully consulted" on it, and that it would meet objections of some of his fellow Southerners to his original proposal.

But, there was a question as to whether final passage of the bill could come today. Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz), told a reporter he was strongly against the substitute as too weak, and that he might "call up 90 amendments now to keep this thing going." He has more than that number printed.

The Senate met 13 hours Friday and seemed to have settled all the major floor fights except for rewriting the bill of rights amendment.

Huddles went on all day among interested senators on the floor and in the cloakrooms to try to draft the substitute. It was not agreed upon until late in the evening, and then was offered by Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif), Republican whip.

Kuchel had five Democrats and three other Republicans as cosponsors. This in itself indicated the substitute would be adopted since all four of the Republicans voted for the original, which was put into the bill Wednesday by a 47-46 vote.

But as soon as Kuchel presented the new version, Republicans who favored the original objected loudly.

And Sen. Spessard Holland (D-Fla) declared it was outrageous of Johnson to expect senators to vote on this when copies of the substitute were not even available.

Layman to Talk For Methodists at Local Conference

Kinsey N. Merritt of Elizabeth, N. J., an outstanding layman of the Methodist Church, will deliver the main address next Friday night at the Laymen's Night services of the New York Conference of the Methodist Church here.

The meeting, which begins at 8 p. m., will be held at the St. James Methodist Church. It is sponsored by the Board of Lay Activities of the conference.

Heads Gotham Rotary

Announcement of the meeting and speaker came from the Kingston District Committee for the event.

Merritt's address will be on the subect, "Onward Christian Laymen."

Merritt is president of the Ocean Grove, N. J., Camp Meetiing Association and was recently elected president of the New York City Rotary Club. He retired in 1958 as vice-presiident-traffic, Railway Express Agency, after 50 years of service.

Merritt holds several church and civic posts in Union County, N. J., where he makes his home in Elizabeth. He is serving his sixth year as president of the Ocean Grove Camp Meeting Association, heading the trustee board which administers the affairs of that noted seashore community; and he maintains active business and sales administration connections in New York City which developed during his long service as an executive of the Railway Express Agency.

All of these active interests are crystallized in still another career for Merritt, that as a public speaker. He is widely known as an interesting and dynamic speaker. He has addressed community, educational, sales, and religious groups throughout America on such topics as transportation, sales, public relations, community welfare, human relations, service club affairs and inspirational subjects.

A native of Baltimore, Merritt started work there for the Adams Express Co., a predecessor of Railway Express Agency. After various administrative assignments in Philadelphia and Atlantic City, he was appointed assistant traffic manager at the New York headquarters in 1932. In 1935 he was appointed assist-

London Holds Out For Control Plan

By JOHN A. SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Western Allies are reported 50 per cent agreed on what their proposals and strategy should be when they meet with the Soviet Union in two weeks to discuss Berlin and Germany's future.

Diplomats are confident, however, the remaining 50 per cent of differences will be resolved and a united negotiating front forged at a Western Big Three meeting beginning in Paris Wednesday.

Talks End in London

A team of American, British, French and West German officials, however, have failed to reconcile diverging views, particularly on European security offers, at a meeting which ended in London Thursday.

The main conflict appears to lie in Britain's continued insistence on proposing some kind of central European arms control plan, not necessarily linked to progress in achieving German reunification.

Ask Ceiling on Troops

The British are understood to be continuing to press for Western agreement on a plan to ask the Soviet Union to accept a ceiling on troops and weapons in a small area covering both parts of East and West Germany.

American, West German and French authorities are reported insisting that any such plan be tied to step-by-step progress in merging the Western and Communist zones of Germany into a single democratic nation.

Agree on Main Points

Diplomats representing the four allies, however, appear to have agreed on these main points:

1. Any new arrangements governing the Allied positions in West Berlin must be negotiated only with the understanding the arrangements in no way alter the Allies' existing legal right to be there. The British are reported to have accepted the view that any new international status would be no safer than the one now existing which is based on their wartime right of conquest.

2. No detailed draft peace treaty will be offered the Soviets. State Department officials had proposed this but the idea has been discarded in favor of proposing a set of about a dozen principles which would be later translated into a detailed treaty.

Six-County Data On H-C Available At Span Booths

Events in six counties, including Ulster, slated for observance of the Year of History Celebration in the state, are listed in a pamphlet now being distributed at toll booths of bridges under control of the New York State Bridge Authority, John S. Stillman, authority chairman, announced today.

The list was compiled with assistance of the Hudson Valley Council, headed by Dr. Henry Noble MacCracken, of Poughkeepsie, its president, and Albert Kurdt, of Kingston, its executive vice-president.

Events in Columbia, Greene, Dutchess, Orange and Putnam Counties also are listed.

The listing covers some 80 events scheduled between April 24 and June 28. A supplemental list covering the remainder of the Year of History will be published at a later date.

Stillman, who returned from a tour of Holland on April 17, reported that interest in the 350th celebration is as high in the Low Countries as it is in New York State. He delivered copies of the Authority's new Year of History Hudson Valley map to U. S. Information Agency Libraries in Paris and London, as well as to hotels and travels agencies.

PROCLAIMS LAW DAY U. S. A.—While countries under Communist rule are demonstrating military force May 1, the United States will be observing Law Day U. S. A. "No better time could be chosen to call public attention to the contrast between government under law in America and government by force behind the Iron Curtain," says a proclamation by Mayor Edwin F. Radel (right), which he discusses with two Kingston attorneys, Robert M. Ortale (left), president of the Ulster County Bar Association, and Hugh R. Elwyn, chairman of the association's Law Day Committee. Programs have been arranged for schools and organizations, stressing that adherence to law has enabled the nation to grow and prosper. Man Seized With Bomb, Castro 200 Feet Away

NEW YORK (AP) — Police seized a young man carrying a homemade bomb Friday night as he tried to climb a barrier only 200 feet from where Fidel Castro was addressing a huge rally in Central Park.

They quoted the young man as saying later that he intended to touch off the bomb "for excitement."

"It was just for kicks, I didn't intend to hurt people," he said. The police bomb squad estimated the bomb had an effective radius of 300 feet.

The Cuban Prime Minister was addressing a cheering crowd of 35,000 from a band shell in the park. The shell was set off from the dark surrounding woods by dozens of police floodlights, and the heaviest police guard in New York City history surrounded Castro.

A wall of police separated him from the crowd in front, and behind the shell police had set up barriers to keep the area clear.

It was here, unknown to Castro and the crowd, that a blond, crewcut young man wearing a pale blue windbreaker and cotton wash pants tried to climb over a barrier into the enclosed space. Immediately he was seized by a patrolman and a detective.

In a hip pocket they found a bulky metal tube, sealed at both ends. Police later reported it was a section cut from a vacuum cleaner handle, which had been filled with a mixture of sulphur and zinc, and sealed at one end with plaster.

The other end had been partly sealed with plaster, and contained several wooden matches and a cigarette, which police was probably to act as a slow fuse.

Later the man was identified as John Gregory Feller, 23, former Army sergeant, who lives in a furnished room in downtown Manhattan. Police said he is the son of Esther Feller, Roslindale, Mass.

Castro had no comment to make when he heard of the incident.

MISS AMERICA COMING FOR PAGEANT—Miss America of 1959, Mary Ann Mobley of Brandon, Miss., wil take an active part in crowning Miss New York State here Saturday, May 2, at the Municipal Auditorium, it has been announced by the Kingston Area Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring this year's two-day pageant, with 21 girls from all parts of the state competing. Miss America will sing and dance, demonstrating the talent that helped her win the national crown. (Story on page 5).

Port Ewen Chief Is Observing 43 Years as Fireman

A local bank employe and past president of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association this month is observing his 43rd year as a volunteer fireman.

He is Edward F. Mains, chief of the Port Ewen Fire Department, who is a teller at the Central Branch of the Kingston Trust Company.

Chief Mains, formerly of Connelly, holds a 25-year membership card in Hasbrouck Engine Company there, and has a certificate of public service issued by Governor Averell Harriman in 1958 for Civil Defense participation.

Establishment of water districts, fire hydrant systems and organization of fire companies in several areas were projects in which Chief Mains took a leading part.

In 1954 he joined the Kingston Trust Company, following 20 years of employment at the First National Bank of Kingston, where he became a bookkeeper in 1923.

Prior to entering the banking field, Mains was employed for 31 years by the S. D. Coykendall interests, working in the auditing department of the Ulster and Delaware Railroad and in the treasurer's office of the Cornell Steamboat Company.

Organized Council

He was one of the organizers of the Town of Esopus Officers and Commissioners Council and served as its president. The council consisted of Esopus, Connelly, St. Remy, Rifton and Port Ewen fire districts. Chief Mains was instrumental in organizing public demonstrations of fire fighting, such as bottled gas, oil, magnesium and other fires.

During drills, ladders were raised to the roof of the Port Ewen Reformed Church to demonstrate methods of fighting large building fires.

Became Chief in 1935

Mains joined the Port Ewen Fire Company on April 1, 1931, and on Dec. 7, 1934, he was appointed assistant chief. The board of Fire Commissioners named him chief on June 1, 1935. During his term in office many changes took place. The equipment consisted of a Sanford 1928 pumper and later a second-hand Mack hook and ladder truck was purchased in 1938. These trucks have since been replaced by a Ward LaFrance ladder and pump and in 1957 a Ward LaFrance pump and hose truck were added.

In 1953 a modern firehouse was completed to house the new apparatus.

Worked for Water District

Mains was one of the workers and backers of the Port Ewen Water district. On August 2, 1938, he had the honor of opening the first hydrant at Lampman and Bayard Streets for a test, which proved successful

60 Drivers Await Word To Strike

Adirondack Bus Lines Face Tieup

GLENS FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—Sixty bus drivers employed by the Adirondack Transit Lines today awaited a union leader's signal to strike for higher wages.

The drivers and three garagemen, members of Lodge 682 of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, have voted to walk out. The date for the work stoppage to begin will be set by W. F. Lester of Nyack, a deputy president of the grand lodge.

85 PC for Walkout

Adirondack Transit operates between New York City and northern New York points and locally in Glens Falls.

Howard Rapp of Glens Falls, chairman of the negotiating committee, said Friday approximately 85 per cent of the drivers and garagemen voted Thursday night for a walkout. Meetings were held here and in Kingston.

Rapp said the company's final offer, after four weeks of negotiations, was $9 per 100 miles for route drivers and $1.65 an hour for drivers in Glens Falls.

Seek $10.30 Pay

The bus line's long-distance drivers now are paid $8.35 per 100 miles. Rapp said they seek $10.30, the rate he said was paid drivers of a competitive line. The drivers in Glens Falls receive $1.60 an hour and are asking $1.85.

Bitter Row Puts Off Labor Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bitter row over a compromise for the McClellan "bill of rights" amendment has delayed final Senate action on the Kennedy labor regulation bill.

Another attempt will be made today to pass the bill.

Plans of the leadership on both sides to finish with the measure Friday night evaporated in a big verbal explosion when a substitute for the bill of rights proposal was called up.

The furore even included a personal attack on Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), with some senators charging he was trying to force them to vote on a substitute they had not read.

Johnson then suddenly adjourned the Senate until today, despite pleas of some of his colleagues that it be adjourned until Monday.

May Accept Substitute

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) indicated to newsmen he might well go along with the substitute. He said he was "fully consulted" on it, and that it would meet objections of some of his fellow Southerners to his original proposal.

But, there was a question as to whether final passage of the bill could come today. Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz), told a reporter he was strongly against the substitute as too weak, and that he might "call up 90 amendments now to keep this thing going." He has more than that number printed.

The Senate met 13 hours Friday and seemed to have settled all the major floor fights except for rewriting the bill of rights amendment.

Huddles went on all day among interested senators on the floor and in the cloakrooms to try to draft the substitute. It was not agreed upon until late in the evening, and then was offered by Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif), Republican whip.

Kuchel had five Democrats and three other Republicans as cosponsors. This in itself indicated the substitute would be adopted since all four of the Republicans voted for the original, which was put into the bill Wednesday by a 47-46 vote.

But as soon as Kuchel presented the new version, Republicans who favored the original objected loudly.

And Sen. Spessard Holland (D-Fla) declared it was outrageous of Johnson to expect senators to vote on this when copies of the substitute were not even available.

Layman to Talk For Methodists at Local Conference

Kinsey N. Merritt of Elizabeth, N. J., an outstanding layman of the Methodist Church, will deliver the main address next Friday night at the Laymen's Night services of the New York Conference of the Methodist Church here.

The meeting, which begins at 8 p. m., will be held at the St. James Methodist Church. It is sponsored by the Board of Lay Activities of the conference.

Heads Gotham Rotary

Announcement of the meeting and speaker came from the Kingston District Committee for the event.

Merritt's address will be on the subect, "Onward Christian Laymen."

Merritt is president of the Ocean Grove, N. J., Camp Meetiing Association and was recently elected president of the New York City Rotary Club. He retired in 1958 as vice-presiident-traffic, Railway Express Agency, after 50 years of service.

Merritt holds several church and civic posts in Union County, N. J., where he makes his home in Elizabeth. He is serving his sixth year as president of the Ocean Grove Camp Meeting Association, heading the trustee board which administers the affairs of that noted seashore community; and he maintains active business and sales administration connections in New York City which developed during his long service as an executive of the Railway Express Agency.

All of these active interests are crystallized in still another career for Merritt, that as a public speaker. He is widely known as an interesting and dynamic speaker. He has addressed community, educational, sales, and religious groups throughout America on such topics as transportation, sales, public relations, community welfare, human relations, service club affairs and inspirational subjects.

A native of Baltimore, Merritt started work there for the Adams Express Co., a predecessor of Railway Express Agency. After various administrative assignments in Philadelphia and Atlantic City, he was appointed assistant traffic manager at the New York headquarters in 1932. In 1935 he was appointed assist-

London Holds Out For Control Plan

By JOHN A. SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Western Allies are reported 50 per cent agreed on what their proposals and strategy should be when they meet with the Soviet Union in two weeks to discuss Berlin and Germany's future.

Diplomats are confident, however, the remaining 50 per cent of differences will be resolved and a united negotiating front forged at a Western Big Three meeting beginning in Paris Wednesday.

Talks End in London

A team of American, British, French and West German officials, however, have failed to reconcile diverging views, particularly on European security offers, at a meeting which ended in London Thursday.

The main conflict appears to lie in Britain's continued insistence on proposing some kind of central European arms control plan, not necessarily linked to progress in achieving German reunification.

Ask Ceiling on Troops

The British are understood to be continuing to press for Western agreement on a plan to ask the Soviet Union to accept a ceiling on troops and weapons in a small area covering both parts of East and West Germany.

American, West German and French authorities are reported insisting that any such plan be tied to step-by-step progress in merging the Western and Communist zones of Germany into a single democratic nation.

Agree on Main Points

Diplomats representing the four allies, however, appear to have agreed on these main points:

1. Any new arrangements governing the Allied positions in West Berlin must be negotiated only with the understanding the arrangements in no way alter the Allies' existing legal right to be there. The British are reported to have accepted the view that any new international status would be no safer than the one now existing which is based on their wartime right of conquest.

2. No detailed draft peace treaty will be offered the Soviets. State Department officials had proposed this but the idea has been discarded in favor of proposing a set of about a dozen principles which would be later translated into a detailed treaty.

Six-County Data On H-C Available At Span Booths

Events in six counties, including Ulster, slated for observance of the Year of History Celebration in the state, are listed in a pamphlet now being distributed at toll booths of bridges under control of the New York State Bridge Authority, John S. Stillman, authority chairman, announced today.

The list was compiled with assistance of the Hudson Valley Council, headed by Dr. Henry Noble MacCracken, of Poughkeepsie, its president, and Albert Kurdt, of Kingston, its executive vice-president.

Events in Columbia, Greene, Dutchess, Orange and Putnam Counties also are listed.

The listing covers some 80 events scheduled between April 24 and June 28. A supplemental list covering the remainder of the Year of History will be published at a later date.

Stillman, who returned from a tour of Holland on April 17, reported that interest in the 350th celebration is as high in the Low Countries as it is in New York State. He delivered copies of the Authority's new Year of History Hudson Valley map to U. S. Information Agency Libraries in Paris and London, as well as to hotels and travels agencies.

Man Seized With Bomb, Castro 200 Feet Away

NEW YORK (AP) — Police seized a young man carrying a homemade bomb Friday night as he tried to climb a barrier only 200 feet from where Fidel Castro was addressing a huge rally in Central Park.

They quoted the young man as saying later that he inteaded to touch off the bomb "for excitement."

"It was just for kicks, I didn't intend to hurt people," he said. The police bomb squad estimated the bomb had an effective radius of 300 feet.

The Cuban Prime Minister was addressing a cheering crowd of 35,000 from a band shell in the park. The shell was set off from the dark surrounding woods by dozens of police floodlights, and the heaviest police guard in New York City history surrounded Castro.

A wall of police separated him from the crowd in front, and behind the shell police had set up barriers to keep the area clear.

It was here, unknown to Castro and the crowd, that a blond, crewcut young man wearing a pale blue windbreaker and cotton wash pants tried to climb over a barrier into the enclosed space. Immediately he was seized by a patrolman and a detective.

In a hip pocket they found a bulky metal tube, sealed at both ends. Police later reported it was a section cut from a vacuum cleaner handle, which had been filled with a mixture of sulphur and zinc, and sealed at one end with plaster.

The other end had been partly sealed with plaster, and contained several wooden matches and a cigarette, which police was probably to act as a slow fuse.

Later the man was identified as John Gregory Feller, 23, former Army sergeant, who lives in a furnished room in downtown Manhattan. Police said he is the son of Esther Feller, Roslindale, Mass.

Castro had no comment to make when he heard of the incident.

Breakers to Lead Convoy Opening Up Seaway Today

MONTREAL (AP) — Two Canadian icebreakers today were set to lead a convoy of vessels up North America's biggest ditch—the St. Lawrence Seaway — to open the continent's heartland to the world.

The parade marked the start of major sea commerce for the American midlands, up to 2,400 miles from the Atlantic.

Decked out in bunting, fresh paint and flying the flags of the major maritime nations, about 70 ships were to leave Montreal for inland ports up the 600-mile seaway joining the St. Lawrence River with Lake Erie. Fourteen more ships were to join the convoy at Ogdensburg, N.Y.

Formal dedication ceremonies will be held June 26 with President Eisenhower and Queen Elizabeth. Eisenhower opened the U.S.-built locks near Massena, N.Y., last July.

Cargoes aboard the ships indicate what the wheat belt consumer can expect directly from abroad: automobiles, French champagne, Scotch whisky, beer, wool, glassware, Belfast twine, ham, benzine, jute, nails and refrigerators. Major tonnage from the West will be grain.

The five-year, 475-million-dollar project was financed jointly by U.S. and Canadian taxpayers. Canadians bore the major costs, as the largest portion of the waterway lies within Canada.

It is expected that tolls will pay operating costs during the next 50 years, with the United States getting $1 and Canada $3 from every $4 in tolls.

The seaway begins at Montreal, 1,000 miles from the Atlantic, and snakes along the south shore of the St. Lawrence River for 135 miles to Lake Ontario. Fourteen locks hoist ships 550 feet above the water level at Montreal to the water level at the seaway's extremity in Port Colburne, Ont. from Niagara Falls west, ships utilize Lake Erie, Michigan, Huron and Superior.

Two Saugerties Youths Hurt in Auto Mishap

Two Saugerties young men received minor injuries last night when their car, parked at Mirror Lake Lodge, Ulster Park, was allegedly struck by a car operated by Ludwig Kohmann of Bowen Street, Port Ewen.

Kohmann, a mason, was arrested by Trooper Wallace Mahan of the Highland station on a charge of reckless driving. John R. Naccarato Jr., 18, driver of the parked car, and Warren Mickle, 17, both of Saugerties, were injured and treated by a physician.

Kohmann was arraigned before Justice of the Peace John O. Beaver of Esopus and the matter was adjourned until Tuesday, April 28, at 8 p. m. Kohmann was released in his own recognizance.

He described the man as 5 feet, 11 inches tall, weighing about 185 pounds. Vitarius said the stranger told him he was selling chances. Search of the area failed to find the man. Earlier Friday night, James Gardner, of 85 Fairmont Avenue, notified police he saw a youth looking in windows of a nearby residence. He told police the youth was wearing a red and white sweater lettered "K."

John F. Fitzgerald, secretary of the Kingston Municipal Civil Service Commission, said today he is preparing eligibility lists for stenographer and stock clerk, which he will submit to various municipal departments.

Fitzgerald, who reported on the recent examinations at Friday night's meeting of the commission, said six applicants were successful for each job.

Heading the eligibility list for stock clerk is, Daniel Bittner, of 232 West Chester Street, who received a rating of 89 per cent, plus five points for veteran's credit making his final mark 94 per cent.

Others on the stock clerk list in order are George A. Dempsey, of 95 Foxhall Avenue, 93 per cent; Donald Remus, of 58 Stephan Street, 92 per cent; Nicholas J. No Cause Verdict Returned Friday OverBlastDamage

A no cause verdict was returned Friday in an action brought by Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Reilly and wife of Eddyville against the Callanan Road Improvement Company to recover damages allegedly caused by heavy blasting at the company's quarry at Mingo Hollow, Town of Esopus.

Reilly alleged his brick house at Eddyville had been damaged by blasting operation conducted from May to November 1957 and sued under a nuisance action to recover for the amount of repairs. A seismologist from Harvard University appeared as an expert witness and testified to the extent that certain charges of explosives would affect the surrounding area.

Dates on which heavy blasts were set off at the quarry were testified to by Reilly who told of damages to his premises following the blasts.

Masked Man

They went to the home of the 24-year-old rape victim, apparently expecting to find some clue there but found none.

Wore White Gloves

The abductors wore black stocking masks or white hoods. Some were dressed in blue jeans and jumpers. Others wore khaki. All wore white cotton gloves.

Bill Stewart, county prosecuting attorney, said the men broke through a window on the first floor and entered the office of Sheriff W. O. Moody, forced a drawer in the filing cabinet and obtained the jail keys.

No Guard at Night

Stewart said there was no indication that trouble was brewing and no guard was kept at night.

The sheriff notified Gov. J. P. Coleman who immediately began a vigil in the governor's mansion in Jackson.

Parker was accused of forcing his way into a stalled automobile where the 24-year-old woman and her 5-year-old daughter sat last Feb. 24 while her husband went for help.

She said she and the child were forced at gunpoint into the Negroe's car and driven into the woods, where the attack took place in the presence of the child.

Kingston . . .

Nurses Were Witnesses

The contested will was read to Miss Yates by Dolores Boyle, a nurse at the hospital, who then summoned another nurse, Mildred Black, and the two signed as witnesses. Connelly argued that Miss Yates said nothing during execution of the will. He claimed she didn't know it was a will and was not aware of its contents when she signed it.

Egan argued that the spinster did not actually have to say that the document was her will, or ask witnesses to sign. According to law, an implied request is adequate, he said.

Egan contends Miss Boyqle explained to Miss Yates she was reading her will and said she would get Miss Black as the other witness. "It was unquestionably the opinion of the witnesses that the statements made by Miss Boyle were sufficient to indicate a declaration and understanding," he said in his brief.

EDWARD F. MAINS

Port Ewen Chief

and afforded Port Ewen additional fire protection.

Through the years he has served as fire chief, Mains has periodically inspected all schools in his district, clocking the time it took to vacate the classrooms, studying the problems which might occur in the event of a fire, and always keeping the faculty alert and making recommendations for changes. He also inspected the convalescence homes, churches, night clubs and buildings of public assembly.

During the war years under the supervision of Chief Mains, facilities were made at the firehouse for sleeping accommodations and a telephone was installed. Firemen took turns manning the firehouse at all times to be prepared for any emergency.

In August, 1952, Chief Mains arranged a demonstration at the Hiltebrant shipyard for navy personnel. Fire apparatus from Kingston and trucks and men from Esopus participated and the home guard was present for the simulated emergency. Many hoselines were pressed into service and several streams of water were pumped from the Rondout Creek. The timing of the arrival of apparatus and the performance of firemen made a highly successful demonstration.

At Big Fires

Chief Mains has been in charge of several fires in his district. Two major fires that occurred before the water system was installed destroyed Crook's store and Charles Zimmerman's residence. Water was relayed from Tucker's Pond.

The most threatening fire occurred at the oil plant in Sleightsburg and another serious blaze occurred one Christmas morning at the Tropical Inn. The fire department also responded to emergencies including the sinking of the tugboat "Calahan," drownings and other answering mutual aid calls in other districts.

In 1947, Chief Mains was president of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association, and during that year a most successful convention and parade were held in Port Ewen. Chief Mains has served as a director of the organization.

He holds a fire fighting certificate issued by the State of New York Executive Department. He also serves as a deputy fire coordinator for the State Fire Training Program, Division of Safety. He is a member of the Ulster County Advisory Board on fire training. He was a member of the Mutual Aid Committee and the County Map Committee for Ulster County volunteer firemen.

In Chiefs' Associations

Chief Mains is a member of the State Fire Chiefs Association, the International Fire Chiefs Association and the Ulster County Fire Chief's Association. He also belongs to the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association.

Chief Mains is a life member of the Port Ewen Fire Department and he holds a 25-year membership card issued by Hasbrouck Engine Company. Prior to joining Port Ewen Fire Department, he belonged to the Hasbrouck Engine Company of Connelly and he served as president and secretary and also as a district commissioner. During his term as commissioner in 1924, a hydrant system was installed and successfully operated in the village of Connelly.

With the protection of fire hydrants, modern fire equipment and well trained men of high calibre, insurance rates were reduced by one-half as the result of insurance inspections.

Prevention Chairman

Chief Mains has served as fire prevention chairman for Ulster County many years. He obtains and distributes literature and material to educate people in the prevention of fires.

On Jan. 1, 1958, Chief Mains received from former Governor Harriman, a certificate of public service of five years or more in voluntary service with Civil Defense forces. The chief has assisted in the organization of fire companies including Esopus and Spring Lake.

The chief is known as a "modest" fire official and he is one who appreciates the cooperation of his men, who have aided him greatly in conducting demonstrations and during fires and other emergencies.

Two Cars Damaged

Two cars were damaged when they reportedly sideswiped on the Boulevard Friday night. Police said the vehicles were traveling in opposite directions at the time of the collision. Police listed the operators as Donald Duffy, 21, of 60 Second Avenue, and Peter Decker, 27, of Kerhonkson, who was driving a car owned by Daniel Decker. No injuries were reported.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Martha McCaffrey who passed away three years ago today, April 25, 1956.

What I would give to see your smile,
And sit with you and talk awhile
The blow was sudden, the shock severe,
To part with you so kind and dear;
Day and night I think of you,
The things you used to say and do;
I wonder why you had to die
Without a chance to say goodbye
God bless you and keep you.

Breakers to Lead Convoy Opening Up Seaway Today

MONTREAL (AP) — Two Canadian icebreakers today were set to lead a convoy of vessels up North America's biggest ditch—the St. Lawrence Seaway — to open the continent's heartland to the world.

The parade marked the start of major sea commerce for the American midlands, up to 2,400 miles from the Atlantic.

Decked out in bunting, fresh paint and flying the flags of the major maritime nations, about 70 ships were to leave Montreal for inland ports up the 600-mile seaway joining the St. Lawrence River with Lake Erie. Fourteen more ships were to join the convoy at Ogdensburg, N.Y.

Formal dedication ceremonies will be held June 26 with President Eisenhower and Queen Elizabeth. Eisenhower opened the U.S.-built locks near Massena, N.Y., last July.

Cargoes aboard the ships indicate what the wheat belt consumer can expect directly from abroad: automobiles, French champagne, Scotch whisky, beer, wool, glassware, Belfast twine, ham, benzine, jute, nails and refrigerators. Major tonnage from the West will be grain.

The five-year, 475-million-dollar project was financed jointly by U.S. and Canadian taxpayers. Canadians bore the major costs, as the largest portion of the waterway lies within Canada.

It is expected that tolls will pay operating costs during the next 50 years, with the United States getting $1 and Canada $3 from every $4 in tolls.

The seaway begins at Montreal, 1,000 miles from the Atlantic, and snakes along the south shore of the St. Lawrence River for 135 miles to Lake Ontario. Fourteen locks hoist ships 550 feet above the water level at Montreal to the water level at the seaway's extremity in Port Colburne, Ont. from Niagara Falls west, ships utilize Lake Erie, Michigan, Huron and Superior.

Since the lakes and rivers freeze in winter, navigation is a spring-fall affair.

The power behind the seaway is the huge Saunders-Moses hydro-electric dam near Massena. The dam, reaching 3,200 feet across the St. Lawrence from New York to Ontario, backs up river waters to cover white-cap rapids that halted explorers hunting the legendary Northwest Passage centuries ago.

John F. Fitzgerald, secretary of the Kingston Municipal Civil Service Commission, said today he is preparing eligibility lists for stenographer and stock clerk, which he will submit to various municipal departments.

Heading the eligibility list for stock clerk is, Daniel Bittner, of 232 West Chester Street, who received a rating of 89 per cent, plus five points for veteran's credit making his final mark 94 per cent.

Others on the stock clerk list in order are George A. Dempsey, of 95 Foxhall Avenue, 93 per cent; Donald Remus, of 58 Stephan Street, 92 per cent; Nicholas J. No Cause Verdict Returned Friday OverBlastDamage

A no cause verdict was returned Friday in an action brought by Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Reilly and wife of Eddyville against the Callanan Road Improvement Company to recover damages allegedly caused by heavy blasting at the company's quarry at Mingo Hollow, Town of Esopus.

Reilly alleged his brick house at Eddyville had been damaged by blasting operation conducted from May to November 1957 and sued under a nuisance action to recover for the amount of repairs. A seismologist from Harvard University appeared as an expert witness and testified to the extent that certain charges of explosives would affect the surrounding area.

Dates on which heavy blasts were set off at the quarry were testified to by Reilly who told of damages to his premises following the blasts.

Masked Man

They went to the home of the 24-year-old rape victim, apparently expecting to find some clue there but found none.

Wore White Gloves

The abductors wore black stocking masks or white hoods. Some were dressed in blue jeans and jumpers. Others wore khaki. All wore white cotton gloves.

Bill Stewart, county prosecuting attorney, said the men broke through a window on the first floor and entered the office of Sheriff W. O. Moody, forced a drawer in the filing cabinet and obtained the jail keys.

No Guard at Night

Stewart said there was no indication that trouble was brewing and no guard was kept at night.

The sheriff notified Gov. J. P. Coleman who immediately began a vigil in the governor's mansion in Jackson.

Poplarville is about 50 miles northeast of New Orleans.

Parker was accused of forcing his way into a stalled automobile where the 24-year-old woman and her 5-year-old daughter sat last Feb. 24 while her husband went for help.

She said she and the child were forced at gunpoint into the Negroe's car and driven into the woods, where the attack took place in the presence of the child.

Kingston . . .

Nurses Were Witnesses

The contested will was read to Miss Yates by Dolores Boyle, a nurse at the hospital, who then summoned another nurse, Mildred Black, and the two signed as witnesses. Connelly argued that Miss Yates said nothing during execution of the will. He claimed she didn't know it was a will and was not aware of its contents when she signed it.

Egan argued that the spinster did not actually have to say that the document was her will, or ask witnesses to sign. According to law, an implied request is adequate, he said.

Egan contends Miss Boyle explained to Miss Yates she was reading her will and said she would get Miss Black as the other witness. "It was unquestionably the opinion of the witnesses that the statements made by Miss Boyle were sufficient to indicate a declaration and understanding," he said in his brief.

Port Ewen Chief

and afforded Port Ewen additional fire protection.

Through the years he has served as fire chief, Mains has periodically inspected all schools in his district, clocking the time it took to vacate the classrooms, studying the problems which might occur in the event of a fire, and always keeping the faculty alert and making recommendations for changes. He also inspected the convalescence homes, churches, night clubs and buildings of public assembly.

During the war years under the supervision of Chief Mains, facilities were made at the firehouse for sleeping accommodations and a telephone was installed. Firemen took turns manning the firehouse at all times to be prepared for any emergency.

In August, 1952, Chief Mains arranged a demonstration at the Hiltebrant shipyard for navy personnel. Fire apparatus from Kingston and trucks and men from Esopus participated and the home guard was present for the simulated emergency. Many hoselines were pressed into service and several streams of water were pumped from the Rondout Creek. The timing of the arrival of apparatus and the performance of firemen made a highly successful demonstration.

At Big Fires

Chief Mains has been in charge of several fires in his district. Two major fires that occurred before the water system was installed destroyed Crook's store and Charles Zimmerman's residence. Water was relayed from Tucker's Pond.

The most threatening fire occurred at the oil plant in Sleightsburg and another serious blaze occurred one Christmas morning at the Tropical Inn. The fire department also responded to emergencies including the sinking of the tugboat "Calahan," drownings and other answering mutual aid calls in other districts.

In 1947, Chief Mains was president of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association, and during that year a most successful convention and parade were held in Port Ewen. Chief Mains has served as a director of the organization.

He holds a fire fighting certificate issued by the State of New York Executive Department. He also serves as a deputy fire coordinator for the State Fire Training Program, Division of Safety. He is a member of the Ulster County Advisory Board on fire training. He was a member of the Mutual Aid Committee and the County Map Committee for Ulster County volunteer firemen.

In Chiefs' Associations

Chief Mains is a member of the State Fire Chiefs Association, the International Fire Chiefs Association and the Ulster County Fire Chief's Association. He also belongs to the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association.

Chief Mains is a life member of the Port Ewen Fire Department and he holds a 25-year membership card issued by Hasbrouck Engine Company. Prior to joining Port Ewen Fire Department, he belonged to the Hasbrouck Engine Company of Connelly and he served as president and secretary and also as a district commissioner. During his term as commissioner in 1924, a hydrant system was installed and successfully operated in the village of Connelly.

With the protection of fire hydrants, modern fire equipment and well trained men of high calibre, insurance rates were reduced by one-half as the result of insurance inspections.

Prevention Chairman

Chief Mains has served as fire prevention chairman for Ulster County many years. He obtains and distributes literature and material to educate people in the prevention of fires.

On Jan. 1, 1958, Chief Mains received from former Governor Harriman, a certificate of public service of five years or more in voluntary service with Civil Defense forces. The chief has assisted in the organization of fire companies including Esopus and Spring Lake.

The chief is known as a "modest" fire official and he is one who appreciates the cooperation of his men, who have aided him greatly in conducting demonstrations and during fires and other emergencies.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Martha McCaffrey who passed away three years ago today, April 25, 1956.

What I would give to see your smile,
And sit with you and talk awhile
The blow was sudden, the shock severe,
To part with you so kind and dear;
Day and night I think of you,
The things you used to say and do;
I wonder why you had to die
Without a chance to say goodbye
God bless you and keep you.

'Fastest Man' Jumps to Safety, Pilot Loses Life

WATKINS, Colo. (AP) — Col. John P. Stapp, fastest traveler on earth, parachuted from a faltering jet plane at 10,000 feet Friday and escaped with a sprained ankle. The pilot was killed.

"It was far easier than my sled runs," said Stapp, 49, renowned for whizzing 632 miles an hour on a rocket propelled sled Dec. 10, 1954. That earned him the title "the fastest man on earth."

The record sled ride was one of 29 he made in experiments at the Air Force Missile Development Center at Alamogordo, N.M., to determine human reactions to pressures expected in space travel.

After the record run, Stapp said the sleds permitted tests of "violent, prolonged decelerations such as experienced in high-altitude supersonic bailout."

Capt. Harry B. Davis, 36, of Dayton, Ohio, pilot of the T33 jet trainer, fell to death when his 'chute failed to open completely.

The two were on a flight from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton to Denver, 42 miles west of here, where Stapp was scheduled to address a sectional meeting Friday night of the American Rocket Society.

Headwinds over Kansas cut the plane's fuel supply, Stapp said.

"We were flying at 35,500 fee near Watkins," Stapp said, "and saw we had only a little fuel — less than 16 gallons. We came down to 23,000 feet and leveled off. That's when the plane flamed out."

Five Escapees Seized After 110-Mile Chase

SUNBURY, Pa. (AP) — Five prison escapees were captured Friday night after a 90-mile-an-hour highway chase by State Police.

They were stopped at a viaduct roadblock in Mount Carmel after a 110-mile journey that began when they escaped from the Bradford County jail at Towanda, Pa.

They fled after knocking down a doctor called to examine a sick prisoner, overpowering the sheriff's son and escaping in the doctor's car.

Took Couple's Car

Authorities set up roadblocks immediately. The search to central Pennsylvania after the fugitives abandoned the doctor's automobile at Danville and commandeered another one from a young couple.

Trooper George Zelnick of the Shamokin Barracks said the escapees forced Erick Sturcke, 21, of Plainfield, N. J., a Bucknell University student, and his unidentified girl companion from their car and fled on Route 54. The couple was unharmed.

90-MPH Speeds

Troopers sighted the car near Bear Gap and the fugitives led them on a six-mile chase at speeds up to 90 miles an hour. The Mount Carmel roadblock was set up after troopers radioed ahead.

Authorities gave this account: Dr. Elting C. Johnson had been called to care for a prisoner. As he was admitted to a cell block by the son of Sheriff Fowler Tuton, the five men rushed for the door.

Johnson was felled by several punches to the face, and the sheriff's son, Edmund, was overpowered. The escapees took young Tuton's keys and let themselves out. They piled into the doctor's car and sped away.

Sheriff Tuton, who had left moments before to attend a meeting in the courthouse, identified the men as:

Ray Bellows, 34, Wysox, Bradford County; Harold Vanderpool of Towanda and Milo Teeter, 30, Troy, Pa., serving terms for larceny; and Carlo Greenwood, 19, and Reginald Currier, 21, both of St. Johnsbury, Vt., arrested for vagrancy.

Seven Arrested As Police Break Up Numbers Ring

PATERSON, N. J. (AP) — Authorities claim they have smashed one of the biggest numbers operations on the East Coast.

Raiders used axes and sledge hammers Friday to break into a two-story brick building which Passaic County Prosecutor John G. Thevos described as headquarters of a $10,000-a-day betting business.

Arrested were the owner of the building, his son, and seven men who were wearing eye shades and working at tables in a former dance hall on the second floor.

John Susino, 50, owner of the property, suffered a heart attack during the raid and was treated by a doctor at his home. He and his son, Joseph, 27, were charged with maintaining a gambling house.

The seven men working at adding machines upstairs will be charged with maintaining a gambling resort and possession of gambling equipment, Thevos said.

The raiding party, composed of men from the prosecutor's office and local police, came in through the ground floor gas station operated by the elder Susino. They battered down a doorway leading to a stairway and stormed upstairs.

The seven men nabbed upstairs are:

Daniel Santarsiero, 40, Long Island City, N. Y.; Nicholas Napolitano, 49, Long Beach, N. Y.; Americo Dicristoforo, 49, The Bronx, N. Y.; Frank Cailori, 44, Jersey City; Dominick Greco, 44, Tucson, Ariz.; Richard Esposito, 35, New York City, and Eugene Esposito, 37, The Bronx, N. Y.

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Patrolman Darrel Behrendsen has to admit there's variety in the life of a policeman. In a letter to participants in the gumball project, Chairman Reuner expressed the appreciation of the service club for supporting the gum machines, and also listed 11 projects which utilized the profits from the gum machines. Reuner also called upon participants to continue to cooperate in the venture as "it makes it possible for us to render necessary assistance to young people in our community."

Projects listed as the result of funds collected from the 1958 gumball machines were:

Biddy Basketball League — Sponsored team, contributing $60 to meet the costs.

Cerebral Palsy Center — Continued major support of CP Clinic serving about 160 handicapped youngsters. Club purchased materials, and members did actual work on such projects as repairing baseboard, repairing CP Beacon used in fund raising, repairing soundproofing tile and installing guard rails in waiting room and hallway; contributed one-half the cost of an air conditioner for speech therapy room, paid for plumbing repairs, provided a blackboard with deep chalk through, paid taxi fare for one patient to and from clinic; sponsored annual CP Christmas party.

Retires Wednesday, Is Killed on Friday

TROY, N. Y. (AP) — Nicholas Brod, 62, of Averill Park, was killed Friday when his automobile struck a tree.

Coroner Anthony Matera of Rensselaer County said Brod had suffered some type of seizure while driving his car. Brod died of a neck fracture after his head apparently hit the floorboard of the vehicle, Matera said.

Brod retired Wednesday from a job with the State Public Works Department.

'Fastest Man' Jumps to Safety, Pilot Loses Life

WATKINS, Colo. (AP) — Col. John P. Stapp, fastest traveler on earth, parachuted from a faltering jet plane at 10,000 feet Friday and escaped with a sprained ankle. The pilot was killed.

"It was far easier than my sled runs," said Stapp, 49, renowned for whizzing 632 miles an hour on a rocket propelled sled Dec. 10, 1954. That earned him the title "the fastest man on earth."

The record sled ride was one of 29 he made in experiments at the Air Force Missile Development Center at Alamogordo, N.M., to determine human reactions to pressures expected in space travel.

After the record run, Stapp said the sleds permitted tests of "violent, prolonged decelerations such as experienced in high-altitude supersonic bailout."

Capt. Harry B. Davis, 36, of Dayton, Ohio, pilot of the T33 jet trainer, fell to death when his 'chute failed to open completely.

The two were on a flight from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton to Denver, 42 miles west of here, where Stapp was scheduled to address a sectional meeting Friday night of the American Rocket Society.

Headwinds over Kansas cut the plane's fuel supply, Stapp said.

"We were flying at 35,500 fee near Watkins," Stapp said, "and saw we had only a little fuel — less than 16 gallons. We came down to 23,000 feet and leveled off. That's when the plane flamed out."

Five Escapees Seized After 110-Mile Chase

SUNBURY, Pa. (AP) — Five prison escapees were captured Friday night after a 90-mile-an-hour highway chase by State Police.

They were stopped at a viaduct roadblock in Mount Carmel after a 110-mile journey that began when they escaped from the Bradford County jail at Towanda, Pa.

They fled after knocking down a doctor called to examine a sick prisoner, overpowering the sheriff's son and escaping in the doctor's car.

Took Couple's Car

Authorities set up roadblocks immediately. The search to central Pennsylvania after the fugitives abandoned the doctor's automobile at Danville and commandeered another one from a young couple.

Trooper George Zelnick of the Shamokin Barracks said the escapees forced Erick Sturcke, 21, of Plainfield, N. J., a Bucknell University student, and his unidentified girl companion from their car and fled on Route 54. The couple was unharmed.

90-MPH Speeds

Troopers sighted the car near Bear Gap and the fugitives led them on a six-mile chase at speeds up to 90 miles an hour. The Mount Carmel roadblock was set up after troopers radioed ahead.

Authorities gave this account: Dr. Elting C. Johnson had been called to care for a prisoner. As he was admitted to a cell block by the son of Sheriff Fowler Tuton, the five men rushed for the door.

Johnson was felled by several punches to the face, and the sheriff's son, Edmund, was overpowered. The escapees took young Tuton's keys and let themselves out. They piled into the doctor's car and sped away.

Sheriff Tuton, who had left moments before to attend a meeting in the courthouse, identified the men as:

Ray Bellows, 34, Wysox, Bradford County; Harold Vanderpool of Towanda and Milo Teeter, 30, Troy, Pa., serving terms for larceny; and Carlo Greenwood, 19, and Reginald Currier, 21, both of St. Johnsbury, Vt., arrested for vagrancy.

SET CLOCKS AHEAD

Daylight saving time goes into effect tomorrow morning at 2 o'clock. When you retire tonight,, be sure to set your timepieces ahead one hour.

Designed to give more time for outdoor enjoyment, the movement for setting clocks ahead had a difficult time when it was first introduced during World War I. Objections were raised to tinkering with "God's time." Farmers still despise it. However, there are many who are glad to see daylight time come and the plan seems to be gaining in popularity throughout the country.

In order to avoid confusion on Sunday, it will be wise to set your timepieces an hour ahead when you retire tonight. You will lose an hour's sleep, but you'll get it back in the fall when we return to standard time.

THE CHIEFS DISAGREE

If any ordinary, jobholding, taxpaying citizen should, perchance, be confused about the state of the nations's defenses, let him take heart: he is not alone. Even our top military leaders, though they may not be confused, are at odds as to both the extent and nature of U.S. preparedness.

This, at least, is the picture that emerges from testimony by the heads of the armed services before the House appropriations subcommittee. Some feel that we have put too many nuclear eggs in our basket and have stinted unduly on ground forces. Some feel that the Air Force defense system is inadequate. There are differences as to whether the Navy needs more aircraft carriers. And so on.

It should also be noted, however, that the top commanders appeared to be agreed on one thing. Their testimony bore down heavily on the idea that America's military strength is far greater than congressional critics have been declaring. In essence, they supported Secretary of Defense McElroy's contention that the United States now has "all the military strength it needs to preserve peace."

That is encouraging, though it does not resolve all the questions that have been raised about how well we are keeping pace with the Soviet Union in certain advance developments. But the wide divergence of opinion shown by testimony of the armed services chiefs leaves one nagging thought.

Constant discussion and reassessment of the nation's military posture is healthy. A certain amount of inter-service rivalry also is a good thing. But it is disturbing to find the heads of the services in sharp disagreement on vital matters. Isn't it reasonable to expect that, at this level, there ought to be unanimity as to our military needs? Anything less than that dulls our cutting edge.

PASS UP HITCHHIKERS

You can't judge a person's character by how he's dressed or the way he holds out his thumb, says the FBI in warning drivers against picking up hitchhikers. "The motorist who gambles on being a judge of character," says FBI director J. Edgar Hoover, "may be gambling with his life."

With the heavy travel season about to start, the warning is timely. There is a strong impulse to play the Good Samaritan. The hitchhiker cuts an appealing figure; a lift may save him a chilly, fatiguing night in the open. A lift also may deprive the person who grants it of his car, his wallet, or even his life.

A check on one highway in Kansas showed that two out of every five hitchhikers had FBI fingerprint records. "Too often we have no way of knowing whether the fellow is an honest, harmless individual down on his luck or a calculating criminal," warns Russell S. Singer of the American Automobile Association.

Twenty-eight states and the District of Columbia have legislation outlawing the hitchhiker. The state of Washington punishes the driver who gives the lift. Highway travel demands not only legislation but common sense and precaution. Your next pick-up could be your last one.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

WHAT CAN WE DO?

A mother, Mrs. Virginia F. Hicks, and a wife, Mrs. Loretta K. Ferguson, write to me about A/2C James E. Ferguson, Jr. He is one of the 11 airmen missing in Soviet Russia. He is one of the American airmen who was shot down by the Russians over Armenian territory on September 2, 1958. About them we know nothing. Our government knows nothing. They are "now missing" and "presumed to be dead."

Why do not the White House and the Pentagon send a form letter to such mothers and wives saying, "We do not know how to answer your inquiries. We do not know what to do. We are dealing with monsters who do not even respect the dead. It is just too bad that it is your son (or husband) who had to give his life for his country in this fashion."

Instead, these relatives of the missing men get diplomatic procedure. They write to their Congressman. He writes to the White House, sending a carbon copy to the constituent. The White House forwards the letter to the proper slot in the Pentagon. Somebody in the Pentagon writes a polite, formal letter which is assumed to jerk tears from the aforesaid mother or wife. The Congressman sends the original of this letter to the mother or wife to show his interest in his constituents. The letter is meant to be treasured. The Congressman says he can do no more short of getting the President to declare war on Soviet Russia.

Mrs. Hicks asks:

". . . The kin are left to wonder why the President is willing to go to war for the Berlin Germans, the Lebanese, and practically everyone else, but will not lift a hand for his own American soldiers."

It is not so easy, Mrs. Hicks. In the good old days it was possible to make war on Spain because the Spaniards cut off the ear of an Englishman called Jenkins. And General Smedley Butler of the Marine Corps went through a country because a Marine was missing. But those days are over as since Soviet Russia became a Power, treaties are of no avail and international law is meaningless. The Russians do not recognize whatever is irrational and that is irrational which they regard as such.

It is all very simple. When fairly decent people get to quarrelling, they generally fight according to some preconceived rules of decency, but the Russians do not care to fight that way because it seems so stupid. In a word, if fight you must, then fight to a finish. Stomp on the enemy's face and gouge out his eyes. Give him the punishment of the thousands cuts. Keep him alive but tear his tongue out. Anything you can think of and are pleased to do. That being the case, precisely what can we do about it when our airmen fall into their hands?

Mrs. Hicks uses the phrase, "this cynical abandonment of loyal Americans." Short of war, there seems to be little else that can be done. Our State Department can, of course, send some notes to Russia, but the reply will be that they know nothing about it but heard that an American plane has had some trouble somewhere. The President can talk to the first Russian that comes his way, as Eisenhower did to Mikoyan, and Mikoyan probably said that he would take the matter up with the proper authorities which means nobody at all. How many Americans are still held in Red China?

So we appeal to the International Red Cross to find out about the 11 missing American airmen. And the Red Cross sends a man from Geneva in Switzerland to Moscow and everybody is sorry that such an incident happened. The Red Cross is sorry too, but what can they do?

Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. Ferguson may feel that I too am cynical. But like most Americans, I cannot afford to be. My sons may have to do their stint under similar tough circumstances. What I am describing is this: if both parties to a quarrel are gentlemanly, they will look after each other's wounded, missing and dead; will let the families know through proper channels what the situation is, perhaps through the International Red Cross.

However, we are dealing with Tartars, with the descendants of the Golden Horde, the offspring of Genghis Khan. What courtesy is to be expected of them? Only such as serves Russia's purpose.

Age, Health and 'Condition' Ought to Temper Exercise

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Healthy people ought to use their muscles if they want to treat their bodies in the way intended by nature. The circulation is better, the digestion and bowel elimination work better, and probably all of the other various functions of the human tissues and organs behave better if appropriate physical exercise is taken.

Far too many people take little or no exercise during the winter. Thus their muscles and circulation lack the stimulation provided by exercise during a good part of the year.

A second mistake by starting out on the first pleasant day of spring by trying to make up for lost time is also common. Several strenuous sets of tennis after seven or eight months of desk work can be truly dangerous.

How much exercise a person should take to maintain the best possible health is not easy to say. However, the strenuous athletics all right for a young man of 18 or 20 can harm the rapidly growing boy of 13 or the man of 40.

Age is one of the factors to take into consideration when considering exercise.

The greatest amount of physical exertion can undoubtedly be taken by young men in full maturity, usually from about 18 to 25. Even at these ages, however, it is possible to overdo, especially for the man who is not "in training." As one correspondent wrote me, scholastic sports should be for amusement and not so strenuously conducted as to injure the heart. After the late 20s there is a gradual decrease in the tolerance to strenuous physical exertion, though of course the ability is tremendously influenced by practice and "condition."

The sex also influences the amount and kind of physical exercise desirable. There are certain types of exercise which women can stand better than men.

For example, most women can stay in cold water longer than men because they have a larger amount of fat under the skin which serves as insulating material. The muscles of women, however, are not as a rule so well developed as those of men and their organs are so arranged that certain types of physical exertion are frequently undesirable.

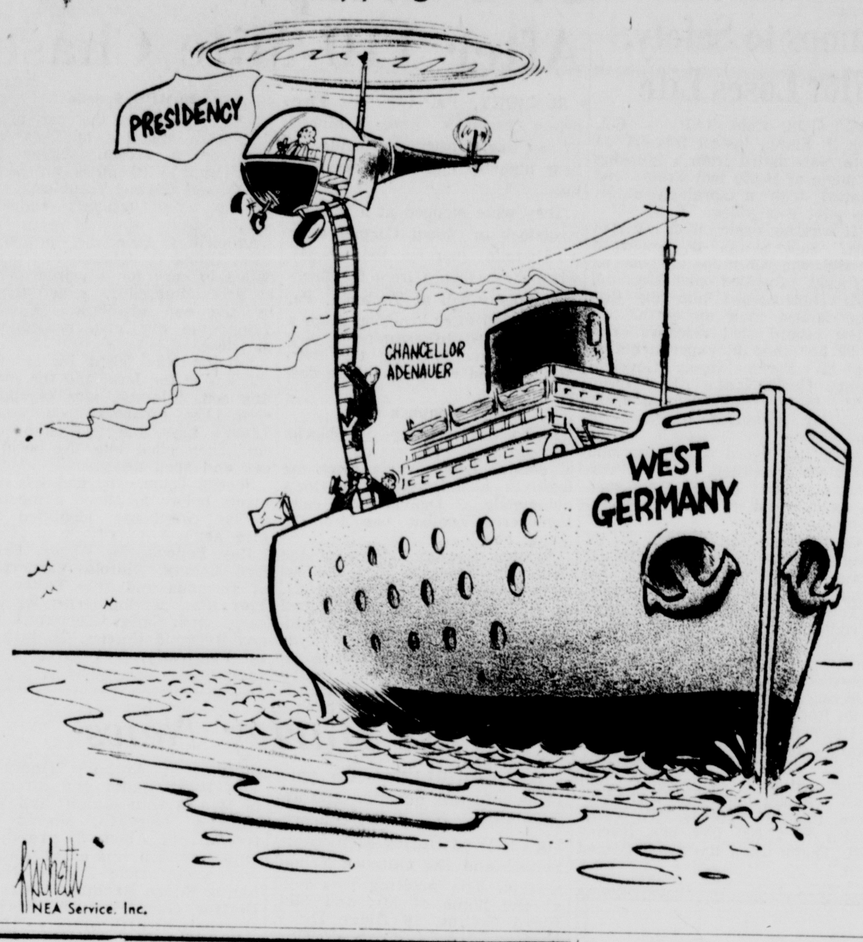

The general health of the individual is an obvious but frequently overlooked factor in deciding about exercise. In practically all forms of heart disease, the amount of exercise has to be decreased. Exercise after an illness or operation must be approached gradually, as the muscles have become flabby and need to be reconditioned.

The general physical condition should, therefore, always be one of the items weighed in choosing the kind and amount of exercise.

Most people believe that there is greater benefit obtained from exercise which a person enjoys than from one he does not.

If it is a question of choice, it would seem ordinary good sense to pick a type of exercise or athletics which is fun, preferably one which can be kept up for many years and will not be too greatly influenced by age. This is often hard to do, particularly in big cities.

Washington News

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — After flying all the way from Washington to address a Space Age Forum at the new Sheraton Hotel in Dallas, Tex., government scientists Robert Jastrow and Harry Wexler were startled to find only a handful of people in the audience. Jastrow is chief of the new NASA Moon Exploration Team and Wexler is in charge of the Weather Bureau's Meteorological Research Branch.

Reason for the sparse attendance was that the forum was scheduled on the morning after an all-night wingding to celebrate the hotel's opening. Everybody who was invited to hear the scientist had attended the party.

After surveying the almost empty room, moderator Logan Wilson, president of the University of Texas, cracked:

"Gentlemen, I think the large degree of fallout evident here today can definitely be attributed to last night's blast."

SEN. NORRIS COTTON (R-N. H.), who has switched from a liberal to a conservative during his years in Congress, has a novel excuse ready if he should ever change his political views again. He got the idea from a historical novel called "The Reluctant Rebel."

"I used to be a 'reluctant' liberal," he says. "Now I'm a 'reluctant' conservative. I say 'reluctant' because I don't like labels."

WORST POLITICAL pun heard hereabouts this year is, "Rockefeller now has a half nelson on the presidency."

THE SPRING season's most unusual dinner parties are the do-it-yourself feasts given by Mayloyan Press Secretary Kok Swee Choong. The novelty is an exotic-type cooking contraption called a Mongolian Hot Pot.

This is a large chafing dish with a wide rim around it. The dish contains boiling pork bone soup. On the rim are placed pieces of raw chicken, pork, beef, squid, shrimp and an assortment of vegetables.

Guests select morsels and hold them in the steaming liquid with chop sticks. When the tidbits have been thoroughly boiled, they are lifted out of the soup and eaten.

By the time all the meat and vegetables are gone, the soup has acquired a strong variflavored taste. After some hot Chinese peppers are added, it's poured into bowls and served.

NILS LENNARTSON, assistant to Treasury Secretary Bob Anderson, was perturbed when he received a letter from Macy's Department Store in New York saying that it did not stock a certain garden product which he had ordered. What bothered him so much was that the store had recently run a 10x7-inch ad in a newspaper about the product.

Lennartson wrote the store again and enclosed a copy of the advertisement. At the end of his letter he quipped:

"They say, 'Macy's does not tell Gimbels.' Maybe Macy's does not even tell its mail order department!"

PARTYGOERS who survived th wingding tossed by the National Society of the Daughters of the American Colonists at the Mayflower Hotel set an endurance record for going through receiving lines. Guests had to run a handsaking gantlet of 50 NSDAC officers to reach the food.

Spring is the time of the roses in Paris. This year, in the spring collection, roses bloomed on hats, belts, sleeves and even hems.

Defense Makes Duplicate Top

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Take a look at the West hand only. The game is duplicate and you open one heart with no one vulnerable. North doubles, East bids two hearts, South two spades and you jump to four hearts. North bids four spades and it is passed around to you.

What do you do? Marshall Miles of San Bernadino doubled and opened his singleton ace of clubs. North put down the dummy and thanked him for his nice lead.

	NORTH 25
	♠ K 10 8 7 ♥ 5 4 ♦ K ♣ K Q 7 5 4 3
WEST (D)		EAST
♠ A J ♥ A K 10 9 7 2 ♦ J 10 6 5 ♣ A		♠ 6 2 ♥ Q 8 3 ♦ A 9 8 7 3 ♣ 10 8 2
	SOUTH ♠ Q 9 5 4 3 ♥ J 6 ♦ Q 4 2 ♣ J 9 6

No one vulnerable

West	North	East	South
1 ♥	Double	2 ♥	2 ♠
4 ♥	4 ♠	Pass	Pass
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♣ A

Marshall replied, "I wasn't trying to help you" and proceeded to set the hand three tricks. It wasn't difficult. He simply led a diamond to his partner's ace and ruffed the club return. Then he cashed the ace and king of hearts and ace of trumps for a three trick set.

The game was duplicate, as mentioned, and the 500 points gave Marshall a top score.

Srangely enough all other West's played the hand at four hearts and made six. North either passed throughout or overcalled with two clubs but always opened the king of clubs whereupon all declarer had to do to make six was to draw trumps and lose one diamond trick.

The slam was decidely not biddable, however, and could not be made against a spade lead in any event.

SET CLOCKS AHEAD

Daylight saving time goes into effect tomorrow morning at 2 o'clock. When you retire tonight,, be sure to set your timepieces ahead one hour.

Designed to give more time for outdoor enjoyment, the movement for setting clocks ahead had a difficult time when it was first introduced during World War I. Objections were raised to tinkering with "God's time." Farmers still despise it. However, there are many who are glad to see daylight time come and the plan seems to be gaining in popularity throughout the country.

In order to avoid confusion on Sunday, it will be wise to set your timepieces an hour ahead when you retire tonight. You will lose an hour's sleep, but you'll get it back in the fall when we return to standard time.

THE CHIEFS DISAGREE

If any ordinary, jobholding, taxpaying citizen should, perchance, be confused about the state of the nations's defenses, let him take heart: he is not alone. Even our top military leaders, though they may not be confused, are at odds as to both the extent and nature of U.S. preparedness.

This, at least, is the picture that emerges from testimony by the heads of the armed services before the House appropriations subcommittee. Some feel that we have put too many nuclear eggs in our basket and have stinted unduly on ground forces. Some feel that the Air Force defense system is inadequate. There are differences as to whether the Navy needs more aircraft carriers. And so on.

It should also be noted, however, that the top commanders appeared to be agreed on one thing. Their testimony bore down heavily on the idea that America's military strength is far greater than congressional critics have been declaring. In essence, they supported Secretary of Defense McElroy's contention that the United States now has "all the military strength it needs to preserve peace."

That is encouraging, though it does not resolve all the questions that have been raised about how well we are keeping pace with the Soviet Union in certain advance developments. But the wide divergence of opinion shown by testimony of the armed services chiefs leaves one nagging thought.

Constant discussion and reassessment of the nation's military posture is healthy. A certain amount of inter-service rivalry also is a good thing. But it is disturbing to find the heads of the services in sharp disagreement on vital matters. Isn't it reasonable to expect that, at this level, there ought to be unanimity as to our military needs? Anything less than that dulls our cutting edge.

PASS UP HITCHHIKERS

You can't judge a person's character by how he's dressed or the way he holds out his thumb, says the FBI in warning drivers against picking up hitchhikers. "The motorist who gambles on being a judge of character," says FBI director J. Edgar Hoover, "may be gambling with his life."

With the heavy travel season about to start, the warning is timely. There is a strong impulse to play the Good Samaritan. The hitchhiker cuts an appealing figure; a lift may save him a chilly, fatiguing night in the open. A lift also may deprive the person who grants it of his car, his wallet, or even his life.

A check on one highway in Kansas showed that two out of every five hitchhikers had FBI fingerprint records. "Too often we have no way of knowing whether the fellow is an honest, harmless individual down on his luck or a calculating criminal," warns Russell S. Singer of the American Automobile Association.

Twenty-eight states and the District of Columbia have legislation outlawing the hitchhiker. The state of Washington punishes the driver who gives the lift. Highway travel demands not only legislation but common sense and precaution. Your next pick-up could be your last one.

Mrs. Hicks uses the phrase, "this cynical abandonment of loyal Americans." Short of war, there seems to be little else that can be done. Our State Department can, of course, send some notes to Russia, but the reply will be that they know nothing about it but heard that an American plane has had some trouble somewhere. The President can talk to the first Russian that comes his way, as Eisenhower did to Mikoyan, and Mikoyan probably said that he would take the matter up with the proper authorities which means nobody at all. How many Americans are still held in Red China?

So we appeal to the International Red Cross to find out about the 11 missing American airmen. And the Red Cross sends a man from Geneva in Switzerland to Moscow and everybody is sorry that such an incident happened. The Red Cross is sorry too, but what can they do?

Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. Ferguson may feel that I too am cynical. But like most Americans, I cannot afford to be. My sons may have to do their stint under similar tough circumstances. What I am describing is this: if both parties to a quarrel are gentlemanly, they will look after each other's wounded, missing and dead; will let the families know through proper channels what the situation is, perhaps through the International Red Cross.

However, we are dealing with Tartars, with the descendants of the Golden Horde, the offspring of Genghis Khan. What courtesy is to be expected of them? Only such as serves Russia's purpose.

Age, Health and 'Condition' Ought to Temper Exercise

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Healthy people ought to use their muscles if they want to treat their bodies in the way intended by nature. The circulation is better, the digestion and bowel elimination work better, and probably all of the other various functions of the human tissues and organs behave better if appropriate physical exercise is taken.

Far too many people take little or no exercise during the winter. Thus their muscles and circulation lack the stimulation provided by exercise during a good part of the year.

A second mistake by starting out on the first pleasant day of spring by trying to make up for lost time is also common. Several strenuous sets of tennis after seven or eight months of desk work can be truly dangerous.

How much exercise a person should take to maintain the best possible health is not easy to say. However, the strenuous athletics all right for a young man of 18 or 20 can harm the rapidly growing boy of 13 or the man of 40.

Age is one of the factors to take into consideration when considering exercise.

The greatest amount of physical exertion can undoubtedly be taken by young men in full maturity, usually from about 18 to 25. Even at these ages, however, it is possible to overdo, especially for the man who is not "in training." As one correspondent wrote me, scholastic sports should be for amusement and not so strenuously conducted as to injure the heart. After the late 20s there is a gradual decrease in the tolerance to strenuous physical exertion, though of course the ability is tremendously influenced by practice and "condition."

The sex also influences the amount and kind of physical exercise desirable. There are certain types of exercise which women can stand better than men.

For example, most women can stay in cold water longer than men because they have a larger amount of fat under the skin which serves as insulating material. The muscles of women, however, are not as a rule so well developed as those of men and their organs are so arranged that certain types of physical exertion are frequently undesirable.

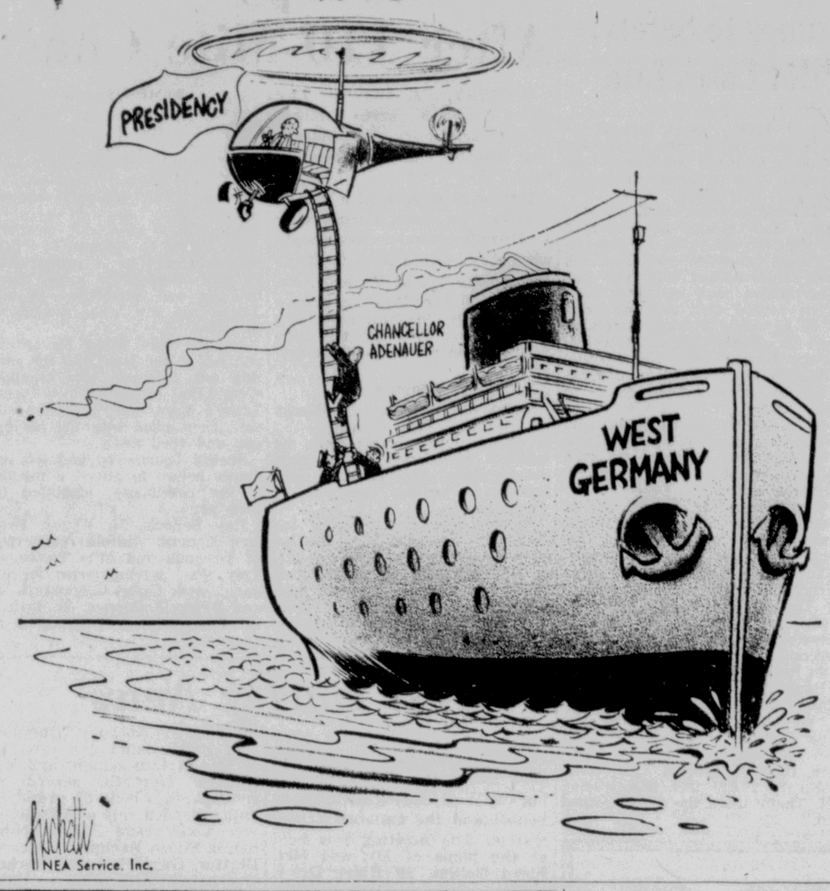

The general health of the individual is an obvious but frequently overlooked factor in deciding about exercise. In practically all forms of heart disease, the amount of exercise has to be decreased. Exercise after an illness or operation must be approached gradually, as the muscles have become flabby and need to be reconditioned.

The general physical condition should, therefore, always be one of the items weighed in choosing the kind and amount of exercise.

Most people believe that there is greater benefit obtained from exercise which a person enjoys than from one he does not.

If it is a question of choice, it would seem ordinary good sense to pick a type of exercise or athletics which is fun, preferably one which can be kept up for many years and will not be too greatly influenced by age. This is often hard to do, particularly in big cities.

Washington News

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — After flying all the way from Washington to address a Space Age Forum at the new Sheraton Hotel in Dallas, Tex., government scientists Robert Jastrow and Harry Wexler were startled to find only a handful of people in the audience. Jastrow is chief of the new NASA Moon Exploration Team and Wexler is in charge of the Weather Bureau's Meteorological Research Branch.

Reason for the sparse attendance was that the forum was scheduled on the morning after an all-night wingding to celebrate the hotel's opening. Everybody who was invited to hear the scientist had attended the party.

After surveying the almost empty room, moderator Logan Wilson, president of the University of Texas, cracked:

"Gentlemen, I think the large degree of fallout evident here today can definitely be attributed to last night's blast."

SEN. NORRIS COTTON (R-N. H.), who has switched from a liberal to a conservative during his years in Congress, has a novel excuse ready if he should ever change his political views again. He got the idea from a historical novel called "The Reluctant Rebel."

"I used to be a 'reluctant' liberal," he says. "Now I'm a 'reluctant' conservative. I say 'reluctant' because I don't like labels."

WORST POLITICAL pun heard hereabouts this year is, "Rockefeller now has a half nelson on the presidency."

THE SPRING season's most unusual dinner parties are the do-it-yourself feasts given by Mayloyan Press Secretary Kok Swee Choong. The novelty is an exotic-type cooking contraption called a Mongolian Hot Pot.

This is a large chafing dish with a wide rim around it. The dish contains boiling pork bone soup. On the rim are placed pieces of raw chicken, pork, beef, squid, shrimp and an assortment of vegetables.

Guests select morsels and hold them in the steaming liquid with chop sticks. When the tidbits have been thoroughly boiled, they are lifted out of the soup and eaten.

By the time all the meat and vegetables are gone, the soup has acquired a strong variflavored taste. After some hot Chinese peppers are added, it's poured into bowls and served.

NILS LENNARTSON, assistant to Treasury Secretary Bob Anderson, was perturbed when he received a letter from Macy's Department Store in New York saying that it did not stock a certain garden product which he had ordered. What bothered him so much was that the store had recently run a 10x7-inch ad in a newspaper about the product.

Lennartson wrote the store again and enclosed a copy of the advertisement. At the end of his letter he quipped:

"They say, 'Macy's does not tell Gimbels.' Maybe Macy's does not even tell its mail order department!"

PARTYGOERS who survived th wingding tossed by the National Society of the Daughters of the American Colonists at the Mayflower Hotel set an endurance record for going through receiving lines. Guests had to run a handsaking gantlet of 50 NSDAC officers to reach the food.

Spring is the time of the roses in Paris. This year, in the spring collection, roses bloomed on hats, belts, sleeves and even hems.

Why We Say--

TRULY DELICIOUS: When some delicacy "make your mouth water" today, as the saying goes, it must be truly delicious. However, the explanation started in 1555 in a story by Richard Eden who reported that the cannibals of the West Indies got so excited over eating a human victim that "their mouths watered."

Defense Makes Duplicate Top

Take a look at the West hand only. The game is duplicate and you open one heart with no one vulnerable. North doubles, East bids two hearts, South two spades and you jump to four hearts. North bids four spades and it is passed around to you.

What do you do? Marshall Miles of San Bernadino doubled and opened his singleton ace of clubs. North put down the dummy and thanked him for his nice

Marshall replied, "I wasn't trying to help you" and proceeded to set the hand three tricks. It wasn't difficult. He simply led a diamond to his partner's ace and ruffed the club return. Then he cashed the ace and king of hearts and ace of trumps for a three trick set.

The game was duplicate, as mentioned, and the 500 points gave Marshall a top score.

Strangely enough all other West's played the hand at four hearts and made six. North either passed throughout or overcalled with two clubs but always opened the king of clubs whereupon all declarer had to do to make six was to draw trumps and lose one diamond trick.

The slam was decidely not biddable, however, and could not be made against a spade lead in any event.

Begin Delivery Of New Telephone Directory May 4

New York Telephone Company has announced that delivery of its 1959-60 gray colored directory will start on May 4.

The directories, printed under five separate book covers, Kingston, Woodstock, High Falls-Rosendale, Phoenicia and Saugerties, include listings in the above exchanges as well as Esopus and Shokan.

H. H. Heider, company manager at Kingston, said delivery of about 35,000 copies of the new books should be completed by May 8. Customers who do not receive their new directories by this date should call the telephone business office and they will be mailed out immediately.

"The new book is larger than ever and contains an estimated 30,000 listings in the alphabetical section—about 500 more listings than last year," Heider said. "Because many of these listings are new or have been changed, it is a good idea to consult the new book before making calls. This will avoid delays or inconveniences due to wrong numbers," he said.

"For further calling ease, it is a good idea to compare personal number lists with the new directories and bring them up to date. Personal numbers booklets are available upon request at the business office for customers who wish them."

Heider said that all of the directories will be mailed this year. Because of this, there will be no pick-up of old directories. It is suggested that old directories be discarded by customers as soon as the new ones are received. He cautioned customers, however, to be sure that all directories are checked before discarded to avoid personal papers, money, etc. being thrown away.

The classification section of the book, commonly called the "Yellow Pages" has also increased in size. This section of the directory is a complete and accurate guide to local goods and services provided by business customers throughout the area.

Area Scout Council Holds Annual Officers Election

The annual meeting of Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America was held early this week at Governor Clinton Hotel for the election of officers and the annual review.

Elwood Hitchcock of East Jewett was reelected council president with Gerald Overbagh of Quarryville; Walter Balk of Woodstock, and Frank Bourke of Kingston reelected as vice presidents.

Name New Treasurer

Francis Kolts of Kingston was elected treasurer succeeding Irving Kotrady of Kingston who served in that post for the past three years. Reelected council commissioner was Sherwood Lasher of Kingston.

Bourke is employed as plant engineer at Hercules Powder Co., Port Ewen. Kolts is a cashier of the National Ulster County Bank of Kingston and Lasher is employed by the Great Bull Markets as advertising manager.

Represeting six districts of the council, 58 Scouters elected Johan Aalto, Shokan, Valentine Morrow, Maplecrest and Herbert Bell of Milton as council representatives to the National Council, Boy Scouts of America. Elected as executive board members-at-large were Walter Tremper, Frederick Stang, Henry Eighmey, Dr. Robert Ploss all of Kingston. Also, Raymond Quackenbush and Karl Gerhard of Saugerties; Clement Hulick of Greenville; Morrow of Maplecrest; Aalto of Shokan, Bell of Milton, Frederick Appleton of Highland, Richard Gendreau Sr., of Ulster Park and Elbert Varney of Woodstock.

David Gaise, George Matthews, Harry Halverson, G. Herbert DeKay, Harry Edson, Harry Rigby, A. J. Burns and Walter Foster of Kingston.

Rigby is a member of the state committee for the celebration. Robert Tremper, Scoutmaster of Troop 11, of Kingston was present to lead some lively songs prior to the business meeting.

Following the reports by the secretary and treasurer, Council President Hitchcock gave a brief report concerning the council activities for the past year. This report was supplemented by reports by the operating committee chairmen and discussion. All present were presented with written reports on all aspects of the council operation for the past year, 1958. The attending district chairmen also presented reports.

Later in the evening, Horsley conducted the annual council review stressing manpower, program and membership of the council. The 1958 attained figures were compared with the 1958 goals. Progress of the council during the first quarter was also shown and compared with the council goals in the "Ten Tests of Successful Scouting."

Gift Presented

Jerry Blair, scout executive of the Rip Van Winkle Council during the past two years was presented with a leather briefcase and red wool shirt as an expression of appreciation of the boys and adults of the council. Mr. Blair assumed new duties on April 1 with the Nassau County Council, Roslyn, L. I. President Hitchcock announced that Alexander Macdonald will join the council May 11 as scout executive. Macdonald is presently serving as field director of the North Bergen County Council, BSA in Hackensack, N. J.

Field Scout Executive Robert Hensel announced that the council annual recognition dinner will be held May 26 at Onteora Central School, Boiceville. Reservations are running well ahead of last year with one week of summer camp already reserved to capacity. Carter also announced that work parties at camp will begin May 2 and continue on every Saturday until opening day, June 28. Scouters are encouraged to attend and lend a hand.

To Build Cabin

Word has been received that a cabin will be built at camp this year by the Southern District Scouters. Olavi Pihala of Saugerties has volunteered the services of his construction firm and will build two lean-tos this spring for camp. The executive board expressed its appreciation to the Kingston Kiwanis for $250 recently received for the purchase of tents at camp. Donations by other firms will be acknowledged as they are received.

Begin Delivery Of New Telephone Directory May 4

New York Telephone Company has announced that delivery of its 1959-60 gray colored directory will start on May 4.

The directories, printed under five separate book covers, Kingston, Woodstock, High Falls-Rosendale, Phoenicia and Saugerties, include listings in the above exchanges as well as Esopus and Shokan.

H. H. Heider, company manager at Kingston, said delivery of about 35,000 copies of the new books should be completed by May 8. Customers who do not receive their new directories by this date should call the telephone business office and they will be mailed out immediately.

"The new book is larger than ever and contains an estimated 30,000 listings in the alphabetical section—about 500 more listings than last year," Heider said. "Because many of these listings are new or have been changed, it is a good idea to consult the new book before making calls. This will avoid delays or inconveniences due to wrong numbers," he said.

"For further calling ease, it is a good idea to compare personal number lists with the new directories and bring them up to date. Personal numbers booklets are available upon request at the business office for customers who wish them."

Heider said that all of the directories will be mailed this year. Because of this, there will be no pick-up of old directories. It is suggested that old directories be discarded by customers as soon as the new ones are received. He cautioned customers, however, to be sure that all directories are checked before discarded to avoid personal papers, money, etc. being thrown away.

The classification section of the book, commonly called the "Yellow Pages" has also increased in size. This section of the directory is a complete and accurate guide to local goods and services provided by business customers throughout the area.

$350 Found on Road Dropped Off Truck

NORTH TONAWANDA, N. Y. Service station operator Frank Zimmerman was a surprised and happy man today.

Frank told police he left a money box containing $350 on the running board of his truck last Wednesday, by mistake.

He said he didn't bother to report it because he never expected to see it again.

John B. Schutt proved him wrong, however.

Plowing Contest, Set For Fair, Canceled

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—The 17th Annual National Conservation Days and Plowing contests, originally scheduled to be held at the Monroe County Fair, Sept. 17-19, have been canceled.

Henri Projansky, president of the County Fair Assn., said the fair had withdrawn as a site for the event because of "inadequate financial support."

He said he did not know where the event would be held this year.

Projansky said he would notify Orran Hofstetter, an official of the National Committee of the Assn. of Soil Conservation Districts, of the fair's decision.

Garage Serves Many Purposes

Building a garage just for your car is something like building a swimming pool for your goldfish.

In the average household the car occupies the garage only a few hours of the day. Why not build your garage to accommodate the family, too; The additional cost will only be a small part of the total investment.

Your garage can be made to serve many purposes. For example, if you want to take full advantage of this additional living space, you can make it do duty as a sort of pavilion for your backyard parties in the summer. With a few chairs and tables, it makes the perfect spot for rest, refreshment and refuge from the sun.

A clean garage is a good spot for hanging out the wash, too, when bad weather prevents use of the yard.

It's also an ideal rainy-day playground for the kids. There's room enough for active games, and there's no worry about getting under mother's feet or cluttering up newly-cleaned rooms.

And don't forget that the garage, with a little planning, is one of your most useful storage places. Even if your car makes a snug fit, you can always find shelf space above the car roof or even over the hood.

List the things you'd like your garage to be, in addition to a mere car shelter, and talk it over with your architect. That extra room you've been wanting could emerge in your backyard.

'The Asmond' Is Compact But Roomy

Rooms	Five
Bedrooms	Three
Closets	Six
Cubage: House	23,000 ft.
Garage	3,800 ft.
Dimensions	33' x 24'
Overall	58' long

From a casual glance at the compact exterior of "The Asmond," presented today by the Home of the Week Plan Service, you wouldn't suspect that inside this attractive one-story house there are five good-sized rooms — exclusive of the connecting breezeway.

Straight ground-hugging lines give an especially cozy appearance to the house. Shingles or clapboards are the suggested exterior finishes. Blinds add a friendly, decorative touch in harmony with the design of this house.

With the house proper measuring 33 by 24 feet it has an overall length — including the connecting porch and attached garage—of 58 feet. Cubage of the house is 17,500 feet; cubage of the garage is 3800 feet.

In Right Wing

Located in the right wing of the house, both regular bedrooms form a sort of unit by themselves. The all-modern bath is located between the bedrooms. These three rooms are joined by a short hallway which is connected to the central hallway and also to the living room. This arrangement provides the utmost possible privacy for the sleeping quarters.

Ample closet space and good ventilation is featured in each of the bedrooms. And, the spacious linen closet is conveniently near the bedrooms and bath alike.

Should you need a third bedroom you can easily use the den for this purpose. This room too, has a large closet and good ventilation. If you don't need this extra sleeping space you can use this room as a combination den and guest room.

No Dining Room

No dining room is provided for in this plan. But, the living room is both large enough and so planned that it can do double duty. The kitchen contains a good-sized, well-lighted breakfast nook where many family meals can be served quite comfortably.

In the working section of the kitchen counter, cabinets and appliances are conveniently close at hand. Yet, you have ample space in which to move about without feeling "hemmed in."

Access to Yard

Those families who prefer a first floor laundry can utilize the connecting porch for that purpose. There is ready access to the yard from this area. If you'd rather have your laundry in the basement place it under the kitchen or bath — and be sure to provide bulkheads for the sake of both convenience and safety.

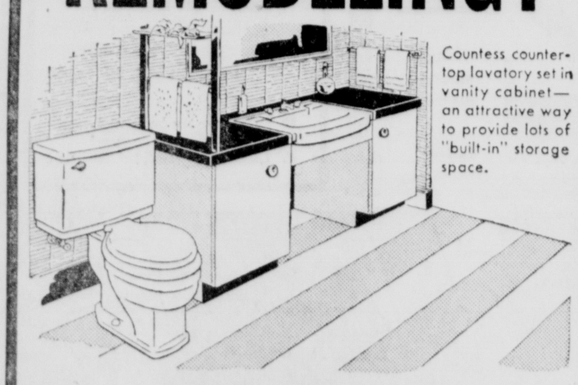

Your heating equipment should, of course, be located under the living room.

Insurance:—A GI term policy may lapse if the premiums remain unpaid when they become due. It will also expire at the end of the term period for which it was written. Under present law, it cannot be taken up again if it expires. On the other hand, a permanent GI policy may lapse due to non-payment of premiums but it does not expire. Before a lapsed policy provides any insurance protection it must be reinstated. Reinstatement is made by meeting health requirements and paying the required premiums. In the case of lapsed term insurance, the reinstatement must take place before the term period ends.

* * *

Loans:—The VA guarantees up to sixty per cent of a GI home loan with a maximum of $7,500. The lender is guaranteed fifty per cent on farm or business loans with a maximum guarantee of $4,000 on loans involving real estate and $2,000 on loans not involving real estate. These rules apply to both World War II and Korean GI Bills.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs at the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency office at 32 Main Street, Kingston.

Companions

Over many centuries wood and paint have been perfect companions. Eight of every 10 houses in America have been built of wood—and attractively painted to the long lasting satisfaction of the owners.

Wicker Furniture

Wicker furniture can be kept from turning yellow by scrubbing it with a stiff brush moistened with warm salt water.

Exposed Wood

Much of the beauty of contemporary homes comes from the exciting use of exposed wood in nearly every room, says a nationally prominent architect. He says the trend toward wood is now in full swing since homeowners have discovered they can have the charm of wood at no greater expense than most other types of walls. In the case of exposed beams and ceilings, wood is actually cheaper because roof and ceiling framing costs are eliminated.

Try Solid Color Oil Cloth Valance

Would you like your kitchen to be different? A solid color oil cloth that harmonizes well with the things in your kitchen may be made into scalloped window valances. They must be hemmed across the top where the curtain rods go through. Shades of a contrasting hue are very interesting.

Say you have a pink, gray and white kitchen, make the valances of the pink oil cloth and the shades of gray or vice versa. If your kitchen is a red and white one, make black valances and red shades, being sure that the red is the exact shade that you already have in your room.

The best part of all about these kitchen accessories is that they are so easily cleaned with a damp cloth.

Tile for Basements

The only type of resilient floor tile suitable for basement and game room floors where the concrete is in contact with the earth are asphalt tile and vinyl asbestos tile. Don't use the other types for they are not suitable for these locations.

Shokan

SHOKAN—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Adsit in the course of their recent vacation trip to the Florida east coast made stops in North Carolina and Baltimore where they attended Old School Baptist Church services. The couple in addition to hearing some inspiring old fashioned sermons by preachers of the sect, also renewed acquaintance with a number of Baptists who have visited Shokan for the "Three Days Meetings" in the century-old meeting house here. Adsit is clerk of the Olive and Hurley O.S.B. Church which was organized 150 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Estey, New York couple who have a summer home on Route 212 between Mt. Tremper and Willow, were Shokan callers Sunday. They are ardent fishermen and Estey already has landed a 16-inch rainbow trout at the junction of the Bushkill with the west basin of the Ashokan.

John Marshall, formerly town clerk of Olive for many years, and wife have returned home following a trip to Florida.

William Short, who occupied the George Hauser bungalow several years, reportedly is now making his home in Saugerties.

Lester Lawrence, Ashokan Reservoir department employe of many years service, is reported improved at a Kingston hospital.

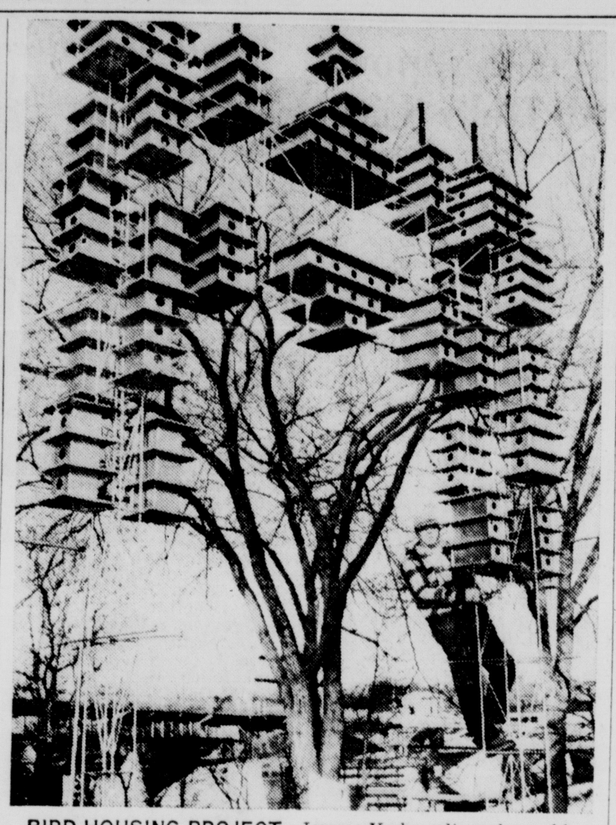

Alva Buley Sr. of the Tonche Mountain neighborhood has retired as a member of Foreman Joe Haver's state road maintenance crew.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knight of the Kingston flats were in Shokan Sunday. Their home near Route 28 is the century-old George Day house in the vicinity of the one-time Kingston & Delhi Turnpike toll gate. George Day was widely known in the mountain towns as a butcher and cattle buyer, and everyone knew that his house was near the toll gate, where country people visiting the county seat had to pay eight cents, going and coming, for each horse-drawn vehicle.

Local friends of Mr. and Mrs. George Van Kleeck are pleased that the South Olive couple have rounded out 50 years of married life.

REACHING—Arnold Shoda, star of the first American ice show to play in Russia, reaches for a red star in Moscow. He's doing his specialty the hard way—no skates.

BIRD HOUSING PROJECT—Jerome Verhasselt works on his multiple-dwelling birdhouse in Wrightstown, Wis. He has 214 apartments ready for purple martins, birds which migrate from South America each year. Houses are made of aluminum.

Air Conditioning Can Save Money

Home air conditioning has advantages which tend to offset much of the operating costs of the equipment. Humidity control eliminates extreme moisture which is responsible for peeling paint and sagging wallpaper.

Closets and basement become safe for storage use, with danger of mildew and dampness virtually removed. Packaged foods stored in cabinets or on pantry shelves remain fresh longer.

A complete home air conditioning system heats the home and adds moisture to dry air in cold weather. It filters dust, soot, dirt and pollen from the air. It circulates clean air throughout the house.

Louvers Help

Home air-conditioning systems work more efficiently when louver doors are used between rooms. They also add interest to any decorating scheme with their new "textured" appearance. The tilted slats in louver doors of ponderosa pine permit cooled air to circulate more readily from room to room while still maintaining privacy. On closets, the air moving through the slats prevents must odors and deters moths.

This Way Please

In these days of houses built around patios and terraces, it is sometimes a problem to find the front door. By painting the door a bright eye-catching color, it will be easy to see. Repeat the color in the flower border and you have a truly artistic effect.

Water Test

Excessive alkali in an outdoor fish pool will kill the fish. To test the water, drop a piece of pink litmus paper in it. If it turns blue, the water is not safe for the fish. If it remains pink, the water is safe.

Lacquer Finish Keeps Beauty

Lacquer will give you a furniture finish of lasting beauty, but it isn't a finish that can be applied in a slap-dash way. Lacquer will dry completely within a couple of hours. Partly because it does dry so quickly, you have to use special care.

You can't apply lacquer over paint or varnish, so if you are refinishing an old piece, use a paint and varnish remover to take off the old finish. Check for holes and cracks and fill these with plastic wood, a bit more than full. Sand down after plastic wood has hardened.

It's important to brush the lacquer on with even strokes, lapping each only a little over previous strokes. Remove runs immediately with one, light stroke of the brush. Apply lacquer only in a dust-free room.

Directions on the can in which the lacquer comes will tell you what to use for a primer, or undercoat. When dry, this is smoothed with fine sandpaper and wiped down with a clean cloth moistened with turpentine.

Unless rubbed down, lacquer has a high gloss. For a velvety, semi-gloss finish, rub with a cloth pad moistened with linseed oil and dipped in rottenstone. Wipe clean and wax.

Nailing Important

Proper nailing is a prime factor for getting the best service from hardwood floors.

Your garage can be made to serve many purposes. For example, if you want to take full advantage of this additional living space, you can make it do duty as a sort of pavilion for your backyard parties in the summer. With a few chairs and tables, it makes the perfect spot for rest, refreshment and refuge from the sun.

A clean garage is a good spot for hanging out the wash, too, when bad weather prevents use of the yard.

It's also an ideal rainy-day playground for the kids. There's room enough for active games, and there's no worry about getting under mother's feet or cluttering up newly-cleaned rooms.

And don't forget that the garage, with a little planning, is one of your most useful storage places. Even if your car makes a snug fit, you can always find shelf space above the car roof or even over the hood.

List the things you'd like your garage to be, in addition to a mere car shelter, and talk it over with your architect. That extra room you've been wanting could emerge in your backyard.

'The Asmond' Is Compact But Roomy

Rooms	Five
Bedrooms	Three
Closets	Six
Cubage: House	23,000 ft.
Garage	3,800 ft.
Dimensions	33' x 24'
Overall	58' long

From a casual glance at the compact exterior of "The Asmond," presented today by the Home of the Week Plan Service, you wouldn't suspect that inside this attractive one-story house there are five good-sized rooms — exclusive of the connecting breezeway.

Straight ground-hugging lines give an especially cozy appearance to the house. Shingles or clapboards are the suggested exterior finishes. Blinds add a friendly, decorative touch in harmony with the design of this house.

With the house proper measuring 33 by 24 feet it has an overall length — including the connecting porch and attached garage—of 58 feet. Cubage of the house is 17,500 feet; cubage of the garage is 3800 feet.

In Right Wing

Located in the right wing of the house, both regular bedrooms form a sort of unit by themselves. The all-modern bath is located between the bedrooms. These three rooms are joined by a short hallway which is connected to the central hallway and also to the living room. This arrangement provides the utmost possible privacy for the sleeping quarters.

Ample closet space and good ventilation is featured in each of the bedrooms. And, the spacious linen closet is conveniently near the bedrooms and bath alike.

Should you need a third bedroom you can easily use the den for this purpose. This room too, has a large closet and good ventilation. If you don't need this extra sleeping space you can use this room as a combination den and guest room.

No Dining Room

No dining room is provided for in this plan. But, the living room is both large enough and so planned that it can do double duty. The kitchen contains a good-sized, well-lighted breakfast nook where many family meals can be served quite comfortably.

In the working section of the kitchen counter, cabinets and appliances are conveniently close at hand. Yet, you have ample space in which to move about without feeling "hemmed in."

Access to Yard

Those families who prefer a first floor laundry can utilize the connecting porch for that purpose. There is ready access to the yard from this area. If you'd rather have your laundry in the basement place it under the kitchen or bath — and be sure to provide bulkheads for the sake of both convenience and safety.

Your heating equipment should, of course, be located under the living room.

Blueprints Available

Exposed Wood

Much of the beauty of contemporary homes comes from the exciting use of exposed wood in nearly every room, says a nationally prominent architect. He says the trend toward wood is now in full swing since homeowners have discovered they can have the charm of wood at no greater expense than most other types of walls. In the case of exposed beams and ceilings, wood is actually cheaper because roof and ceiling framing costs are eliminated.

Try Solid Color Oil Cloth Valance

Would you like your kitchen to be different? A solid color oil cloth that harmonizes well with the things in your kitchen may be made into scalloped window valances. They must be hemmed across the top where the curtain rods go through. Shades of a contrasting hue are very interesting.

Say you have a pink, gray and white kitchen, make the valances of the pink oil cloth and the shades of gray or vice versa. If your kitchen is a red and white one, make black valances and red shades, being sure that the red is the exact shade that you already have in your room.

The best part of all about these kitchen accessories is that they are so easily cleaned with a damp cloth.

Tile for Basements

The only type of resilient floor tile suitable for basement and game room floors where the concrete is in contact with the earth are asphalt tile and vinyl asbestos tile. Don't use the other types for they are not suitable for these locations.

Shokan

SHOKAN—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Adsit in the course of their recent vacation trip to the Florida east coast made stops in North Carolina and Baltimore where they attended Old School Baptist Church services. The couple in addition to hearing some inspiring old fashioned sermons by preachers of the sect, also renewed acquaintance with a number of Baptists who have visited Shokan for the "Three Days Meetings" in the century-old meeting house here. Adsit is clerk of the Olive and Hurley O.S.B. Church which was organized 150 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Estey, New York couple who have a summer home on Route 212 between Mt. Tremper and Willow, were Shokan callers Sunday. They are ardent fishermen and Estey already has landed a 16-inch rainbow trout at the junction of the Bushkill with the west basin of the Ashokan.

John Marshall, formerly town clerk of Olive for many years, and wife have returned home following a trip to Florida.

William Short, who occupied the George Hauser bungalow several years, reportedly is now making his home in Saugerties.

Lester Lawrence, Ashokan Reservoir department employe of many years service, is reported improved at a Kingston hospital.

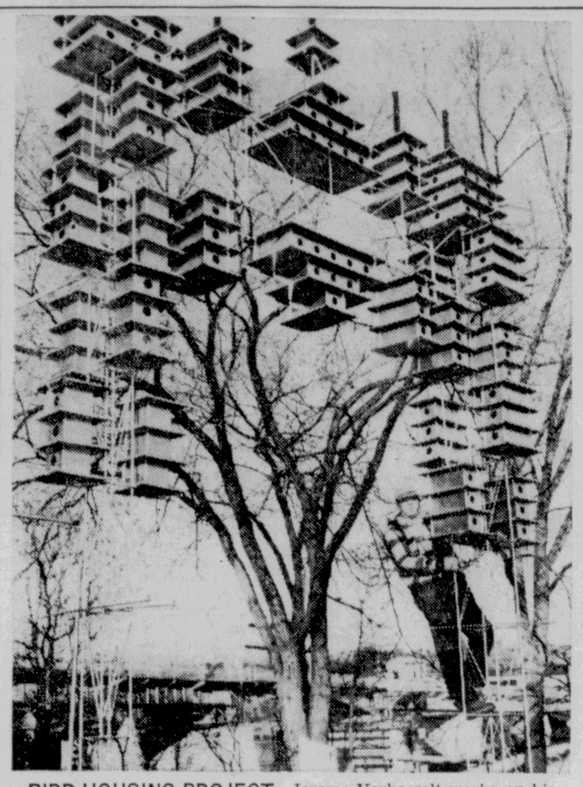

Alva Buley Sr. of the Tonche Mountain neighborhood has retired as a member of Foreman Joe Haver's state road maintenance crew.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knight of the Kingston flats were in Shokan Sunday. Their home near Route 28 is the century-old George Day house in the vicinity of the one-time Kingston & Delhi Turnpike toll gate. George Day was widely known in the mountain towns as a butcher and cattle buyer, and everyone knew that his house was near the toll gate, where country people visiting the county seat had to pay eight cents, going and coming, for each horse-drawn vehicle.

Local friends of Mr. and Mrs. George Van Kleeck are pleased that the South Olive couple have rounded out 50 years of married life.

REACHING—Arnold Shoda, star of the first American ice show to play in Russia, reaches for a red star in Moscow. He's doing his specialty the hard way—no skates.

BIRD HOUSING PROJECT—Jerome Verhasselt works on his multiple-dwelling birdhouse in Wrightstown, Wis. He has 214 apartments ready for purple martins, birds which migrate from South America each year. Houses are made of aluminum.

Lacquer Finish Keeps Beauty

Lacquer will give you a furniture finish of lasting beauty, but it isn't a finish that can be applied in a slap-dash way. Lacquer will dry completely within a couple of hours. Partly because it does dry so quickly, you have to use special care.

You can't apply lacquer over paint or varnish, so if you are refinishing an old piece, use a paint and varnish remover to take off the old finish. Check for holes and cracks and fill these with plastic wood, a bit more than full. Sand down after plastic wood has hardened.

It's important to brush the lacquer on with even strokes, lapping each only a little over previous strokes. Remove runs immediately with one, light stroke of the brush. Apply lacquer only in a dust-free room.

Directions on the can in which the lacquer comes will tell you what to use for a primer, or undercoat. When dry, this is smoothed with fine sandpaper and wiped down with a clean cloth moistened with turpentine.

Unless rubbed down, lacquer has a high gloss. For a velvety, semi-gloss finish, rub with a cloth pad moistened with linseed oil and dipped in rottenstone. Wipe clean and wax.

Nailing Important

Air Conditioning Can Save Money

Home air conditioning has advantages which tend to offset much of the operating costs of the equipment. Humidity control eliminates extreme moisture which is responsible for peeling paint and sagging wallpaper.

Closets and basement become safe for storage use, with danger of mildew and dampness virtually removed. Packaged foods stored in cabinets or on pantry shelves remain fresh longer.

A complete home air conditioning system heats the home and adds moisture to dry air in cold weather. It filters dust, soot, dirt and pollen from the air. It circulates clean air throughout the house.

Louvers Help

Home air-conditioning systems work more efficiently when louver doors are used between rooms. They also add interest to any decorating scheme with their new "textured" appearance. The tilted slats in louver doors of ponderosa pine permit cooled air to circulate more readily from room to room while still maintaining privacy. On closets, the air moving through the slats prevents must odors and deters moths.

This Way Please

In these days of houses built around patios and terraces, it is sometimes a problem to find the front door. By painting the door a bright eye-catching color, it will be easy to see. Repeat the color in the flower border and you have a truly artistic effect.

Water Test

Excessive alkali in an outdoor fish pool will kill the fish. To test the water, drop a piece of pink litmus paper in it. If it turns blue, the water is not safe for the fish. If it remains pink, the water is safe.

Veterans Rights and Benefits Listed

Howard C. Shurter, county director Veterans' Service Agency, and Charles L. Culver, state Veterans counselor, NYS Division of Veterans Affairs, submit another in a series of articles on rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen and other dependents.

Civil Service: — Applications will be accepted up to May 22, 1959, for the following New York State Civil Service positions: Senior Building Construction Engineer, Principal Stationary Engineer, Senior Stationary Engineer, Highway General Maintenance Foreman, Senior Photographer, Junior Photographer, Supervisor of Hospital Volunteer Services, Senior Statistician, Senior Training Technician, and Senior Clerk. Applications for the Senior Clerk position should be filed by May 8. June 20, 1959 is the date scheduled for all these examinations.

An examination for Stockroom Worker will be held on June 17, 1959. Applications for this NYS Civil Service position will also be accepted up to May 22.

* * *

Scholarship: — A law which created 300 additional New York State Scholarships for veterans with military or naval service during the Korean Conflict was passed in the recent Legislative session and signed by the Governor. The new scholarship provides a winner with $350 a year for up to four years of study in colleges or vocational schools in New York State.

* * *

Medical: — Cards are now available for veterans who have to wear braces, etc. because of service connected disabilities so that they can get emergency repairs locally for the braces without first obtaining VA approval.

* * *

Legislation: — Hearings have been rescheduled by the Veterans Sub-Committee of the U. S. Senate Public Works and Labor Sub-Committee on a peacetime G. I. bill for veterans entering military or naval service on or after February 1, 1955. Hearings which were scheduled earlier were cancelled because pressing Senate business gave priority to other matters.

Insurance:—A GI term policy may lapse if the premiums remain unpaid when they become due. It will also expire at the end of the term period for which it was written. Under present law, it cannot be taken up again if it expires. On the other hand, a permanent GI policy may lapse due to non-payment of premiums but it does not expire. Before a lapsed policy provides any insurance protection it must be reinstated. Reinstatement is made by meeting health requirements and paying the required premiums. In the case of lapsed term insurance, the reinstatement must take place before the term period ends.

* * *

Loans:—The VA guarantees up to sixty per cent of a GI home loan with a maximum of $7,500. The lender is guaranteed fifty per cent on farm or business loans with a maximum guarantee of $4,000 on loans involving real estate and $2,000 on loans not involving real estate. These rules apply to both World War II and Korean GI Bills.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs at the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency office at 32 Main Street, Kingston.

DRESSMAKING CLASS—The Mother Cabrini Home at West Park, one of 10 homes for dependent children coordinated under New York Catholic Charities, conducts pre-vocational classes for older girls. Teenagers, pictured above, are taught to sew and are encouraged to make their own clothes. In bright sunny classrooms in the school building erected in 1932, the girls pursue their studies in groups selected according to ability, rather than age. President Cites Kingston WAF For GOC Duties

A 20-year-old Lackland WAF, Airman Third Class Marlene E. Hollenbeck, has a letter of praise from President Eisenhower for her contribution to civil defense, it was announced today.

The President commended her for more than two years of volunteer service with the New York State Ground Observer and Civil Air Patrol.

A native of Kingston, she enlisted in the Air Force last October and is presently completing a basic medical course at San Antonio's Gateway to the Air Force Base.

Along with the letter from the White House received here she also received a certificate signed by the Air Force chief of staff, Gen. Thomas H. White, conferring an honorary membership in the Air Defense Team, Observer Corps.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hollenbeck, 347 First Avenue.

Enough Said

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Homer A. Root wanted to be excused from federal jury duty. U. S. District Judge Alfred A. Arraj wanted to know why. "Your honor, I have eight children," Root said. "Sir, you've convinced me," Judge Arraj replied. "You're excused.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Fannie Brice once said of Esther Williams: "Wet, she's a star; dry, she ain't." The same cannot be applied to Lloyd Bridges.

He was a noted actor in his own right before going under the briny in the successful TV series, "Sea Hunt." Since strapping on his aqua-lung, his career has boomed.

More Money, Too

"The series has certainly brought me more notice than anything I have ever done before as an actor," he remarked. "It has also brought me more money than anything else in my career.

"Artistic satisfaction? No, that is lacking. But fortunately, I am able to get it by doing other things when I'm not doing 'Sea Hunt.'"

The 'other things' are TV dramas, films and plays which make more use of his acting talents than the water-soaked TV show.

Can he sing? "I don't know; I haven't really tried."

Last year, he did "The Goddess" in his hiatus from "Sea Hunt." So far, he hasn't found a satisfactory script for a 1959 movie — "The nice part about having a series is that you don't have to take just anything that comes along."

More Independence

It appears that he will enjoy such independence for some time. "Sea Hunt" is going into the last part of its second year of films, and the producers foresee a five or six-year run. The show has been a smashing success in syndication, yet the networks passed it up.

"I guess they were all wrapped up in Westerns," Bridges observed.

The public has shown it is interested in adventure under the water as well as on the plains.

Acme Will Vote On Proposal to End Store Strike

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Acme market employes vote today on a company proposal that would end the month-long dispute that has closed 127 stores in New Jersey and New York.

The company proposal, details of which were not divulged, was received Friday by negotiators for Local 1245 of the retail food clerks, representing some 3,600 employes.

The employes will vote at 4 p.m. at the Mosque Ballroom here.

The workers, in stores from Middletown, N. Y., to Point Pleasant, N. J., and in four stores on Staten Island, N. Y., have been idle since March 26.

The company has called the dispute a strike. The union has termed it a lockout.

Youth Traffic Victim

PALATINE BRIDGE, N. Y. (AP)—John Lalik Jr., 14, of Palatine Bridge, was killed Friday when the automobile in which he was riding struck an embankment on a rural road and overturned near this Mohawk Valley village.

FBI Holds Pair In Frisco for Idlewild Theft

NEW YORK (AP) — The FBI has arrested two men in San Francisco in connection with the theft of $85,000 in cash and money orders from an American Express office at Idlewild Airport here last Sunday.

A bandit pair kidnaped a clerk after he left the company's office, forced him at gunpoint to give them the combination to the office safe and the keys to the office.

The company said about $5,000 in cash was missing, along with about $3,000 in foreign currency, about $16,000 in money orders and about $60,000 in traveler's checks.

The FBI reported it had recovered more than $10,000 in stolen money orders and traveler's checks.

The FBI identified the men, arrested Friday as Michael Zaffarano, 36, an ex-convict, and Vincent Potenza, 32, whose police record showed a previous arrest on a charge of breaking and entering.

Federal agents said $2,000 worth of stolen money orders was found in Zaffarano's possession and he admitted cashing $1,000 worth of other stolen money orders at San Francisco's International Airport.

Potenza had placed $9,000 worth of traveler's checks taken from Idlewild in a locker at the San Francisco air terminal, where they were recovered, the FBI said.

Both men were charged with conspiracy to transport stolen property in excess of $5,000 in interstate commerce.

NYU, Nashville School Censured For 2 Dismissals

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two universities have been placed on the censured list of the American Assn. of University Professors for dismissing faculty members without what the association considers just cause.

The association voted Friday to censure New York University and Fisk University of Nashville, Tenn., which dismissed professors called on to testify before congressional committees investigating Communist activities.

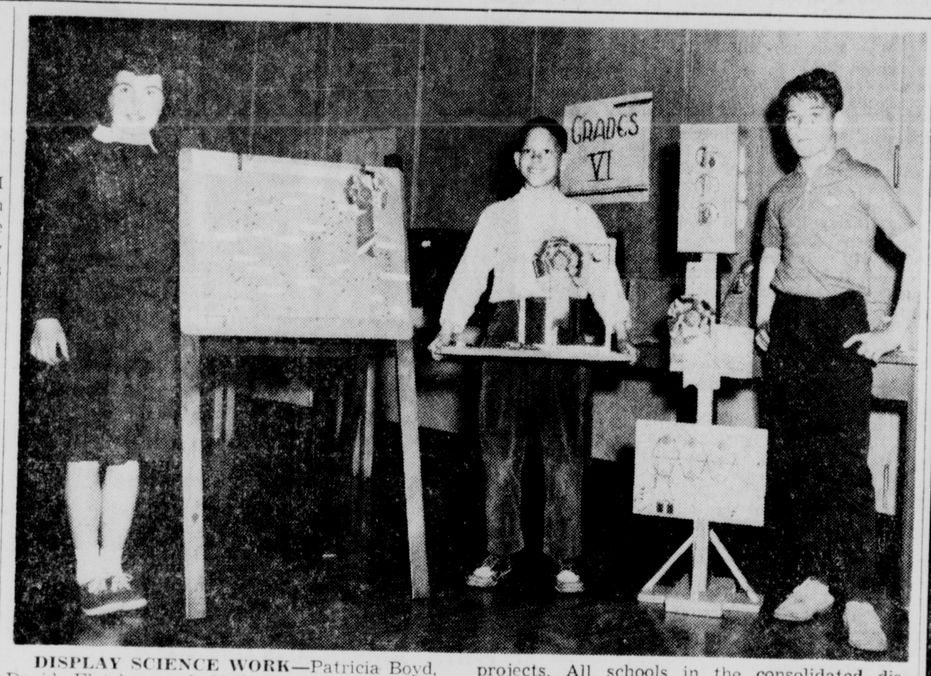

The action against New York University resulted from dismissing Professor Lyman Bradley in 1951 and Professor Edwin Bergum in 1953.

Bradley declined to answer questions while testifying before the House Un-American Activities Committee and later served a 90-day jail term for contempt of Congress.

Burgum was dismissed after invoking the First and Fifth amendments during testimony before the Senate subcommittee on internal security.

Fisk University was censured for not renewing the appointment of Professor Lee Lorch, who invoked the First Amendment while testifying before the House Un-American Activities Committee in 1954.

The association said the two schools violated academic freedom and the rights of due process of the faculty members involved.

'Pro' Politicos Essential, Is DeSapio View

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—Tammany leader Carmine De Sapio vigorously defended the professional politician in an address to Princeton University undergraduates Friday night.

The local party clubhouse and the professional politician are not objects to be scorned but essential parts of the American democratic system, he told the students.

De Sapio is a Democratic national committeeman as well as chairman of the New York County (Manhattan) Democratic Committee.

He and some of his associates have been under attack by a group headed by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, former Gov. Herbert Lehman and Thomas K. Finletter, former Air Force secretary. The group has accused De Sapio and the others of perpetuating boss rule of the Democratic party. De Sapio has heatedly denied the charges.

Thruway Testing Ticket Dispensers

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The State Thruway Authority is experimenting with a help-yourself, toll-ticket dispenser.

Automobile drivers entering the superhighway Friday at the Washington Avenue interchange here had the choice of pushing two buttons—one to obtain a regular toll ticket, the other to get a ticket for a car that carries an annual Thruway permit plate.

The Authority said that, if the experiment proved successful, dispensing machines probably would be installed at other interchanges.

Acme Will Vote On Proposal to End Store Strike

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Acme market employes vote today on a company proposal that would end the month-long dispute that has closed 127 stores in New Jersey and New York.

The company proposal, details of which were not divulged, was received Friday by negotiators for Local 1245 of the retail food clerks, representing some 3,600 employes.

The employes will vote at 4 p.m. at the Mosque Ballroom here.

The workers, in stores from Middletown, N. Y., to Point Pleasant, N. J., and in four stores on Staten Island, N. Y., have been idle since March 26.

The company has called the dispute a strike. The union has termed it a lockout.

FBI Holds Pair In Frisco for Idlewild Theft

NEW YORK (AP) — The FBI has arrested two men in San Francisco in connection with the theft of $85,000 in cash and money orders from an American Express office at Idlewild Airport here last Sunday.

A bandit pair kidnaped a clerk after he left the company's office, forced him at gunpoint to give them the combination to the office safe and the keys to the office.

The company said about $5,000 in cash was missing, along with about $3,000 in foreign currency, about $16,000 in money orders and about $60,000 in traveler's checks.

The FBI reported it had recovered more than $10,000 in stolen money orders and traveler's checks.

The FBI identified the men, arrested Friday as Michael Zaffarano, 36, an ex-convict, and Vincent Potenza, 32, whose police record showed a previous arrest on a charge of breaking and entering.

Federal agents said $2,000 worth of stolen money orders was found in Zaffarano's possession and he admitted cashing $1,000 worth of other stolen money orders at San Francisco's International Airport.

Potenza had placed $9,000 worth of traveler's checks taken from Idlewild in a locker at the San Francisco air terminal, where they were recovered, the FBI said.

Both men were charged with conspiracy to transport stolen property in excess of $5,000 in interstate commerce.

NYU, Nashville School Censured For 2 Dismissals

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two universities have been placed on the censured list of the American Assn. of University Professors for dismissing faculty members without what the association considers just cause.

The association voted Friday to censure New York University and Fisk University of Nashville, Tenn., which dismissed professors called on to testify before congressional committees investigating Communist activities.

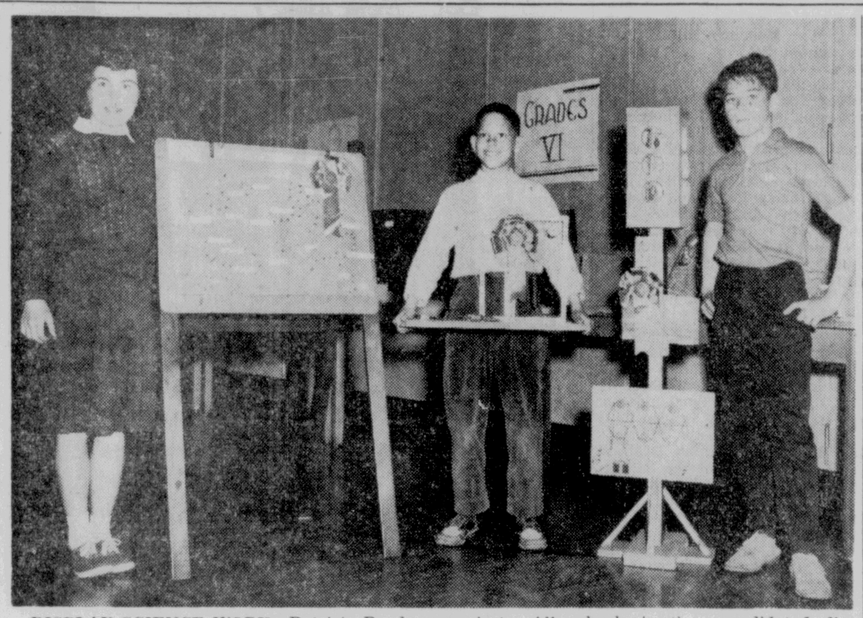

The action against New York University resulted from dismissing Professor Lyman Bradley in 1951 and Professor Edwin Bergum in 1953.

Bradley declined to answer questions while testifying before the House Un-American Activities Committee and later served a 90-day jail term for contempt of Congress.

Burgum was dismissed after invoking the First and Fifth amendments during testimony before the Senate subcommittee on internal security.

Fisk University was censured for not renewing the appointment of Professor Lee Lorch, who invoked the First Amendment while testifying before the House Un-American Activities Committee in 1954.

The association said the two schools violated academic freedom and the rights of due process of the faculty members involved.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

FAITH AMERICANS LIVE BY- 4

The golf pro chased after a caddie who had stolen a box of golf balls and caught up with him just as a minister was passing by.

"I wish you had built your church closer," said the embarrassed pro, "then we could have taken the boys to Sunday school."

"Maybe we can bring the church to them," answered the minister, and the germ of an idea was born.

The Louisville Country Club's unique "ninth hole Sunday school," where caddies gather around a green to hear about God, has been in operation five years now. Members are amazed at the change that has come over the boys.

First, the classes were taught by seminary students. Then one Sunday, Bernard Alwes, a professional sign painter and himself a former caddie at the club, went out to give the boys a chalk talk on faith. He's been doing it ever since.

Bernie admits he is no theologian, but he sets up his easel on the edge of the green and talks to the boys in a language they understand, illustrating his main points with deft sketches.

It's been quite a while now since the pro has had to chase after caddies for swiping golf balls, and there's no doubt that the Ninth Hole Sunday School has had a lot to do with it.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

FAITH AMERICANS LIVE BY- 4

The golf pro chased after a caddie who had stolen a box of golf balls and caught up with him just as a minister was passing by.

"I wish you had built your church closer," said the embarrassed pro, "then we could have taken the boys to Sunday school."

"Maybe we can bring the church to them," answered the minister, and the germ of an idea was born.

The Louisville Country Club's unique "ninth hole Sunday school," where caddies gather around a green to hear about God, has been in operation five years now. Members are amazed at the change that has come over the boys.

First, the classes were taught by seminary students. Then one Sunday, Bernard Alwes, a professional sign painter and himself a former caddie at the club, went out to give the boys a chalk talk on faith. He's been doing it ever since.

Bernie admits he is no theologian, but he sets up his easel on the edge of the green and talks to the boys in a language they understand, illustrating his main points with deft sketches.

It's been quite a while now since the pro has had to chase after caddies for swiping golf balls, and there's no doubt that the Ninth Hole Sunday School has had a lot to do with it.

Your Life And Mine

THE DAY OF MIRACLES

The person who thinks the day of miracles is past is blind—or has lost his bearings. He is like the fish that heard it rumored there was such a thing as water. He swam all around looking for some water; and inquired of every brother fish he met if it was true that there was water in the world. We live so constantly with, and by, miracles that we lose the ability to see how wonderful they are.

Everything, really, is a miracle. How do I write these lines? Well, first I do a lot of scratch writing, and re-writing, with a pencil; and then bring it into some final form for publication by punching it out on my typewriter. But there isn't a person in all the world who can explain how a hand can push a pencil or fingers manipulate a trpewriter. There is a story about a heathen who was led to a belief in God by observing what he called "the hinges in his fingers." What miracle resides there! In the truest sense nothing, not even the most ordinary things, is understandable. Emerson once called "churches" to account for giving a false impression concerning miracles. Miracles, he said, is "one with the blowing clover and the falling rain."

Everything is miraculous. And miracle is but another name for God. As Elizabeth Barrett Browning wrote:

"Great things are made of little things,
And little things go less'ning, until at last
Comes God behind them."

There is no real explanation for anything except to say that God fashioned it—or established the conditions for its possibility. William Jennings Bryan once replied to the sceptics who say, "Oh, the miracles, I can't accept miracles," in these words: "One may drop a brown seed in the black soil and up comes a green shoot. You let it grow and by and by you pull up its roots and you will find red. You cut the red root and find it has a white heart. Can any one tell how this comes about—how brown cast into black results in green and then in red and white? Yet you eat your radish without troubling your minds over miracles." And then Bryan added: "Men are not distressed by miracles in the dining room; they reserve them all for religion.

Actually a radish, with all of its inherent mystery, is—in one sense—a very effective preacher of religion. This spring day, with all of its budding possibilities, is a day of miracles—as is every day! No one has stated that great truth better than Alfred Lord Tennyson when he wrote:

"Flower in the crannied wall,
I pluck you out of the crannies,
I hold you here, root and all, in my hand.
Little Flower — but if I could understand
What you are, root and all, and all in all,
I should know what God and man is."

Accord Methodist Church Starts Drive for Funds

The Accord Methodist Church has started a campaign to raise $4,500 for repairs and renovation of the church buildings.

As part of the campaign jars have been placed in several of the local stores for contributions. Any donor leaving his name and address in the jar will be sent a receipt for income tax purposes.

Board Receptive To Establishment Of Light District

At a recent meeting of the Town Board the members were receptive to the idea of a special lighting district being formed so that street lights could be installed on Duzine Road, Pine Crest Road, Joalyn Road, Cicero Avenue, Cherry Hill Road, and other streets in these sections if the residents want them.

Supervisor Richard W. Lent said in order to put lights on town roads it is necessary to form a special lighting district to pay for the street lights. The law requires that owners of at least fifty per cent of the assessed valuation in the section where the street lights are wanted must sign a petition to be presented to the board.

Lent said that the cost of a street light runs from $45 to $75 a year depending on the size. If enough people were interested, a meeting could be held with the Town Board to explain costs and the town attorney could draw up a petition.

Lent also reported that he had signed a contract with Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. for a street light at the corner of Route 32 and Jennings Road.

Supervisor Lent reported that he had received a check for $115.64 from the New York Insurance Rating Organization which will be turned over to New Paltz Fire Department. This organization taxes insurance companies that operate in New York State five per cent and the tax is divided among the fire companies.

The board authorized a transfer of $1,000 from the general fund to the machinery fund.

The board accepted the invitation of the American Legion to take part in the Memorial Day parade, and also the invitation of Frederick Appleton, superintendent of the Highland Training School for Boys, for dinner at the school on April 27.

8 File Petitions For School Board Election May 6

Eight persons have now filed petitions to be candidates for New Paltz Central School Board in the election to be held on May 6.

They are: Henry Tifverman, Joseph Foley, Harry Cornwell and Robert Kaelin, all running for the same position. The opening was created by the expiration of the term of Walter Dyer. John Ashton Jr., and Mrs. Catherine Jacobson, incumbents, are each running for reelection.

Kaelin is a resident of Gardiner. Tifverman is a village patrolman. Cornwell, who is a Cornell University graduate, holds a position at IBM. Robert Donnan is a resident of the town and is also employed at IBM. Joseph Kerrigan has been actively interested in civic affairs for the past few years and has been a candidate for the school board at previous elections. Joseph Foley is a village resident and employed at IBM.

Ashton and Mrs. Jacobson served terms on the board. They are both residents of the village and active in town and village affairs.

Study Club Plans Bus Tour May 5

The bus for the tour of New Paltz Study Club to the Sleepy Hollow Restorations will leave the Municipal Building at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday, May 5.

The first stop will be for luncheon at noon at Patricia Murphy's Candlelight Restaurant, Yonkers.

In the afternoon the tour will visit Sunnyside, the home of Washington Irving, and Philipse Castle, a mansion house of the early Dutch period in America.

A check, which includes transportation, luncheon at Patricia Murphy's and admissions to the reservations, should be sent to Mrs. Hubert Stern-Montagny, Gardiner by Tuesday, April 28, to confirm reservations for the tour.

Screws will go into wood easier if the threads are first rubbed with soap.

THE DAY OF MIRACLES

The person who thinks the day of miracles is past is blind—or has lost his bearings. He is like the fish that heard it rumored there was such a thing as water. He swam all around looking for some water; and inquired of every brother fish he met if it was true that there was water in the world. We live so constantly with, and by, miracles that we lose the ability to see how wonderful they are.

Everything, really, is a miracle. How do I write these lines? Well, first I do a lot of scratch writing, and re-writing, with a pencil; and then bring it into some final form for publication by punching it out on my typewriter. But there isn't a person in all the world who can explain how a hand can push a pencil or fingers manipulate a trpewriter. There is a story about a heathen who was led to a belief in God by observing what he called "the hinges in his fingers," What miracle resides there! In the truest sense nothing, not even the most ordinary things, is understandable. Emerson once called "churches" to account for giving a false impression concerning miracles. Miracles, he said, is "one with the blowing clover and the falling rain."

Everything is miraculous. And miracle is but another name for God. As Elizabeth Barrett Browning wrote:

"Great things are made of little things,
Comes God behind them."

There is no real explanation for anything except to say that God fashioned it—or established the conditions for its possibility. William Jennings Bryan once replied to the sceptics who say, "Oh, the miracles, I can't accept miracles," in these words: "One may drop a brown seed in the black soil and up comes a green shoot. You let it grow and by and by you pull up its roots and you will find red. You cut the red root and find it has a white heart. Can any one tell how this comes about—how brown cast into black results in green and then in red and white? Yet you eat your radish without troubling your minds over miracles." And then Bryan added: "Men are not distressed by miracles in the dining room; they reserve them all for religion.

Actually a radish, with all of its inherent mystery, is—in one sense—a very effective preacher of religion. This spring day, with all of its budding possibilities, is a day of miracles—as is every day! No one has stated that great truth better than Alfred Lord Tennyson when he wrote: "Flower in the crannied wall,
I pluck you out of the crannies,
I hold you here, root and all, in my hand.
Little Flower — but if I could understand
What you are, root and all, and all in all,
I should know what God and man is."

Board Receptive To Establishment Of Light District

At a recent meeting of the Town Board the members were receptive to the idea of a special lighting district being formed so that street lights could be installed on Duzine Road, Pine Crest Road, Joalyn Road, Cicero Avenue, Cherry Hill Road, and other streets in these sections if the residents want them.

Supervisor Richard W. Lent said in order to put lights on town roads it is necessary to form a special lighting district to pay for the street lights. The law requires that owners of at least fifty per cent of the assessed valuation in the section where the street lights are wanted must sign a petition to be presented to the board.

Lent said that the cost of a street light runs from $45 to $75 a year depending on the size. If enough people were interested, a meeting could be held with the Town Board to explain costs and the town attorney could draw up a petition.

Lent also reported that he had signed a contract with Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. for a street light at the corner of Route 32 and Jennings Road.

Supervisor Lent reported that he had received a check for $115.64 from the New York Insurance Rating Organization which will be turned over to New Paltz Fire Department. This organization taxes insurance companies that operate in New York State five per cent and the tax is divided among the fire companies.

The board authorized a transfer of $1,000 from the general fund to the machinery fund.

The board accepted the invitation of the American Legion to take part in the Memorial Day parade, and also the invitation of Frederick Appleton, superintendent of the Highland Training School for Boys, for dinner at the school on April 27.

Kaelin is a resident of Gardiner. Tifverman is a village patrolman. Cornwell, who is a Cornell University graduate, holds a position at IBM. Robert Donnan is a resident of the town and is also employed at IBM. Joseph Kerrigan has been actively interested in civic affairs for the past few years and has been a candidate for the school board at previous elections. Joseph Foley is a village resident and employed at IBM.

Ashton and Mrs. Jacobson served terms on the board. They are both residents of the village and active in town and village affairs.

In the afternoon the tour will visit Sunnyside, the home of Washington Irving, and Philipse Castle, a mansion house of the early Dutch period in America.

FINISHING EVERYTHING ON ONE'S PLATE

Dear Mrs. Post: Maybe my parents were old-fashioned, but I was always taught to finish everything on my plate, and I have always adhered to this practice. I have noticed, however, that many supposedly well-brought-up people always leave a part of their food on the plate. One person explained to me that it was the proper thing to do that it meant you had more than enough to eat, and to finish everything on your plate meant that you were still hungry and could eat more. Maybe I have been disgracing myself all these years, but to me it seems such a silly waste of food, and furthermore in my opinion, a clean plate indicates that you really enjoyed your food.

Answer: I agree with you thoroughly from beginning to end. Leaving food on your plate on purpose would be very unappreciative of your hostesses food.

Requesting a Special Tune

Dear Mrs. Post: Next week I will be dining with a group to celebrate a friend's birthday. The orchestra at this restaurant plays special music on request. To whom would I speak to request a song and am I expected to tip anyone. If so, what would be a suitable amount?

Answer: You speak to the orchestra leader, or ask your waiter to do so for you. In either case a dollar tip to the leader would be enough unless it is a very expensive restaurant.

A Man and Woman Are Introduced

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I have a wager of one dollar on the following question which we would like you to settle. When a man and woman are introduced, is it, or is it not, proper for her to extend her hand in greeting?

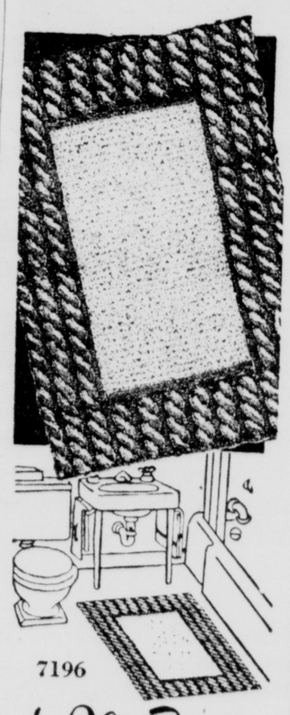

Answer: It is correct for her to proffer her hand, but it would not be discourteous on her part to fail to do so.

Her fitted headpiece was of matching organza petals with a circular veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of violets and pink sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Michael Nieckarg of Syracuse and Mrs. Ted Levine of New York City, were attendants. They were similarly attired in aqua silk organza, and also carried colonial bouquets of pink sweetheart roses, trimmed with violets.

Girl Scout News

The Camping Chairman of the Ulster County Girl Scout Council, Mrs. Robert Greene, Woodstock, is expecting a capacity enrollment at Camp Wendy, near Wallkill, for the summer season. Already registrations for camp are rolling in, and the camping committee is holding the registrations of out-of-county Scouts until May 1 in order to give Ulster County girls first chance at the available spaces.

Miss Barbara Plate of West Englewood, N. J., who has directed the camp for two previous summers, will return for the third summer in this position. Miss Joyce Birdsall, assistant director and program director, is also returning for the third season. A staff of 27 well qualified persons have been selected as unit leaders, program consultants, dietitian, cooks, nurse, and assistants. They will arrive a week before the opening of camp for a training course with the director.

Three two-weeks encampments are scheduled, the first from July 5 to 18; the second from July 19 to August 1; the third from August 2 to August 15. Registered Brownies and Scouts will be given first choice of places. Non-Scouts or out-of-county Scouts will be registered, if space is available, for a higher fee. Camp Wendy has for many years been a favorite camp of many girls from distant areas, some of these returning year after year to the Ulster County camp.

A total of 96 campers may be accommodated each session.

FINISHING EVERYTHING ON ONE'S PLATE

Dear Mrs. Post: Maybe my parents were old-fashioned, but I was always taught to finish everything on my plate, and I have always adhered to this practice. I have noticed, however, that many supposedly well-brought-up people always leave a part of their food on the plate. One person explained to me that it was the proper thing to do that it meant you had more than enough to eat, and to finish everything on your plate meant that you were still hungry and could eat more. Maybe I have been disgracing myself all these years, but to me it seems such a silly waste of food, and furthermore in my opinion, a clean plate indicates that you really enjoyed your food.

Answer: I agree with you thoroughly from beginning to end. Leaving food on your plate on purpose would be very unappreciative of your hostesses food.

Requesting a Special Tune

Dear Mrs. Post: Next week I will be dining with a group to celebrate a friend's birthday. The orchestra at this restaurant plays special music on request. To whom would I speak to request a song and am I expected to tip anyone. If so, what would be a suitable amount?

Answer: You speak to the orchestra leader, or ask your waiter to do so for you. In either case a dollar tip to the leader would be enough unless it is a very expensive restaurant.

A Man and Woman Are Introduced

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I have a wager of one dollar on the following question which we would like you to settle. When a man and woman are introduced, is it, or is it not, proper for her to extend her hand in greeting?

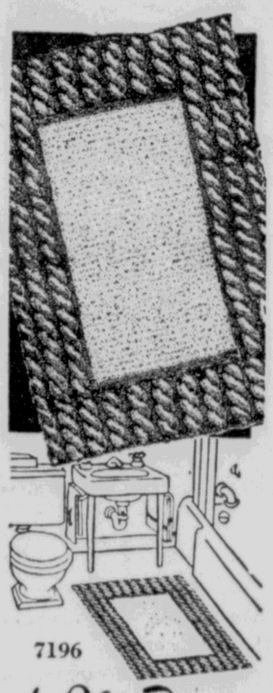

Answer: It is correct for her to proffer her hand, but it would not be discourteous on her part to fail to do so.

Chambers School Lists Boundaries For May 5 Vote

A simple mimeograph map of the Chambers School Election District No. 13 and an explanation of the boundaries has been distributed to residents of that area, John Vines, a candidate for the Greater Kingston Board of Education, announced today.

The information is in connection with voting on May 5 on two board members, to fill vacancies and for balloting on the proposed $5,980,000 school bond issue.

Now On '50 Group'

Vines, former president of the Chambers School Board of Education and now serving as a member of the Committee of Fifty, said the material is for the purpose of clearing up any possible misunderstandings as to where residents of the Chambers School area should vote.

He explained that if you study the map of the Chambers voting district carefully "you will notice that the area around the Chambers School will vote at the Chambers School.

"This will include residents of Ulster No. 8 living east of Esopus creek and residents of Ulster No. 8 living north of the city of Kingston. It will also include the part of the Lake Katrine District (Ulster No. 4) east of 9W and south of the Tuytenbridge Road and residents living on the west side of Route 32 between the Tuytenbridge Road and residents living on the west side of Route 32 between the Tuytenbridge Road and the city of Kingston.

"Residents of Ulster No. 8 living on the north side of Route 28 will vote at Lake Katrine School. This will include the Brabrant road and the Sawkill road.

May Contact Russell

"Residents of Ulster No. 8 living on the south side of Route 28 and the residents living south or west of the city of Kingston will vote at the Hurley School. This will include Lucas Avenue Extension, Hurley Avenue, Linderman Avenue, Rosendale Road (Boulevard) and the Miller's Lane area."

Vines said if there is any question about where to vote or when to vote, contact Principal Reginald Russell of the Chambers School.

He said he strongly urged everyone who has a right to vote to get out and vote. Efforts will be made to provide transportation for those needing it.

Matter of FACT

In ancient Greek times Aristotle observed that light traveled in a straight line. His curiosity was stimulated when he noted that the light that came through a tiny hole in the wall of a darkened room cast on the opposite wall an inverted image of the scene outside. What he saw was the phenomenon which makes the modern camera possible.

Grandparents Day Acclaimed Big Success in OCS Schools

With all returns in, Friday, April 17, has been acclaimed a red letter day for many grandparents. On that day a record number attended a special series of programs held in their honor at the various Onteora Central Schools District. Grandparents were greeted by the children and members of the faculty in a series of events sponsored by the various Parent-Teacher Associations.

Twenty five pround grandparents witnessed their grandchildren learning the Rs at Woodstock. Mrs. Edohnken was extremely proud, as she observed class sessions of her great-grandchildren, Lary and Louise Potter.

Prof. H. A. Schimmerling conducted the children in a preview performance of his spring choral program. The grandparents were served punch, tea and cookies by Mrs. Sylvia Horsey and Mrs. Ruth Kinns.

At West Hurley

Grandparents entering the West Hurley school were greeted by a large white sunflower-bordered sign, "Welcome Grandparents." The motif was duplicated on the name tags which the guests received in the office, after hearing a brief speech of greetings by Donald Baines, principal.

Guides then escorted the visitors around the building, pointing out drawings made by the various grades. The programs in each of the classrooms. Mrs. Ruth Heisman led the Kindergarten in activity games and songs. The third and fourth grade teachers, Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Elsie Etienne had their classes read. A spelling bee highlighted the activity of Mrs. Maude Corregan's fifth grade.

The path of the afternoon's events led the grandparents to the Fire Hall where the school band, conducted by Anthony Hummel, played among other Barcarolle, Little Star, Old McDonald, and a selection from the opera "Martha." The young musicians received an enthusiastic ovation. Refreshments were served following the concert. A white cake, beautifully decorated with pink roses, centered the table. Cake, cookies, tea and coffee were served by Mrs. Arthur Knight, P-TA president, and Mrs. Andrew Horvath, vice-president.

Phoenicia Program

The 12 grandparents who visited the Phoenicia kindergarten at 2 p. m. were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Elsie Dibble and her 22 pupils. The class sang action songs and nursery rhymes and four solos were sung. Cookies and punch were served later in the day.

Highlight of the grandparents day at Pine Hill was an informal panel discussion, entitled "What Was It Like When Grandmother Went to School." Mrs. Cora Ford, teacher, was the moderator of the group comprised of students and seven visiting grandparents. Some of the children were curious about the water supply; drinking water from a dipper and the school supplies, the use of individual blackboards and chalk. Pink carnations were pinned on the visitors. Tea and cupcakes, donated by the P-TA, were served by the children at 2:30 p. m.

Activities at Onteora

Grandparents arrived at Onteora at 1 p. m. and assembled in the school auditorium where the P-TA hostesses presented them with name tags. These hostesses took the visitors on a guided tour of the elementary grades, showed exhibits of old school textbooks and photos of old one-room school houses. At 2 p. m., all returned to the assembly for a special program.

Principal John H. Moehle introduced his grandmother to the audience in a charming welcome address. Mrs. Rosch's kindergarten opened the entertainment with a lively adaptation of the Hokey-Pokey and Riga-Jig-Jig. The strings of the beginning violin class blended harmoniously on the melodies of "Waltz" by Romberg and Old McDonald's Farm."

Celloists Anthony Lent and Andrew Savage of the fifth and sixth grades gave performances of Waltz in G, In the Garden, and Now the Day Is Over. Miss Bateman was the instructor of the strings. With Miss Bateman at the piano and Earl Proper leading, the fourth, fifth and sixth grades responded heartily to such partner songs as "Can Can" and "Buffalo Gals."

The Junior Band, with Harry Simon conducting, gave noteworthy renditions of "Pleyels Hymn" and "Steal Away." The last act was a reverse—two grandfathers entertaining the grandchildren. Carlton Hoyt at the guitar and William Spanhake Sr. strumming a fiddle, sang songs of their grandparents, kept the audience spellbound.

Refreshments were served by the P-TA in the cafeteria at 3 p. m. The Grandparents Day celebration was best expressed by a grandmother who said: "Grandparents are often in the background. How sweet of you to honor us. We certainly did shine today."

Chambers School Lists Boundaries For May 5 Vote

A simple mimeograph map of the Chambers School Election District No. 13 and an explanation of the boundaries has been distributed to residents of that area, John Vines, a candidate for the Greater Kingston Board of Education, announced today.

The information is in connection with voting on May 5 on two board members, to fill vacancies and for balloting on the proposed $5,980,000 school bond issue.

Now On '50 Group'

Vines, former president of the Chambers School Board of Education and now serving as a member of the Committee of Fifty, said the material is for the purpose of clearing up any possible misunderstandings as to where residents of the Chambers School area should vote.

He explained that if you study the map of the Chambers voting district carefully "you will notice that the area around the Chambers School will vote at the Chambers School.

"This will include residents of Ulster No. 8 living east of Esopus creek and residents of Ulster No. 8 living north of the city of Kingston. It will also include the part of the Lake Katrine District (Ulster No. 4) east of 9W and south of the Tuytenbridge Road and residents living on the west side of Route 32 between the Tuytenbridge Road and residents living on the west side of Route 32 between the Tuytenbridge Road and the city of Kingston.

"Residents of Ulster No. 8 living on the north side of Route 28 will vote at Lake Katrine School. This will include the Brabrant road and the Sawkill road.

May Contact Russell

"Residents of Ulster No. 8 living on the south side of Route 28 and the residents living south or west of the city of Kingston will vote at the Hurley School. This will include Lucas Avenue Extension, Hurley Avenue, Linderman Avenue, Rosendale Road (Boulevard) and the Miller's Lane area."

Vines said if there is any question about where to vote or when to vote, contact Principal Reginald Russell of the Chambers School.

He said he strongly urged everyone who has a right to vote to get out and vote. Efforts will be made to provide transportation for those needing it.

Matter of FACT

In ancient Greek times Aristotle observed that light traveled in a straight line. His curiosity was stimulated when he noted that the light that came through a tiny hole in the wall of a darkened room cast on the opposite wall an inverted image of the scene outside. What he saw was the phenomenon which makes the modern camera possible.

Grandparents Day Acclaimed Big Success in OCS Schools

With all returns in, Friday, April 17, has been acclaimed a red letter day for many grandparents. On that day a record number attended a special series of programs held in their honor at the various Onteora Central Schools District. Grandparents were greeted by the children and members of the faculty in a series of events sponsored by the various Parent-Teacher Associations.

Twenty five pround grandparents witnessed their grandchildren learning the Rs at Woodstock. Mrs. Edohnken was extremely proud, as she observed class sessions of her great-grandchildren, Lary and Louise Potter.

Prof. H. A. Schimmerling conducted the children in a preview performance of his spring choral program. The grandparents were served punch, tea and cookies by Mrs. Sylvia Horsey and Mrs. Ruth Kinns.

At West Hurley

Grandparents entering the West Hurley school were greeted by a large white sunflower-bordered sign, "Welcome Grandparents." The motif was duplicated on the name tags which the guests received in the office, after hearing a brief speech of greetings by Donald Baines, principal.

Guides then escorted the visitors around the building, pointing out drawings made by the various grades. The programs in each of the classrooms. Mrs. Ruth Heisman led the Kindergarten in activity games and songs. The third and fourth grade teachers, Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Elsie Etienne had their classes read. A spelling bee highlighted the activity of Mrs. Maude Corregan's fifth grade.

The path of the afternoon's events led the grandparents to the Fire Hall where the school band, conducted by Anthony Hummel, played among other Barcarolle, Little Star, Old McDonald, and a selection from the opera "Martha." The young musicians received an enthusiastic ovation. Refreshments were served following the concert. A white cake, beautifully decorated with pink roses, centered the table. Cake, cookies, tea and coffee were served by Mrs. Arthur Knight, P-TA president, and Mrs. Andrew Horvath, vice-president.

Phoenicia Program

The 12 grandparents who visited the Phoenicia kindergarten at 2 p. m. were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Elsie Dibble and her 22 pupils. The class sang action songs and nursery rhymes and four solos were sung. Cookies and punch were served later in the day.

Highlight of the grandparents day at Pine Hill was an informal panel discussion, entitled "What Was It Like When Grandmother Went to School." Mrs. Cora Ford, teacher, was the moderator of the group comprised of students and seven visiting grandparents. Some of the children were curious about the water supply; drinking water from a dipper and the school supplies, the use of individual blackboards and chalk. Pink carnations were pinned on the visitors. Tea and cupcakes, donated by the P-TA, were served by the children at 2:30 p. m.

Activities at Onteora

Grandparents arrived at Onteora at 1 p. m. and assembled in the school auditorium where the P-TA hostesses presented them with name tags. These hostesses took the visitors on a guided tour of the elementary grades, showed exhibits of old school textbooks and photos of old one-room school houses. At 2 p. m., all returned to the assembly for a special program.

Principal John H. Moehle introduced his grandmother to the audience in a charming welcome address. Mrs. Rosch's kindergarten opened the entertainment with a lively adaptation of the Hokey-Pokey and Riga-Jig-Jig. The strings of the beginning violin class blended harmoniously on the melodies of "Waltz" by Romberg and Old McDonald's Farm."

Celloists Anthony Lent and Andrew Savage of the fifth and sixth grades gave performances of Waltz in G, In the Garden, and Now the Day Is Over. Miss Bateman was the instructor of the strings. With Miss Bateman at the piano and Earl Proper leading, the fourth, fifth and sixth grades responded heartily to such partner songs as "Can Can" and "Buffalo Gals."

The Junior Band, with Harry Simon conducting, gave noteworthy renditions of "Pleyels Hymn" and "Steal Away." The last act was a reverse—two grandfathers entertaining the grandchildren. Carlton Hoyt at the guitar and William Spanhake Sr. strumming a fiddle, sang songs of their grandparents, kept the audience spellbound.

Refreshments were served by the P-TA in the cafeteria at 3 p. m. The Grandparents Day celebration was best expressed by a grandmother who said: "Grandparents are often in the background. How sweet of you to honor us. We certainly did shine today."

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME (Registered U. S. Patent Office) By JIMMY HATLO

Girl, 19, Slays Father; Argued Over Treatment

NEW YORK (AP)—A 19-year-old girl shot and killed her ex-convict father Friday night after an argument over what she called his repeated mistreatment of her.

The girl, Marlene Rossi of Brooklyn, grabbed a .22 caliber rifle and fired a bullet into the head of her father, Andrew, 50.

The father was sentenced to Sing Sing prison after conviction on a manslaughter charge about the time Marlene was born. He was released about a year ago.

Rossi was estranged from his wife, Caroline, also 50.

Marlene said her father had often abused and struck her. She told police he came to her mother's apartment last night and said, "If you go to the police and say anything, I'll kill you all."

The girl said her mother and she had warned Rossi they would go to authorities if he did not change his ways.

Marlene said her father, during their quarrel in the living room, started for the kitchen and she feared he was going for a knife. It was then, she said, she seized the rifle and fired the shot. She was booked on a homicide charge.

This definition, however, shall not be deemed to be exclusive. Second hand materials and articles of similar kind and character shall be deemed to be included within the foregoing definition.

C. Junk dealer: The term "junk dealer" means a person who collects, purchases, stores, sells, disposes of, dismantles, destroys, burns or salvages junk as defined herein either exclusively or incidental to some other business conducted on the premises. The storing of two or more disabled vehicles or machines for a period of ten days shall be presumptive evidence that the person in control of the premises is a junk dealer within the meaning of this ordinance.

SECTION III
APPLICATION OF ORDINANCE

No person shall engage in or conduct business as a junk dealer in the Town of Hurley, Ulster County, New York without first obtaining a license therefor as hereinafter provided.

SECTION IV
LICENSING OF JUNK DEALERS

B. Issuance of License: If the Town Clerk finds the application contains the necessary information and the application fee has been paid, the Clerk shall schedule a public hearing to be held by the Town Board upon notice published once in a newspaper of general circulation within the town at least ten days before the hearing. C. License fee. The fee for such a license is hereby fixed in the sum of $50.00 for each place of business. Such license shall be placed and at all times displayed in a conspicuous place at the licensee's place of business. Such license shall be effective from the date of its issuance until the 31st day of December next succeeding, unless sooner revoked and shall not be transferable.

D. Revocation. The Town Board at any time may revoke or suspend the license granted under the authority of this ordinance, after a hearing at which the licensee shall be offered an opportunity to be heard, for failure to comply with any of the terms of this ordinance or any law or regulation relating to the business of dealing in junk as defined in this ordinance.

SECTION V

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME (Registered U. S. Patent Office) By JIMMY HATLO

Girl, 19, Slays Father; Argued Over Treatment

NEW YORK (AP)—A 19-year-old girl shot and killed her ex-convict father Friday night after an argument over what she called his repeated mistreatment of her.

The girl, Marlene Rossi of Brooklyn, grabbed a .22 caliber rifle and fired a bullet into the head of her father, Andrew, 50.

The father was sentenced to Sing Sing prison after conviction on a manslaughter charge about the time Marlene was born. He was released about a year ago.

Rossi was estranged from his wife, Caroline, also 50.

Marlene said her father had often abused and struck her. She told police he came to her mother's apartment last night and said. "If you go to the police and say anything, I'll kill you all."

The girl said her mother and she had warned Rossi they would go to authorities if he did not change his ways.

Marlene said her father, during their quarrel in the living room, started for the kitchen and she feared he was going for a knife. It was then, she said, she seized the rifle and fired the shot. She was booked on a homicide charge.

Beauty Asks Divorce

DEDHAM, Mass. (AP) — Miss Massachusetts of 1951 has filed a petition for divorce on the ground her husband didn't think she was beautiful enough.

Mrs. Ralph H. Eriksen, 29, declared in Norfolk Probate Court that her husband, a sailor based at Newport, R.I., ridiculed a birth mark on her face so much that she underwent an operation to have it removed.

The Eriksens married in 1952 and have three sons. The couple has been separated for nine months. She works in a Boston night club as a photographer.

SECTION IV
LICENSING OF JUNK DEALERS

A. Application. Each person applying for a license shall submit to the Town Clerk a written application stating the name and address of the owner of the premises, the name and address of the applicant, the nature and extent of his interest in the business, the location of the premises where the business is to be conducted, that he has never been convicted of any crime, and that he is a fit and desirable person and capable of properly conducting the business for which the license is desired and any other information requested by the Town Clerk. He shall pay to the Town Clerk at the time of the filing of the application an application fee in the amount of $25.00 to defray the cost of processing the application and publishing a notice of public hearing as hereinafter provided.

B. Issuance of License: If the Town Clerk finds the application contains the necessary information and the application fee has been paid, the Clerk shall schedule a public hearing to be held by the Town Board upon notice published once in a newspaper of general circulation within the town at least ten days before the hearing. Upon the completion of the said hearing, the Town Board shall give due consideration to the compliance of the applicant with the provisions of this ordinance and after the same has been approved by the Town Board and the license fee paid as hereinafter provided, the license shall be issued by the Town Clerk.

C. License fee. The fee for such a license is hereby fixed in the sum of $50.00 for each place of business. Such license shall be placed and at all times displayed in a conspicuous place at the licensee's place of business. Such license shall be effective from the date of its issuance until the 31st day of December next succeeding, unless sooner revoked and shall not be transferable.

D. Revocation. The Town Board at any time may revoke or suspend the license granted under the authority of this ordinance, after a hearing at which the licensee shall be offered an opportunity to be heard, for failure to comply with any of the terms of this ordinance or any law or regulation relating to the business of dealing in junk as defined in this ordinance.

SECTION V
GENERAL PROVISIONS

Each such license shall be issued subject to compliance by the licensee with all the requirements of Article 6 of the General Business Law, Section 1308 of the Penal Law and all other statutes now existing or which may hereafter be enacted affecting such business or the conduct thereof; subject also, to compliance by the licensee with all rules, regulations or orders now existing or which may hereafter be made by the Town of Hurley respecting such business or the conduct thereof; and subject, also, to compliance with the following further requirements:

(1) That no such licensee shall collect or purchase any junk, metal or secondhand materials or articles of any kind from any person who is actually or apparently under the age of 21 years;

(2) That each such licensee shall keep a book record of each article of junk, metal or second hand materials purchased or collected by him showing the time and place of collection or purchase, and the name and address of the person from whom the same was collected or purchased; and shall not dispose of any such article purchased or collected until the expiration of five (5) days from the date of purchase or collection;

(3) That such licensee shall not collect or purchase junk, metals or second hand materials from any person between the hours of seven (7) o'clock p. m. and seven (7) o'clock a. m.;

(4) That each such licensee shall permit his place of business, his record books and his vehicles or conveyances to be examined or inspected at any time by the police or by any representative of the Town Board;

(5) That each such licensee shall obtain the permission of the Fire Chief of the Fire District in which the premises are located before igniting a fire for the disposal of junk and there shall be at least two men tending such fires as are authorized by the Fire Chief. Because of the variable nature of weather conditions, the heavy concentration of inflammable structures in certain areas and the potential forest fire areas located within the town, separate permission from the Fire Chief must be obtained for each day;

(6) All of the junk collected shall be kept within a building or on premises inclosed by a solid fireproof fence or wall having a height of six (6) feet so as to contain all of the junk within the bounds of the premises.

(7) No license shall be issued under this ordinance for the use of lands over which an open stream flows.

SECTION VI
VIOLATIONS AND PENALTIES

A. Criminal. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof be punished by a fine not exceeding FIFTY ($50) DOLLARS or imprisonment in the County Jail for a period not to exceed ten (10) days or both such fine and imprisonment; and where the violation is continuing in nature, each week's continued violation shall constitute a separate and additional violation.

B. Civil. The Town of Hurley may elect to proceed to collect a civil penalty for the violation of this ordinance, in which event the penalty shall be ONE HUNDRED ($100) DOLLARS which sum shall include all expenses of the Town including attorneys fees.

C. Revocation of License. Any person who, or whose servant, agent, employee or officer shall be convicted of any violation of this ordinance shall forfeit his license as a junk dealer forthwith and the license may be permanently forfeited by resolution of the Town Board.

SECTION VII
SEVERABILITY

If any clause, sentence, paragraph or part of this ordinance or the application thereof to any person as defined herein shall be adjudged by any Court to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder thereof or the application thereof to any person as defined herein, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph or part thereof and the persons and circumstances directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered.

SECTION VIII
EFFECTIVE DATE

This ordinance shall take effect immediately subject to the provisions of Section 133 of the Town Law with reference to publication and posting.

This ordinance was adopted following a public hearing at a meeting of the Town Board of the Town of Hurley held in the Town of Hurley on the 14th day of April, 1959.

Kingston Wins Second, Overpowers Arlington Nine, 8-0

Hudson Scores Twice in 11th Inning to Dump Saugerties, 5-3

Paul Gardner Stops Visitors With One Hit

Junior righthander Paul Gardner fired a masterful one hitter against Arlington High School yesterday at Dietz Stadium as Kingston High captured its second straight decision, 8-0. A sixth inning single by Larry Weisberg deprived Gardner of his no-hitter.

Warming up for their DUSO League opener Monday at Newburgh, the Maroon players rapped nine assorted base hits around the stadium premises with Hobie Armstrong, John Parete and Gary Barnes each collecting a pair. Jerry Anderson was the victim of the onslaught. He was charged with all eight runs in the four innings he worked. Art Crum finished.

Hobie Starts It

Armstrong started the bottom of the first inning with a triple to deep left center. After Terry Cokery flied out, Hobie tallied on a wild pitch. Walks to Dave O'Connor, Chick Boice and a hit by Parete brought home the second run of the frame.

Coach Al Gruner was pleased with the performance of his club. The infielders handled nine chances without making an error and Gardner was the boss on the mound. His complete job followed one by Lefty Bob Beadle last week at Roosevelt.

Sawyers Drop First Contest Of The Season

An error with one out and three straight hits enabled Hudson High School to nip Saugerties, 5-3, yesterday in an 11 inning thriller at the Sawyers' diamond. The loss was the first of the season for Bill Straub's club against two wins and it was a tough one to take.

Saugerties had fought an uphill battle and with two outs and nobody on base in the seventh frame, trailed by a 3-2 margin. Then a double by Bill Eckhoff, Barry Wolven's single and a two bagger by Bob Whitaker had knotted the score. The Sawyers just missed winning the tilt in regulation time as Al Hrdlicka was "robbed" of a sure base hit by shortstop Jim Hughs. He made a grab of a Texas Leaguer with his back to the plate.

Six Errors

Wolven, who hooked up in a splendid hurling duel with Jim Rutkey of the visitors, was plagued by poor support. His mates made six errors behind him, including the fatal one in the 11th frame. Eckhoff had to relieve Barry W. and he got the final out of the inning.

Eckhoff continued his phenomenal hitting with a double and single in five times at bat. Whitaker socked a triple and single.

Souchak Keeps Lead in Golf

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Mike Souchak held a firm grip on first place today as the field of 26 professional golfers went into the third round of the $46,620 Tournament of Champions.

The scene is the Desert Inn Country Club, whose 7,073-yard, par 36-36—72 course, plus gusts of wind, put a damper on some of the hopes in the second round.

Cleveland Keeps Hot Pace

Turns Back Chisox, 6-4, For 10th Win

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Their homer spree was ended by Chicago Friday night — after the Tribe had belted 19 in eight consecutive games — but the Indians won their fourth in a row anyway, coming from behind for a 6-4 decision in their first run-in with the White Sox this season. That gave Cleveland, beaten only once in 11 starts, a 3½-game lead over New York's idle second place Yankees.

It also dropped the White Sox four games behind in a third-place tie with Boston and idle Baltimore. The Red Sox moved up with a 7-2 victory at Washington. Kansas City smashed Detroit 10-1, the Tigers' 10th defeat in 11 games.

Score Wild

The Indians, with a wild Herb Score going only three innings, trailed 4-1 until the seventh inning while getting just two hits off Sox starter Dick Donovan. Singles by Minnie Minoso, Russ Nixon and pinch hitter Tito Francona, who drove in a pair with two out, tied it in a three-run seventh. Then Vic Power's infield hit, an error, intentional walk and a passed ball broke the tie in a two-run eighth capped by Woody Held's sacrifice fly.

Gerry Staley (1-1) was the loser in relief. Humberto Robinson, late of the Milwaukee Braves, won in his first AL appearance with two innings of one-hit, shutout relief for the Tribe.

The White Sox scored two in the first inning when Score walked the first four men he faced and Ray Boone hit a sacrifice fly. Score walked seven in his three innings, but allowed just one hit—Boone's solo home run in the third.

Wertz Is Hero

Vic Wertz, rebounding quickly from a bout with the flu, drove in five runs for Boston. He doubled home two in the first then counted three in the third with his second home run in two days. Jackie Jensen also homered in the five-run third, with both shots off left-handed rookie Jack Kralick.

The Nats managed just six hits off Ike Delock (2-0), who went all the way for his eighth consecutive victory over the Senators since May 12, 1957. Washington scored on Bob Lemon's third homer, a two-run, 420-foot blast in the fourth inning.

Bob Cerv drove in four runs for the A's with three hits in four trips. Ralph Terry gained his first victory and complete game with an eight-hitter, blanking the Tigers after Gail Harris' RBI triple in the first inning.

ABC Tourney To End Sunday

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The 56th American Bowling Congress championships closes Sunday after 72 days and nights of almost continuous competition.

The prospect of any last-minute upstarts stealing the show from the current leaders is dim. Most of the contestants in the dwindling hours of the tournament are lower average bowlers.

Ed Mathews Belts 2 Homers

Grand Slammer Sparks Braves To 10-7 Victory

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mathews was, perhaps, the Milwaukee Braves' biggest disappointment as they blew a 3-1 lead in games and lost the world championship to the New York Yankees last October. The strong-armed third baseman, who had hit 31 home runs during the regular season, managed just two doubles and two singles in 25 at bats for a .160 average and set a series record by striking out 11 times.

If there was any suspicion that the series slump would leave a mark, Mathews has clubbed it away. At the moment he shares the National League home run lead, swatting his fifth and sixth Friday night with No. 6 a grand-slam that carried the first place Braves to a 10-7 victory at Cincinnati.

Tied for Lead

Mathews' slam, his fifth in the majors, not only gave him a tie with Los Angeles' Don Demeter for the homer lead, but also retained Milwaukee's half - game edge over the second-place Dodgers, who won 3-2 in 10 innings at St. Louis. Third-place San Francisco stayed close, one game back with a 4-3, 11-inning decision over the Chicago Cubs. Pittsburgh rallied for four ninth inning runs and an 8-5 victory at Philadelphia.

Mathews' first of five RBI came when he and Joe Adcock homered in a two-run fourth inning, bringing the Braves from behind and chasing winless Don Newcombe to a third defeat. Roy McMillan, Frank Thomas and Gus Bell, who hit two, homered for the Reds, who trailed 6-5 before Mathews slammed in the eighth off rookie Jim O'Toole. Young Joey Jay won his first, with Don McMahon's relief help, after giving up five hits and walking seven in his 6 2-3 innings.

The Dodgers twice missed the winning run before Duke Snider got it home with a two-out, pinch single in the 10th. John Roseboro, after breaking a 1-1 tie with a double, missed third base while running for home on Ron Fairly's single in the seventh. And just ahead of Snider's clincher, two walks and a single by Charlie Neal had failed to get a run when Gino Cimoli's peg from center nailed Fairly at the plate.

Johnny Podres (2-1), who gave way for Snider, won it with Clem Labine's 1-2-3 mop up in the 10th. Rookie Howie Nunn (0-1) lost it in relief for the Cards, who tied it 2-all on Gene Green's home run in the ninth.

Rally in Ninth

The Pirates, who counted twice on Dick Stuart's first inning home run, blew a 4-0 lead before Smoky Burgess' two-run double put it away in the ninth. The Phils, blanked on two hits for five innings by Ron Kline, scored three in the sixth on Gran Hamner's double, Ed Bouchee's triple and a home run by Wally Post. They took a 5-4 lead in the eighth on Carl Sawatski's two-run double. Elroy Face won his second in relief. Al Schroll (1-1) lost it also in relief.

Right fielder Felipe Alou, who doubled the winning Giant run into position for Daryl Spencer's sacrifice fly, also cut off a two-run, tying ninth-inning rally by the Cubs with his throw to the plate. Stu Miller (1-0) was the winner in relief after Johnny Antonelli had held the Cubs to four hits and one run for eight innings. John Buzhardt, third of four Cub pitchers, lost his second.

Hudson Scores Twice in 11th Inning to Dump Saugerties, 5-3

Paul Gardner Stops Visitors With One Hit

Junior righthander Paul Gardner fired a masterful one hitter against Arlington High School yesterday at Dietz Stadium as Kingston High captured its second straight decision, 8-0. A sixth inning single by Larry Weisberg deprived Gardner of his no-hitter.

Warming up for their DUSO League opener Monday at Newburgh, the Maroon players rapped nine assorted base hits around the stadium premises with Hobie Armstrong, John Parete and Gary Barnes each collecting a pair. Jerry Anderson was the victim of the onslaught. He was charged with all eight runs in the four innings he worked. Art Crum finished.

Hobie Starts It

Armstrong started the bottom of the first inning with a triple to deep left center. After Terry Cokery flied out, Hobie tallied on a wild pitch. Walks to Dave O'Connor, Chick Boice and a hit by Parete brought home the second run of the frame.

Anderson was rocked again in the third as O'Connor reached first on a miscue, Boice walked, Barnes singled and John Bruck drew a pass.

Armstrong's second hit, a walk to Corkery, a double steal, O'Connor's sacrifice fly and hits by Parete, Barnes and Bruck sent home four runs more in the fourth and finished the scoring for the day.

Coach Al Gruner was pleased with the performance of his club. The infielders handled nine chances without making an error and Gardner was the boss on the mound. His complete job followed one by Lefty Bob Beadle last week at Roosevelt.

SO WHAT?—Eddie Thompson grimaces as he lands a left hook to Benny Kid Paret's body, but the Cuban middleweight shows no sign of being hurt. Thompson, homegrown and a 2-1 underdog, won a split 10-round decision.

Sawyers Drop First Contest Of The Season

An error with one out and three straight hits enabled Hudson High School to nip Saugerties, 5-3, yesterday in an 11 inning thriller at the Sawyers' diamond. The loss was the first of the season for Bill Straub's club against two wins and it was a tough one to take.

Saugerties had fought an uphill battle and with two outs and nobody on base in the seventh frame, trailed by a 3-2 margin. Then a double by Bill Eckhoff, Barry Wolven's single and a two bagger by Bob Whitaker had knotted the score. The Sawyers just missed winning the tilt in regulation time as Al Hrdlicka was "robbed" of a sure base hit by shortstop Jim Hughs. He made a grab of a Texas Leaguer with his back to the plate.

Six Errors

Wolven, who hooked up in a splendid hurling duel with Jim Rutkey of the visitors, was plagued by poor support. His mates made six errors behind him, including the fatal one in the 11th frame. Eckhoff had to relieve Barry W. and he got the final out of the inning.

Eckhoff continued his phenomenal hitting with a double and single in five times at bat. Whitaker socked a triple and single.

Souchak Keeps Lead in Golf

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Mike Souchak held a firm grip on first place today as the field of 26 professional golfers went into the third round of the $46,620 Tournament of Champions.

The big fellow from Grossinger, N.Y., had rounds of 66-70 for a 36-hole total of 136 and a four-stroke bulge over his nearest challengers.

The scene is the Desert Inn Country Club, whose 7,073-yard, par 36-36—72 course, plus gusts of wind, put a damper on some of the hopes in the second round.

Deadlocked at 140 were four pros—Art Wall Jr., Julius Boros, 23-year-old John McMullin and Ernie Vossler.

George Bayer was alone at 142, and tied at 143 were Gene Littler, three-time winner of the event, and Arnold Palmer.

Cleveland Keeps Hot Pace

Turns Back Chisox, 6-4, For 10th Win

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Home runs or singles, they're all the same to Cleveland as the surprising Indians pad their lead in the American League race.

Their homer spree was ended by Chicago Friday night — after the Tribe had belted 19 in eight consecutive games — but the Indians won their fourth in a row anyway, coming from behind for a 6-4 decision in their first run-in with the White Sox this season. That gave Cleveland, beaten only once in 11 starts, a 3½-game lead over New York's idle second place Yankees.

It also dropped the White Sox four games behind in a third-place tie with Boston and idle Baltimore. The Red Sox moved up with a 7-2 victory at Washington. Kansas City smashed Detroit 10-1, the Tigers' 10th defeat in 11 games.

Score Wild

The Indians, with a wild Herb Score going only three innings, trailed 4-1 until the seventh inning while getting just two hits off Sox starter Dick Donovan. Singles by Minnie Minoso, Russ Nixon and pinch hitter Tito Francona, who drove in a pair with two out, tied it in a three-run seventh. Then Vic Power's infield hit, an error, intentional walk and a passed ball broke the tie in a two-run eighth capped by Woody Held's sacrifice fly.

Gerry Staley (1-1) was the loser in relief. Humberto Robinson, late of the Milwaukee Braves, won in his first AL appearance with two innings of one-hit, shutout relief for the Tribe.

The White Sox scored two in the first inning when Score walked the first four men he faced and Ray Boone hit a sacrifice fly. Score walked seven in his three innings, but allowed just one hit—Boone's solo home run in the third.

Wertz Is Hero

Vic Wertz, rebounding quickly from a bout with the flu, drove in five runs for Boston. He doubled home two in the first then counted three in the third with his second home run in two days. Jackie Jensen also homered in the five-run third, with both shots off left-handed rookie Jack Kralick.

The Nats managed just six hits off Ike Delock (2-0), who went all the way for his eighth consecutive victory over the Senators since May 12, 1957. Washington scored on Bob Lemon's third homer, a two-run, 420-foot blast in the fourth inning.

Bob Cerv drove in four runs for the A's with three hits in four trips. Ralph Terry gained his first victory and complete game with an eight-hitter, blanking the Tigers after Gail Harris' RBI triple in the first inning.

ABC Tourney To End Sunday

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The 56th American Bowling Congress championships closes Sunday after 72 days and nights of almost continuous competition.

The prospect of any last-minute upstarts stealing the show from the current leaders is dim. Most of the contestants in the dwindling hours of the tournament are lower average bowlers.

Ed Mathews Belts 2 Homers

Grand Slammer Sparks Braves To 10-7 Victory

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

After that startling slump in last fall's World Series, Eddie Mathews is back doing what comes naturally — hammering home runs.

Mathews was, perhaps, the Milwaukee Braves' biggest disappointment as they blew a 3-1 lead in games and lost the world championship to the New York Yankees last October. The strong-armed third baseman, who had hit 31 home runs during the regular season, managed just two doubles and two singles in 25 at bats for a .160 average and set a series record by striking out 11 times.

If there was any suspicion that the series slump would leave a mark, Mathews has clubbed it away. At the moment he shares the National League home run lead, swatting his fifth and sixth Friday night with No. 6 a grand-slam that carried the first place Braves to a 10-7 victory at Cincinnati.

Tied for Lead

Mathews' slam, his fifth in the majors, not only gave him a tie with Los Angeles' Don Demeter for the homer lead, but also retained Milwaukee's half - game edge over the second-place Dodgers, who won 3-2 in 10 innings at St. Louis. Third-place San Francisco stayed close, one game back with a 4-3, 11-inning decision over the Chicago Cubs. Pittsburgh rallied for four ninth inning runs and an 8-5 victory at Philadelphia.

Mathews' first of five RBI came when he and Joe Adcock homered in a two-run fourth inning, bringing the Braves from behind and chasing winless Don Newcombe to a third defeat. Roy McMillan, Frank Thomas and Gus Bell, who hit two, homered for the Reds, who trailed 6-5 before Mathews slammed in the eighth off rookie Jim O'Toole. Young Joey Jay won his first, with Don McMahon's relief help, after giving up five hits and walking seven in his 6 2-3 innings.

The Dodgers twice missed the winning run before Duke Snider got it home with a two-out, pinch single in the 10th. John Roseboro, after breaking a 1-1 tie with a double, missed third base while running for home on Ron Fairly's single in the seventh. And just ahead of Snider's clincher, two walks and a single by Charlie Neal had failed to get a run when Gino Cimoli's peg from center nailed Fairly at the plate.

Johnny Podres (2-1), who gave way for Snider, won it with Clem Labine's 1-2-3 mop up in the 10th. Rookie Howie Nunn (0-1) lost it in relief for the Cards, who tied it 2-all on Gene Green's home run in the ninth.

Rally in Ninth

The Pirates, who counted twice on Dick Stuart's first inning home run, blew a 4-0 lead before Smoky Burgess' two-run double put it away in the ninth. The Phils, blanked on two hits for five innings by Ron Kline, scored three in the sixth on Gran Hamner's double, Ed Bouchee's triple and a home run by Wally Post. They took a 5-4 lead in the eighth on Carl Sawatski's two-run double. Elroy Face won his second in relief. Al Schroll (1-1) lost it also in relief.

Right fielder Felipe Alou, who doubled the winning Giant run into position for Daryl Spencer's sacrifice fly, also cut off a two-run, tying ninth-inning rally by the Cubs with his throw to the plate. Stu Miller (1-0) was the winner in relief after Johnny Antonelli had held the Cubs to four hits and one run for eight innings. John Buzhardt, third of four Cub pitchers, lost his second.

Fifth Frame Rally Beats Highland, 5-2

Scoring four runs in a fifth inning rally, Wallkill opened defense of its UCAL baseball title yesterday by trimming Highland, 5-2, at the Wallkill diamond. Henry Hecht got the decision, outpitching Ralph Penny and Phil Bezzaro of the losers.

Highland had a 2-1 margin going into the fifth. Hecht helped his own cause by singling to left field. Frank Tortorici then doubled up the alley as Hecht came home with the tying marker. Jon Evans whacked a hit to score Tortorici and he went to second on an error. A sacrifice by Ralph Bilboa, twin brother Gene's single and a two bagger by Bob Wright concluded the scoring for the day.

Hecht worked seven fine innings, allowing just six hits and whiffing ten batters. Penny went five for Highland and Bezzaro mopped up.

Wallkill is now 1-0 in the UCAL and has a 3-0 mark for the season. Highland is winless to date.

Katrine Driver Out on Bail in Leaving Mishap

Walter Michael Williams, 62, of Box 135, Lake Katrine, today was released in bail of $200 after he appeared before City Judge Aaron E. Klein on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

Judge Klein interposed a plea of innocent at the request of Thomas F. Saccoman, attorney for Williams, who was unable to appear. The case was adjourned until next Saturday.

According to police, Williams is accused of driving away after his car struck and snapped off the top of a utility pole opposite 177 Albany Avenue, early today. Patrolman Anthony Turck and William Snyder investigated with other patrolmen, and Williams was subsequently arrested at Lake Katrine, where police found his damaged 1959 sedan.

The Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. was notified and repairs were made to the pole and wires that sagged under the weight of the upper part of the pole were replaced.

Pending disposition of the charge, Judge Klein suspended Williams' license to drive a car.

JordanBeatsAkins To Keep Title

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP)—World welterweight champion Don Jordan, who one-handedly retained his title Friday night, is on the prowl for a match with abdicated welter king Carmen Basilio.

"I'm looking towards a nontitle June bout, probably in Madison Square Garden," said Jordan after his comparatively easy conquest of Virgil Akins despite a damaged right hand.

Big 2nd Round

Everything important in Friday night's fight before 8,428 in Kiel Auditorium happened in the second round.

It was then Akins, 31-year-old former champ, made his last bid to stay in boxing's big time with a couple of shots to the jaw which really staggered Jordan.

It also was then that Jordan badly bruised his right hand in a poke on the top of Akins' head. Although Jordan wound up with a badly puffed hand, you couldn't tell it by the way he put Akins into eclipse the remaining 13 rounds.

The government tied up Akins purse, saying he owes $22,599 in back taxes. The match, televised nationally, returned a net gate of $44,746. Each fighter received 30 per cent of the gate, plus $15,000 from TV, worth $28,423 apiece.

TIPS AND TOPICS

- By Chet Joy -

Some of the finest enjoyment I have had through the years has been prospecting. Prospecting for trout that is. A lesson learned quite a few years ago has taught me not to pass up any fast moving stream in the spring that looks like trout water. These streams might be right in your back yard, ignored because you never heard of any one catching trout out of them.

My introduction to prospecting came about through curiosity and a hunch. Even though this portion of the stream was many miles below known trout water, that was often fished, I had the feeling that possibly through the years floods might have forced fish down stream where they would have a chance to grow large, if they cared to remain. Such was the case in this first instance and has continued to pay off through the years in outsize fish.

When I think of the many miles I have traveled over back roads into out of way places to reach good spots off of the beaten path, it gives one a feeling of hitting a jackpot when a lunker is brought to net practically in his own back yard where trout aren't supposed to be. I will never forget my first experience at this type of fishing. I was approaching a bridge a few miles out of town heading for the mountains, one early spring day, just as I had done many times in years past. A glance upstream at fast tumbling water caused me to slow down and pull the car over to the side of the road even though I had never heard of trout being caught so far downstream. I also knew that in a couple of months the water here would slow and become low and warm. Surely not the kind of water that would be productive.

The Incessant Urge

A feeling kept persisting to give it a try, which I could not ignore, so I climbed out of the car and took a look at the pool under the bridge. A ledge on the far side of the stream near the abutment of the bridge, had a good crevice near its base, just the place for a hungry trout to pick for his lie to grab any uncautious minnow as it swam by.

This was the beginning of an eventful unforgetable day for me. A few well-placed casts worked along the base of the ledge diagonally across stream suddenly ended with a jolt that sent the fly rod arching into a tight strong bow, that throbbed and bounced as I gave line under pressure. After minutes of top excitement with surges all over the pool, I finally netted my first prospecting trout a full colored well proportioned 16 inch brown. Working upstream around the inside of the bend, a log that had become lodged underneath a cut bank, by high water looked good to me. Shooting upstream so the current would carry the bait underneath it I started the retrieve. A dark, shadowy form streaked out striking hard as he hit in a darting circling motion, and headed back toward the log. Realizing if he reached his destination the leader would become snarled. I clamped down on him in a hurry, bringing him to the surface in a leap full out of water. Constant pressure kept the battle in midstream with tireing effect. The final result was a heavy 18 inch brown.

Needless to say I was thrilled and pleased with the discovery of such remarkable fishing so close to a populated area. I would have quit for the day at this point but a glance farther upstream brought a large over hanging cliff into focus. Knowing this type of terrain spelled a deep pool at its base, I could not resist one more try. A thrilling battle here with a 23 inch brown is still vivid in my mind, a privilege to be remembered.

Huguenots Top Indians In Opener

Jack Campbell fired a three hit shutout at New Paltz yesterday as the Huguenots opened their UCAL season with a 7-0 decision over Onteora. The Indians could not muster a threat against the hard throwing righthander.

The home side managed only five safeties off the slants of Drew Elwyn and Tom McGrosson but ten walks and some costly errors aided the Paltz nine in recording the decision.

The tilt marked the opening of the UCAL schedule for both clubs.

Bill Short Hurls Shutout Victory For Richmond

It was pitchers' night in the International League Friday with Richmond's Bill Short, Havana's Vincente Amor, Miami's Harry Byrd and Toronto's Frank Funk sharing the spotlight.

Short, a Binghamton graduate making his first start for Richmond, felled 10, walked three and permitted only six hits in the Virginians' 1-0 victory over Montreal.

Richmond got just four hits off Rene Valdez but bunched three of them in the first inning for their run. After a long single by Jack Reed and bunt singles by Bobby Deakin and Jerry Thomas had loaded the bases, Frank Leja scored Reed with a sacrifice fly.

Fifth Frame Rally Beats Highland, 5-2

Scoring four runs in a fifth inning rally, Wallkill opened defense of its UCAL baseball title yesterday by trimming Highland, 5-2, at the Wallkill diamond. Henry Hecht got the decision, outpitching Ralph Penny and Phil Bezzaro of the losers.

Highland had a 2-1 margin going into the fifth. Hecht helped his own cause by singling to left field. Frank Tortorici then doubled up the alley as Hecht came home with the tying marker. Jon Evans whacked a hit to score Tortorici and he went to second on an error. A sacrifice by Ralph Bilboa, twin brother Gene's single and a two bagger by Bob Wright concluded the scoring for the day.

Hecht worked seven fine innings, allowing just six hits and whiffing ten batters. Penny went five for Highland and Bezzaro mopped up.

Wallkill is now 1-0 in the UCAL and has a 3-0 mark for the season. Highland is winless to date.

Rondout Gets Just Two Hits In 17-0 Loss

Using three big innings to score all but one of its runs, Marlboro humbled Rondout Valley, 17-0, in a UCAL contest yesterday at the Dukes' diamond. The visitors could manage but two hits off the slants of Sam Mandia and Bill Hyatt.

Jack Kroh's club tallied a run in the first inning and then had five in each of the third and fourth frames and closed with a half dozen markers in the sixth.

State police reported that Claude Pitre, 26, of 5958 Twenty-sixth Avenue, Rosemont, Montreal, was stopped in the area of the restaurant at Malden on an alert from north of Catskill.

State Trooper Richard Nemschick said he observed a 1958 black Cadillac traveling at an estimated 120 miles an hour about 6:30 a. m., but could not catch the car. He signaled ahead for the arrest.

Justice of the Peace Glenford Myers of Saugerties fined him the $100.

According to police, the taxicab was owned by Meyer Levy Inc., of 525 Broadway, and operated at the time by John Joseph Gardecki, 29, of 46 Green Street, this city. TIPS AND TOPICS

- By Chet Joy -

Some of the finest enjoyment I have had through the years has been prospecting. Prospecting for trout that is. A lesson learned quite a few years ago has taught me not to pass up any fast moving stream in the spring that looks like trout water. These streams might be right in your back yard, ignored because you never heard of any one catching trout out of them.

My introduction to prospecting came about through curiosity and a hunch. Even though this portion of the stream was many miles below known trout water, that was often fished, I had the feeling that possibly through the years floods might have forced fish down stream where they would have a chance to grow large, if they cared to remain. Such was the case in this first instance and has continued to pay off through the years in outsize fish.

When I think of the many miles I have traveled over back roads into out of way places to reach good spots off of the beaten path, it gives one a feeling of hitting a jackpot when a lunker is brought to net practically in his own back yard where trout aren't supposed to be. I will never forget my first experience at this type of fishing. I was approaching a bridge a few miles out of town heading for the mountains, one early spring day, just as I had done many times in years past. A glance upstream at fast tumbling water caused me to slow down and pull the car over to the side of the road even though I had never heard of trout being caught so far downstream. I also knew that in a couple of months the water here would slow and become low and warm. Surely not the kind of water that would be productive.

The Incessant Urge

A feeling kept persisting to give it a try, which I could not ignore, so I climbed out of the car and took a look at the pool under the bridge. A ledge on the far side of the stream near the abutment of the bridge, had a good crevice near its base, just the place for a hungry trout to pick for his lie to grab any uncautious minnow as it swam by.

This was the beginning of an eventful unforgetable day for me. A few well-placed casts worked along the base of the ledge diagonally across stream suddenly ended with a jolt that sent the fly rod arching into a tight strong bow, that throbbed and bounced as I gave line under pressure. After minutes of top excitement with surges all over the pool, I finally netted my first prospecting trout a full colored well proportioned 16 inch brown. Working upstream around the inside of the bend, a log that had become lodged underneath a cut bank, by high water looked good to me. Shooting upstream so the current would carry the bait underneath it I started the retrieve. A dark, shadowy form streaked out striking hard as he hit in a darting circling motion, and headed back toward the log. Realizing if he reached his destination the leader would become snarled. I clamped down on him in a hurry, bringing him to the surface in a leap full out of water. Constant pressure kept the battle in midstream with tireing effect. The final result was a heavy 18 inch brown.

Needless to say I was thrilled and pleased with the discovery of such remarkable fishing so close to a populated area. I would have quit for the day at this point but a glance farther upstream brought a large over hanging cliff into focus. Knowing this type of terrain spelled a deep pool at its base, I could not resist one more try. A thrilling battle here with a 23 inch brown is still vivid in my mind, a privilege to be remembered.

Huguenots Top Indians In Opener

Jack Campbell fired a three hit shutout at New Paltz yesterday as the Huguenots opened their UCAL season with a 7-0 decision over Onteora. The Indians could not muster a threat against the hard throwing righthander.

The home side managed only five safeties off the slants of Drew Elwyn and Tom McGrosson but ten walks and some costly errors aided the Paltz nine in recording the decision.

The tilt marked the opening of the UCAL schedule for both clubs.

Bill Short Hurls Shutout Victory For Richmond

It was pitchers' night in the International League Friday with Richmond's Bill Short, Havana's Vincente Amor, Miami's Harry Byrd and Toronto's Frank Funk sharing the spotlight.

Short, a Binghamton graduate making his first start for Richmond, felled 10, walked three and permitted only six hits in the Virginians' 1-0 victory over Montreal.

Richmond got just four hits off Rene Valdez but bunched three of them in the first inning for their run. After a long single by Jack Reed and bunt singles by Bobby Deakin and Jerry Thomas had loaded the bases, Frank Leja scored Reed with a sacrifice fly.

Calm Prevails At Struck Mill

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP)—Relative calm prevailed Friday night at quitting time at the strike-torn Harriet-Henderson Cotton Mills.

The worst violence was a steady roll of rifle fire that shattered some mill windows during the night shift. But there were no reports of injuries.

Homebound nonunion workers were greeted with catcalls and minor harassments from about 200 union members outside the mill gates. Said Asst. Police Chief Harold Watkins:

Won't Yield to Force

It was nothing like the burst of shooting earlier in the week, nor, police said, was it like what was expected following Mills President John D. Cooper Jr.'s announcement Friday that he would start a third shift next Tuesday night.

Cooper, saying he will not yield "to force and violence," rejected pleas of local and state officials to hold off further nonunion hiring in the six-month-old strike.

Remark Has Effect

Police said an antiviolence statement by the Textile Workers Union of America (AFL-CIO) seemed to have a calming effect.

The strike began Nov. 17 when Cooper and the union failed to agree on a new contract. The chief controversy was over continuing a 14-year-old arbitration provision in the contract. Management claimed the provision had been abused.

That issue was mediated by Gov. Luther H. Hodges a week ago. Arbitration was limited to matters of workers discipline.

The union ordered its thousand or so members back to work Monday, but when only 30 of them were given jobs union leaders refused to sign the contract. Cooper said he had commitments to nonunion people.

Calm Prevails At Struck Mill

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP)—Relative calm prevailed Friday night at quitting time at the strike-torn Harriet-Henderson Cotton Mills.

The worst violence was a steady roll of rifle fire that shattered some mill windows during the night shift. But there were no reports of injuries.

Homebound nonunion workers were greeted with catcalls and minor harassments from about 200 union members outside the mill gates. Said Asst. Police Chief Harold Watkins:

Won't Yield to Force

"I don't know what the reason was, but it was certainly surprisingly quiet."

It was nothing like the burst of shooting earlier in the week, nor, police said, was it like what was expected following Mills President John D. Cooper Jr.'s announcement Friday that he would start a third shift next Tuesday night.

Cooper, saying he will not yield "to force and violence," rejected pleas of local and state officials to hold off further nonunion hiring in the six-month-old strike.

Remark Has Effect

Police said an antiviolence statement by the Textile Workers Union of America (AFL-CIO) seemed to have a calming effect.

The strike began Nov. 17 when Cooper and the union failed to agree on a new contract. The chief controversy was over continuing a 14-year-old arbitration provision in the contract. Management claimed the provision had been abused.

That issue was mediated by Gov. Luther H. Hodges a week ago. Arbitration was limited to matters of workers discipline.

The union ordered its thousand or so members back to work Monday, but when only 30 of them were given jobs union leaders refused to sign the contract. Cooper said he had commitments to nonunion people.

Spring Cleanup Is Slated Monday in Woodstock Village

Monday will be spring cleanup night in the village of Woodstock, it was announced today by the president of the Woodstock Republican Club, James E. Hamlin.

He said a committee of more than 25 volunteers will be out with brooms and shovels under direction of Telford Graham, chairman of the group. Starting time is 5 p. m.

A large mechanical sweeper has been obtained by Supervisor Joseph Fitzsimmons on a voluntary basis. William West, a contractor, is donating trucks for pick-ups, Hamlin said.

The mechanical sweeper will go over Route 212 from Woodstock Library to Grand Union store, Supervisor Fitzsimmons said, covering the usual cleanup area.

Property owners are requested to sweep their sidewalks, and put out any spring cleaning rubbish for the trucks to pick up. Containers are desirable for the waste, but it will be picked up whether they are used or not.

Blaze at Breslaw Building May Be Work of Children

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Detectives were checking reports today that children may have started a huge, furniture warehouse fire in which one firefighter was presumed killed Friday.

One firefighter, Joseph Kirker, 38, was reported to have been trapped on the fourth floor of the warehouse. Other firemen said they heard him calling for help but were unable to reach him because of the intense heat.

Kirker was thought to have been spreading tarpaulins over furniture stored in the building. He was employed by Albany Fire Protectives, an organization financed by insurance companies.

Started in Garage

The fire started in a one-story garage and spread to the adjoining brick warehouse of four-and five-story sections, firemen said.

It was first reported shortly after 6 p. m. when a neighbor called Mrs. Martin Breslaw, wife of a vice president of the firm. The neighbor reported seeing a group of children burning material at the southeast end of the building.

The fire was brought under control in about three and a half hours.

No estimate of damage was immediately available.

For Arbor Day

Chambers Pupils Plant Two Trees

Children in the third grade at the Chambers School planted two small evergreen trees in front of the school Friday afternoon as their contribution to Arbor Day.

Actual planting was by Sharon Treinkman, Ernest Neilson, Arlene Schussler and Larry Wonderly.

The program was emceed by Sharon Treinkman.

The program was opened with a song, "America the Beautiful," sung by third graders, followed by the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Court to Study Village's $95,000 GU Assessment

The $95,000 village assessment on the Grand Union building and property on Market Street, Saugerties will be reviewed at a special term of Supreme Court in Albany May 22.

The assessment carried on the village tax rolls was contested by Grand Union officials at the village grievance sessions recently. The Grand Union claims the actual cost to be $62,500 and is seeking a reduction on its assessed valuation set by the village assessors.

The disagreement took on added significance when it became common gossip this week among local real estate agents that Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company officials had been looking at possible sites outside the village limits for its new proposed super market.

Area Cemeteries To Be Cleaned-Up By Scouts Sunday

Historic cemeteries in West Camp and Malden will receive the attention of Saugerties District Boy Scouts Sunday afternoon.

The group will search for the final resting places of the Palatines, the oldest settlers in the Town of Saugerties.

According to Bascom Dillon, who has spearheaded the project, a tour of High Woods area revealed three cemeteries that were badly overrun with brush and one at Fish Creek had been vandalizd with stones down and broken.

The oldest cemetery discovered was one in back of the property of Percy Mower off Route 32. One stone was dated 1731, and the name was "Folck." In raking away the pine needles several other stones were discovered and set in place again.

Dillon said the old cemetery which bears the victims of the riverboat Raindeer disaster was found and will be cleaned-up.

Many are neglected because they are private cemeteries and relatives are no longer in the area, Dillon said.

The project is expected to be completed in time for decoration by the Scouts on Memorial Day, May 30.

The game club's regular meeting will be held Monday, 8 p. m. in R. A. Snyder Fire Company rooms of Saugerties Municipal Building.

Officers Election On Area Council, Churches Agenda

Verdict Issued In Death of Modena Student

The youth, Gilbert Louis Smith, an honor student in the senior class of the Wallkill Valley Central School, reportedly shot himself in the head with a .22 caliber rifle late Thursday night in his bedroom. He had just returned from a special class in advanced physics at the school.

Coroner Francis J. McCardle of Kingston said the young man died of massive cranial hemorrhage.

Young Smith had just been accepted by Cornell University and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute for the fall term.

A member of the National Honor Society, the young man ranked ninth in a class of 72. He was on the honor list of the Westinghouse Talent Search, a national academic classification.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Smith; two sisters, Genevieve, a student nurse at Kingston Hospital, and Valerie, 7, at home, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Smith of Modena.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday at Sutton Funeral Home, Clintondale. Burial will be in the Modena Rural Cemetery. Visiting hours will be Sunday afternoon and evening.

Discoverer II May Burn Up Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Discoverer II satellite now is expected to plunge into the earth's atmosphere and burn up sometime Monday.

The Air Force previously had estimated that the polar orbit satellite would die over the weekend, but the latest calculations Friday briefly staved off its demise.

Discoverer II was launched at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., April 13. It successfully ejected a capsule that fell back to earth somewhere in the Arctic Ocean — the first time this has been done. The capsule could not be found.

Week's Business Review

By WALTER BREEDE JR.

NEW YORK (AP) —For many Americans, business looked better this week than even the wildest optimists were predicting just a few months ago.

Construction activity and industrial production set a sizzling pace (steel output was scheduled at a record 2,683,000 tons, up 111.3 per cent from last year). After a brief squall of profit-taking, the stock market took to the upside again. Sharp gains were scored for department store sales, truck transport, rail freight and production of coal and oil.

Auto Sales Surge Back

The theme song at annual stockholder meetings this week was keyed to prosperity and profits. Reporting sharply higher first quarter earnings (including some record highs) were three top steelmakers (Republic, National and Inland), two of the nation's largest chemical firms (DuPont and Union Carbide), one of the world's biggest oil companies (Texaco Inc.) and two large department store chains (Macy's and Gimbel's).

Detroit's rebound from recession showed up in Ford's report for the first quarter (earnings at a record high) and Chrysler's announcement that its first quarter net (to be reported April 30) would top any quarter of 1958. American Motors reported a new high of more than 33½ million dollars in profits for the six months ended March 31 and declared a quarterly dividend of 60 cents a share. Also well in the black was Studebaker-Packard.

Money Remains Tight

New car sales in the second 10 days of April 2343 up 10 per cent over the first 10 days.

Money continued tight this week. With profits coming in at a record clip, many companies were no longer under pressure to borrow, but a strong upsurge in home building put a squeeze on long-term mortgage funds.

All signs pointed toward a further tightening of mortgage rates. Building costs headed higher, too. F. W. Dodge Corp. commented: "The pre-war $7,500 house, which costs $19,200 today, will probably carry a price tag about $768 higher by April 1960."

Stock seles in the latest week totaled 17,788,350 shares compared to 17,826,640 shares in the week before and 13,608,630 in the corresponding week tast year.

Bond sales had a par value of $30,184,000 during the week against $32,342,500 for the previous week and $30,725,900 for the same 1958 week.

Costs Hold Steady

Living costs held steady last month — but only because grocery prices went down while everything else went up (used car prices climbed 1.6 per cent). The government yardstick of what it costs you to live, the Consumer Price Index, stood at 123.7 per cent of the 1947 - 49 average, meaning you'd need $123.70 to buy what $100 would have bought 10 or 11 years ago.

The index has been sticking close to 123.7 for the past nine months. Twice it inched up to a record high of 123.9 but slipped back each time. Chances are it will start climbing again soon, because food prices normally go up at this time of year.

Business in Brief

Briefly over the business scene: The auto industry turned out the year's two millionth car on Tuesday — 42 days sooner than in 1958. . . Average take-home pay of U.S. factory workers touched a new high last month — $79.68 a week for a man with three dependents. . . Montgomery Ward & Co. has budgeted half a billion dollars for expansion over the next five years. . . American Smelting & Refining Co. will make sharp cutbacks in lead and zinc production in its foreign mines this summer. . . . Sold for $145,000 — a seat on the New York Stock Exchange. That's the highest price paid for an exchange membership in 23 years. . . . In just eight years, say oil men, Louisiana will outrank Texas as the nation's biggest oil producer. . . . A former Olympic fencing champ, Jose R. de Capriles, was named vice president of the Lehigh Valley Railroad. He captained the U.S. fencing team in 1956. . . . Credit cards have a new rival — the Rozee Bons Card Club. In more than 2,500 hotels and restaurants across the country, holders of Rozee bonus cards can get a 10 per cent discount if they pay the tab in cash. . . . President Keith Funston of the New York Stock Exchange told Denver businessmen that playing the stock market is poor business "for the casual, the get-rich-quick devotees, or people who can't afford the risks." But, he said, "today's market is not a flimsy house of cards. It's a carefully constructed dwelling that reflects the prosperity and well being of its owners — the American people."

Weapon Planned By Air Force to Shoot Down Moons

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force is working on a weapon system to shoot down satellites, a top military space expert says.

But, said Maj. Gen. B. A. Schriever Friday, other weapon developments such as advanced strategic missile systems and a manned strategic space system have priority and must come first. The new system is in the planning and study stage.

Schriever, Air Force missile and research expert, wound up two days of testimony before the Senate Space subcommittee. He said the anti-satellite system probably will follow a system that can find and destroy enemy missiles.

Denies Charge

Schriever denied protests by Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, commander of the Army's Ballistic Missile Agency at Huntsville, Ala. that there was a lack of cooperation between the Air Force and Army on missile problems.

He turned over to the senators a memo he had written to the secretary of the Air Force, James H. Douglas, in which he said Medaris' statements "both disturb and concern me."

Between 1954 and 1959, Schriever said, the Air Force has given the Army nearly 4,500 documents on space and missile problems, but withheld 28.

These 28, he added, involved "contractors' proprietary information, preliminary studies, inconclusive findings, internal Air Force administrative affairs, or could not be released in accordance with security regulations."

When Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) asked why security rules should prevent one military service from giving information to another, Schriever replied that certain "very sensitive intelligence" often cannot even be distributed throughout a single service.

Schriever also said "Eventually the missile will take over as the predominant weapon with manned bombers as the complement." But for some time to come, he said, the country will have to continue its multibillion dollar spending on aircraft as well as the newer missile programs.

Communist Move Into West Berlin Just Film Idea

BERLIN (AP) — A scare that the Communists were pushing into West Berlin from the East today turned out to be only a Hollywood maneuver.

Mayor Willy Kressman of the Kreuzberg borough got an alarming telephone call that signs had been erected several hundred yards inside the West Berlin border reading:

The mayor, known among his American friends as "Texas Willy," called the police to get ready for action. They calmed him down by explaining an American film unit had permission to put up simulated Communist border signs in shooting the spy thriller "The Man on a String," starring Ernest Borgnine.

Queens Man Killed

NEW YORK (AP)—Donald Hayden, 22, of Rego Park, Queens, was killed early today when a car in which he was riding went out of control and smashed into a pillar supporting an overpass.

Spring Cleanup Is Slated Monday in Woodstock Village

Monday will be spring cleanup night in the village of Woodstock, it was announced today by the president of the Woodstock Republican Club, James E. Hamlin.

He said a committee of more than 25 volunteers will be out with brooms and shovels under direction of Telford Graham, chairman of the group. Starting time is 5 p. m.

A large mechanical sweeper has been obtained by Supervisor Joseph Fitzsimmons on a voluntary basis. William West, a contractor, is donating trucks for pick-ups, Hamlin said.

The mechanical sweeper will go over Route 212 from Woodstock Library to Grand Union store, Supervisor Fitzsimmons said, covering the usual cleanup area.

Property owners are requested to sweep their sidewalks, and put out any spring cleaning rubbish for the trucks to pick up. Containers are desirable for the waste, but it will be picked up whether they are used or not.

Blaze at Breslaw Building May Be Work of Children

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Detectives were checking reports today that children may have started a huge, furniture warehouse fire in which one firefighter was presumed killed Friday.

The blaze destroyed two buildings at 75 Broadway on the river front in the city's industrial section. They were occupied by Breslaw Stores Inc.

One firefighter, Joseph Kirker, 38, was reported to have been trapped on the fourth floor of the warehouse. Other firemen said they heard him calling for help but were unable to reach him because of the intense heat.

Kirker was thought to have been spreading tarpaulins over furniture stored in the building. He was employed by Albany Fire Protectives, an organization financed by insurance companies.

Started in Garage

The fire started in a one-story garage and spread to the adjoining brick warehouse of four-and five-story sections, firemen said.

It was first reported shortly after 6 p. m. when a neighbor called Mrs. Martin Breslaw, wife of a vice president of the firm. The neighbor reported seeing a group of children burning material at the southeast end of the building.

All off-duty firemen were summoned. Two firemen were burned but remained at the scene after emergency treatment.

The fire was brought under control in about three and a half hours.

Two walls of the warehouse collapsed and dense, black smoke, frequently glowing in the flames, could be seen for miles long after sunset.

No estimate of damage was immediately available.

In more than 2,500 hotels and restaurants across the country, holders of Rozee bonus cards can get a 10 per cent discount if they pay the tab in cash. . . . President Keith Funston of the New York Stock Exchange told Denver businessmen that playing the stock market is poor business "for the casual, the get-rich-quick devotees, or people who can't afford the risks." But, he said, "today's market is not a flimsy house of cards. It's a carefully constructed dwelling that reflects the prosperity and well being of its owners — the American people."

Weapon Planned By Air Force to ShootDownMoons

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force is working on a weapon system to shoot down satellites, a top military space expert says.

But, said Maj. Gen. B. A. Schriever Friday, other weapon developments such as advanced strategic missile systems and a manned strategic space system have priority and must come first. The new system is in the planning and study stage.

Schriever, Air Force missile and research expert, wound up two days of testimony before the Senate Space subcommittee. He said the anti-satellite system probably will follow a system that can find and destroy enemy missiles.

Denies Charge

Schriever denied protests by Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, commander of the Army's Ballistic Missile Agency at Huntsville, Ala. that there was a lack of cooperation between the Air Force and Army on missile problems.

He turned over to the senators a memo he had written to the secretary of the Air Force, James H. Douglas, in which he said Medaris' statements "both disturb and concern me."

Between 1954 and 1959, Schriever said, the Air Force has given the Army nearly 4,500 documents on space and missile problems, but withheld 28.

These 28, he added, involved "contractors' proprietary information, preliminary studies, inconclusive findings, internal Air Force administrative affairs, or could not be released in accordance with security regulations."

When Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) asked why security rules should prevent one military service from giving information to another, Schriever replied that certain "very sensitive intelligence" often cannot even be distributed throughout a single service.

Schriever also said "Eventually the missile will take over as the predominant weapon with manned bombers as the complement." But for some time to come, he said, the country will have to continue its multibillion dollar spending on aircraft as well as the newer missile programs.

Communist Move Into West Berlin Just Film Idea

BERLIN (AP) — A scare that the Communists were pushing into West Berlin from the East today turned out to be only a Hollywood maneuver.

Mayor Willy Kressman of the Kreuzberg borough got an alarming telephone call that signs had been erected several hundred yards inside the West Berlin border reading:

"You are now entering the democratic sector" — Communist lingo for East Berlin.

The mayor, known among his American friends as "Texas Willy," called the police to get ready for action. They calmed him down by explaining an American film unit had permission to put up simulated Communist border signs in shooting the spy thriller "The Man on a String," starring Ernest Borgnine.

Queens Man Killed

NEW YORK (AP)—Donald Hayden, 22, of Rego Park, Queens, was killed early today when a car in which he was riding went out of control and smashed into a pillar supporting an overpass.

SMOKE?

It's a bad time of year for fire. Not only do cold nights and hot furnaces increase your hazards, but it will cost more to repair or replace a home in 1959 than ever before.

But it's a good time of year to check your insurance to see that you carry enough. A call will bring you the latest figures without the slightest obligation. Do it today!
